GUARDS SHOOT TWO CONVICTS IN OHIO CLASH

800 Soldiers in Control After Bullets Halt Liberty Dash.

FIRST VOLLEY FAILS TO STOP MUTINEERS

PRIEST SAYS DYING PRISONER INNOCENT

State Report Holds Blaze Claiming 320 Lives Was of Incendiary Origin.

Columbus, Ohio, April 29 (A.P.).—Blood was spilled today in Ohio Penitentiary, scene of disorders since Easter Monday night when a tragic fire took the lives of 320 convicts, as revolting prisoners made a mass attack on the barred doors leading from the White City idle house. Guns in the hands of prison guards sent bullets into the ranks of the mutineers, wounding two convicts, one seriously.

Approximately 800 National Guardsmen were on duty at the prison tonight, the 350 stationed outside the walls since the fire having been augmented by five additional companies from nearby towns.

When the militiamen entered the prison, the regular staff of guards were withdrawn until tonight, leaving the soldiers in complete control. The guards were instructed to return to their posts after dark to aid the troops in feeding the prisoners and protecting them.

Says Convict Fired First.

A statement that a prisoner fired the first shot in today's disorder was made tonight by Warden Thomas. The warden said his information came from one of the guards who fired into the ranks of the mutineers during the morning. The guard's name was withheld.

Thomas quoted the guard as saying he saw one of the convicts point a revolver toward the guards and heard the crack of the discharge. Thomas said the guard returned the fire, but that he did not know whether he wounded the prisoner, who was not identified.

Emboldened by the fact that they had disregarded all prison rules and orders for a week, the "passive resistance" convicts today decided suddenly to mutiny. Their decision came just as Gov. Myers Y. Cooper had ordered that the revolt be suppressed at once, and prison officials and Ohio National Guardsmen were planning to enter the cell block and force the convicts into submission.

Defy First Volley.

The quiet of the penitentiary was broken when scores of the revolt leaders massed on the ground floor range, made a concerted rush for the guardroom door, through which they would have to pass to gain the outside. They threw clubs and other missles, breaking the guardroom windows. Warned to get back, the infuriated convicts refused. Instantly automatic rifles and shotguns sent a rain of bullets down the cell block runway.

The mutineers dropped to the floor until the firing ceased. Then they resumed their assault on the barred door. Again the guns spoke, and the convicts retreated into the refuge of cells. As quickly as it started the fight ended. The wounded were rushed to the hospital, one having been shot through the lungs. Two guards who had been held prisoners by the convicts were quickly released.

Col. R. S. Haubrich, Ohio National Guard, was placed in charge of the situation within the prison shortly after the shooting terminated. He mounted machine guns in the yard and then marched the revolters to the dining halls for their noon meal. They had had no breakfast. When they returned to their cells they were quiet and orderly.

Doomed Men Recaptured.

Within the prison yard guardsmen tonight were erecting a barbed wire stockade with a steel building in the center. Eighteen-foot telephone poles were being sunk into the ground. Upon these will be strung the barbed wire and tomorrow morning the revolters are to be placed within this inclosure as guardsmen with machine guns guard the four sides. The convicts will be kept in the stockade until the idle house cell locks, all broken by the prisoners, are repaired. Then they will be marched back into the block there to be locked in and disciplined.

No further rioting in the White City was anticipated, as Columbus city firemen had cut holes in the roof and soldiers were prepared to drop tear gas bombs into the place at the first sign of trouble.

Among those who ran wild in the White City today were seven men con-

TRAFFIC HEAD

WILLIAM H. HARLAND.

CONTROL OF TRAFFIC USURPED, IS CHARGE

City Heads, Utilities Board Take Director's Powers, U. S. Bureau Finds.

CAB STANDS' FIXING HIT

Both the District Commissioners and the Public Utilities Commission are usurping the powers of the director of traffic and under such divided control intelligent study and solution of traffic problems is not possible, the United States Bureau of Efficiency said in a report yesterday to the District Commissioners.

The report takes the Utilities Commission to task for its determination to regulate the routes, stopping places and other matters of intracity and intercity motor buses, taxi cabs and public vehicles and sight-seeing buses. The specific complaint against the District Commissioners is that the board usurped the traffic director's powers when they fixed taxi cab stands several months ago.

"Manifestly," the report said, after citing various examples and quoting from the various pertinent laws, "Congress intended to put all matter specifically mentioned, and all matters generally relating to the control of traffic under the authority of one individual, who should be responsible for traffic conditions in the District.

"This would insure undivided responsibility and intelligent study of the problems constantly arising. The lack of this is illustrated by the establishment of a taxi stand, No. 55, on the east side of Eighteenth street northwest, immediately south of the south building line of Pennsylvania avenue.

"By order of the director of traffic no parking is allowed on the east side of Eighteenth street between the hours of 4 p. m. to 6 p. m. This for the purpose of expediting northbound traffic during the afternoon rush hour. The benefit of the order of the traffic director is almost entirely destroyed on that section of Eighteenth street south of Pennsylvania avenue.

"Such inconsistency in the regulation of traffic is directly caused by divided control and clearly shows that an intelligent plan can not be mapped out as long as the District Commissioners attempt independently to regulate one phase and the director of traffic another phase of traffic control."

The bureau report, signed by J. A. Jordan and approved by D. P. Evans, recommended that "the director of traffic be recognized as the proper official to initiate regulations establishing hack stands as well as all other matters directly relating to control of traffic in the District of Columbia subject only to the approval of the District Commissioners."

The report proposed amendments of the law so as to require applications for bus routings and stops to be submitted to the traffic director, with the utilities commission relegated to the role of making recommendations to him with the right to appeal from his decisions to the District Commissioners.

FEDERAL DRIVE AGAINST CRIME IS UNDERTAKEN

Justice Department Is to Cooperate Closely With Police.

WAR IS DECLARED ON LAWLESS RINGS

Appeal to Congress by Hoover for Action Gets Response.

SENATE AND HOUSE WILL SPEED BILLS

Three Former Army Camps to Be Utilized to Hold Prison Overflow.

(Associated Press.)

Means to expedite action on law enforcement proposals were considered by House and Senate Republican leaders yesterday in response to President Hoover's appeal to Congress for legislation that would reduce the Nation's crime tolls.

Although both branches are confronted by tariff and other important legislation that probably will keep them busy for weeks, Senate leaders hope for early action on pending prohibition enforcement transfer and prison bills already passed by the House. House leaders expect to give the Chief Executive cooperation in his efforts to relieve court congestion. Bills are being considered to provide additional Federal judges.

While plans were being discussed on Capitol Hill to speed up action on the law enforcement program as urged by the President in his message to Congress Monday, it became known that the Justice Department, with the approval of the administration had adopted a policy of cooperation with local authorities in stamping out lawless rings.

Drive on Crime Rings Planned.

An intensive drive on rings of lawbreakers is planned by the Justice Department which expects to obtain the maximum of assistance from State and municipal authorities under the new policy.

With development of the system of coordinating activities of Federal and State authorities, the administration expects the Justice Department to carry on a vigorous campaign against prohibition law violators, particularly gangsters in the larger cities.

While awaiting action by the Senate on bills to authorize a $7,000,000 Federal prison program, the Justice Department has decided to utilize three former Army camps in which to place the growing prison population that already has overcrowded existing institutions.

Juryless Trial Plan Doomed.

Confronted by serious opposition from many quarters, the law enforcement commission's proposals before the House judiciary committee to legalize juryless trials of minor dry law violators apparently have died in committee.

That group is to meet today however, to determine how many additional judges are to be needed to relieve congestion in Federal courts. Seventeen bills are to be considered, and it is probable each will be approved.

Progress has been made by the House interstate commerce committee on a bill to create a unified military border patrol under the Coast Guard. Representative Hoch (Republican), Kansas, chairman of the subcommittee in charge of the legislation, considers that action on it may be taken this session.

The Williamson bill to transfer prohibition enforcement from the Treas-

BUSINESS MEN PRAISE HOOVER CRISIS ACTION

5 Speakers Laud Quick Steps Taken in Slump of Last Fall.

FLOW OF STATISTICS HELD WORLD'S BEST

Lamont, Barnes 2 Who Talk at Meeting of U. S. Chamber.

SIX ROUND-TABLE CONFERENCES FORM

Pole Suggests Law Reshapingg as Result of Number of Bank Mergers.

(Associated Press.)

Praise of President Hoover for speedy action toward stemming the downward sway of business following the depression of six months ago formed the keynote last night of five speakers before the Chamber of Commerce of the United States.

Headed by Secretary Lamont and Julius H. Barnes, chairman of the national business leaders, the second general session of the eighth annual meeting of the chamber centered around a discussion of "business stabilization."

The Commerce Secretary said the Chief Executive's quick call to business to confer with the Government last fall had definitely lessened "the depth of the depression and thus reduced it earlier than its duration."

Statistics' Aid Pointed Out.

Business and Government activity since 1921, Secretary Lamont said, has "developed a flow of statistical information which has no parallel in any other part of the world." He added that these statistical indicators "have played an important part in promoting such prosperity as this country has witnessed during recent years."

"The time is now at hand," he went on, "when business men should get behind a policy for the further development of statistics on production, stocks, employment, the construction industry and many other activities which would make it possible to keep business informed currently as to the basic facts upon which policies must be predicated."

Mr. Barnes compared actions taken following the depressions of 1921 and 1929 as an example of the experience gained in applying remedies to dips in the economic cycle. He estimated the depth of the latter defiation as a shrinkage in value of listed stock of $20,000,000,000 within 60 days.

Difference in New Point Told.

"In 1921 business men came to Washington to find out largely what the government was going to do; in 1929 they came to pledge what they themselves were going to do," he said.

"We have every right to believe that a great experiment in voluntary stabilization can be made progressively effective.

"Business leadership is attempting the resumption of stability by a new philosophy, probably possible in no other country nor in any other era. The underlying philosophy is that America has reached such a stage in its development that recovery of stabilization could be attained by individual action guided by mutual counsel. In such a theory accurate information must be made the common possession and translated into action through applied individual judgment."

Frederick S. Snyder, of Boston, board of chairman of the institute of American meat packers, likewise praised President Hoover for his swift activity following the stock market crash last fall.

Exaggeration Curb Seen.

Praising the impetus given factfinding by the Chief Executive, Alfred Reeves, general manager of the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce, said:

"We overestimate good conditions in good times and we similarly overestimate the declines when busines is slowing down. Facts serve to put the brakes on these excesisve swings."

Fenton B. Turck, jr., chairman of the National Building Survey Conference, announced to the chamber the formulation of a new plan for facilitating the financing of building repairs, remodeling and modernization, as a means of creating employment and speeding industries in flat periods. He said the organization to carry out the plan would be caleld the "Home Improvement Finance Corporation," and would be a national, cooperative and largely noncompetitive organization.

"In ordinary building operations," he said "the seasonal peaks are so high in spring and fal lit is reported labor's tota lemployment amounts only to 150 days in a year. By bringing modernization abreast of the times, work will be provided for the seasonal dull periods where the build-

FESS CHARGES OPPOSITION TO PARKER IS SOCIALISTIC ATTACK ON SUPREME COURT

Ratification Prospects Bright, Naval Envoys Learn on Return

Administration Forces Rush to Defense of Hoover Choice.

JUDGE IS VIEWED ONLY AS INCIDENT

Ashurst Says Nominee Has Neither Great Character Nor Courage.

BATTLE IS RESUMED BY SENATOR BORAH

History Is Cited to Support Contentions by Both Sides in Debate.

By CARLISLE BARGERON.

The charge that the opposition to Judge John J. Parker is a socialistic attack upon the Supreme Court was made by Senator Fess, of Ohio, yesterday, as the administration forces marched boldly to the fight.

It became quite evident that it is to be such a clashing of the powers as Washington only infrequently sees, with the administration showing more determination than it has shown since it came in.

Asserting that the same forces are arrayed against Judge Parker that were against Chief Justice Hughes, Senator Fess charged that it is a manufactured clamor that is waging against Judge Parker. Judge Parker, he declared, is an incident. The Supreme Court, he said, is the issue.

Exception Is Taken.

A prominent labor leader, a friend of his, had told him of how he had been importuned to join in the fight, the Ohio senator declared. Senators Black, of Alabama, and Ashurst, of Arizona, immediately took exception, wanting to know who was doing the importuning.

Pressed by Senator Black the senator said he did not mean that senators were manufacturing the clamor. Senator Ashurst read a long list of nominees for whom he voted, including Chief Justice Hughes, and insisted that he should not be criticized now because he refused to accept a "weakling."

Arousing in his full indignation and profusely paying his respects to the Ohio senator as is his way, Senator Ashurst said he nevertheless was getting "too blasting." He had voted to confirm the long list of judges whom he named because of his confidence in their ability.

Borah Joins Debate.

"This man," he said, "has neither great character, great courage nor great learning."

Senator Fess insisted that he had been assured by unquestionable sources that Judge Parker has all of these attributes.

Senator Borah did not say anything at the time but subsequently took up Senator Fess' reference to the opposition by Webster, Calhoun and Clay to Andrew Jackson's appointment of Taney.

"Does the senator think they were assaulting the Supreme Court?" he asked.

Senator Fess replied that he thought they were animated by hatred for Jackson. Senator Borah insisted that the trio were against Taney because they sincerely disagreed with him, because they sincerely thought that for one of his views to go on the court would be injurious to the republic.

Debate Is Intellectual.

If they were motivated by hatred, he insisted, they kept it well disguised in their debate. Senator Fess insisted that they were and cited a historic colloquy to prove it, which brought the observation from Senator Borah that he had read of the colloquy and that it was the only instance in history for which he had been unable to find the proof, the debate was that intellectual.

The Ohio senator spoke for more than two hours with no notes and with

BUY IN WASHINGTON COUNCIL ORGANIZED

OFFICERS ARE SELECTED

With the enthusiastic support of sixteen business, professional and trades organizations, the "Buy in Washington" council was organized last night following a dinner at the Mayflower Hotel for the purpose of uniting in a cooperative program to educate the National Capital in doing business exclusively with local concerns.

E. J. Murphy, past president of the Board of Trade, was named temporary chairman of the council, while Thomas Grant, secretary of the Employers Association, agreed to act as secretary, both without pay. Steps will be taken immediately to complete the organization, draw up a constitution and by-laws and incorporate.

Several million dollars is going out of Washington every month in the form of construction contracts, out-of-town building materials, merchandise, and the like, it was pointed out, and it is this leak the organization hopes to stop.

The council will function for six months without cost, as all officers will donate their services. Afterward it will probably be established on a more permanent basis with a full-time paid secretary. Working with the chairman and secretary in the completion of its organization will be an executive committee composed of John P. Colpoys, editor of the Trade Unionist; H. W. Heine, president of the Hudson Supply Co., representing the building material concerns; E. H. Rosengarten, president of the Building Trades Council; Horace W. Peaslee, past president of the Washington Architects Association; Charles H. Tompkins, of the Master Builders Association, and Louis Rothschild, of the Better Business Bureau.

Volunteer groups have been at work for several weeks paving the way for the organization meeting which was held last night. Already these men have been able to keep building contracts amounting to ap approximately $1,500,000 in Washington when there was danger of their being awarded to out-of-town companies.

Delegates of every organization represented at the dinner expressed hearty approval of the movement to keep Washington's business in Washington for Washingtonians.

The keynote of almost every talk was that the losses resulting from local business houses and individuals doing business with concerns outside the Capital affects every man whose livelihood is earned in this city. As it was pointed out, if a building contract goes to a foreign company, the labor and materials will both be imported and thus Washington's tradesmen and supply houses suffer.

But these are not the only ones who feel the loss, it was declared.

U. S. Delegation Hears That Senate May Pass Treaty.

Experts are Divided on 6-Inch Gun Cruiser Problem.

By ALBERT W. FOX.

Secretary Stimson and members of the American delegation to the London Naval Conference returned to Washington yesterday to receive President Hoover's commendation for their efforts and to learn that prospects are bright for ratification of the treaty by the Senate. President Hoover will send the treaty text to the Senate immediately.

During the past week there has been a perceptible lessening of skepticism in senatorial circles respecting the pact and it now looks as if less opposition than anticipated might be encountered. This is chiefly due to the fact that naval opinion is inclined to regard the treaty favorably, though there is a sharp divergence of viewpoint respecting certain features.

If it develops at the hearings that substantial support from American naval authorities can be mustered for the cruiser program, the Senate's approval may be obtained without a prolonged or spectacular battle over ratification.

Naval experts are divided on the question of whether the London program for 6-inch gun cruisers can safely be adopted in place of the 8-inch, 10,000-ton cruisers which America fought for at the Geneva conference of 1927. The treaty gives America 15 of the big 10,000-ton cruisers in any event but the three remaining ships of this type to make up America's allotment of 18 can not be completed before 1936. America may, however, build the stipulated equi-

WARRANT REFUSED BAKER INQUIRERS

New Efforts Are Due Today for Return of Man Who Found Clothes.

THEFT CHARGE PLANNED

Efforts will be renewed today by authorities to obtain a fugitive warrant to return to this jurisdiction George Kelly, one of the finders of the murdered Mary Baker's clothing, who is wanted for questioning regarding the disappearance of jewelry and clothing from a local rooming house.

On the heels of a refusal yesterday by the district attorney's office to issue the warrant for Kelly came the decision last night to seek another warrant charging either grand larceny or housebreaking.

Insufficient evidence was given as the cause of yesterday's refusal. Petty larceny was alleged in the earlier warrant application. This offense is a misdemeanor and is not extraditable.

While the police do not think that Kelly can throw any light on the actual slaying they are hopeful that he may clear up the mystifying presence of stolen articles found with the slain girl's clothing.

Detectives announced last night that Kelly is in New York City. His location is believed to be known to the police, who have communicated with his friends. Investigators have been sent to New York City to question him and if possible to return him here.

Kelly is one of three men who found the girl's wearing apparel, together with a stolen novel and trinkets, in

Carol's Desire to Return To Princess Is Confirmed

Heir to Roumanian Throne Who Preferred Delights of Paris Writes Former Wife in Endeavor to Bring About Reconciliation.

Bucharest, Roumania, April 29 (A.P.).—The newspaper Cuventul published a story today confirming rumors that former Prince Carol, who sacrificed the throne of Roumania for a love affair, had broken off with Mme. Lupescu and is endeavoring to effect a reconciliation with Princess Helen, his former wife.

The newspaper says that Carol wrote a letter conveying this idea to the princess at Easter. Prof. Jorga, his former tutor, also visited the princess to plead his cause.

The professor, who is leaving for London shortly, will, it is believed, carry the answer of the princess to her exiled former husband. The answer, and the attitude of the royal family, remained unknown. The question of reconciliation is still being discussed.

Rumors of Prince Carol's impending return to Roumania and reconciliation with Princess Helen have been frequent of late. On March 17 friends of the prince said that he was homesick and had questioned his former wife as to her attitude in case he should decide to return. He was described as being weary of Paris and of the pleasures of western Europe.

Roumanian advices early in March reported he had definitely broken with Mme. Lupescu. Last December he applied for permission for a brief visit to his native land, but his application was rejected by the government.

Furrier, Testifying in Suit By Actress, Dies on Stand

Topples to Floor, Dead, After Answering Attorney for Woman Who Asked $50,000 Damages After Alleged False Arrest.

New York, April 29 (N.Y.W.N.S.).—Harry Garfunkel, furrier and defendant in a $50,000 suit for false arrest and malicious prosecution, sat unhappily in the witness chair this afternoon before Superior Court Justice Ingraham and a jury, undergoing cross-examination.

"Did you have any knowledge of the arrest at the time it was made?" demanded Arnold I. Broch, attorney for Mrs Mabel Taormina, who had brought the suit.

"Not until the next day," replied Garfunkel. The 50-year-old furrier flushed deeply and a moment later slumped back in his chair. Then he dropped forward and fell to the floor, dead.

Immediately the courtroom was in an uproar. Mrs. Anna Garfunkel, wife of the witness, began shrieking and shouting at Mrs. Taormina, "It's all your fault! It's all your fault. My God, it's your fault!" until she collapsed. Mrs. Taormina quietly fainted.

Repairs made by the firm of Garfunkel & Gerth, furriers, to a mink coat owned by Mrs. Taormina were the cause of all the trouble. Wearing the coat in court, Mrs. Taormina testified that the coat was too long, and she told the fur shop to take off the extra skins and make a shawl collar. On December 9, 1926, she continued, the coat was delivered minus either skins or collar. She "took it gently" from two delivery boys for the furriers, but refused to pay a $350 bill for alterations, she said, paying only $200 and the Nation's history at his finger tips. He related instance after instance, beginning with the birth of the republic, of clamor against the Supreme Court, particularly the surging tides that beat against it in the years leading to the Civil War, and of how it had withstood these clamors.

NEWS of SUBURBAN Washington and the Surrounding States

Appears on Pages 2 and 22 Today.

Ruled Against State.

His concern now, he said, is that it always withstands them. His measure of Judge Parker is not on some particular ruling he has made, not whether he agrees with him, but simply whether he is competent and fit, in the interpretation of the law. And as if to show that he practiced what he preached he related that Judge Parker, as the presiding judge of the Court of Appeals of the Fourth Circuit had ruled against his State in the hotly controverted Lake Cargo case.

Against this menace of the clamor, the effort to "intimidate" the court, Senator Borah in concluding his speech begun Monday, pictured the menace of senators shirking their obligation, of not taking a firmer and more courageous grasp of the functions of this Government. One hears, he declared, of serious questioning of whether our institutions have not failed, of whether there should not be a change.

The fault is not with the institutions, he declared, but with the failure of public men to shoulder more responsibility under them.

Labor Drawn Into Fight.

Concerning Fess' charge that the yellow dog contract decision of Judge Parker's was simply hand-picked in order to carry on the fight against the Supreme Court, it is a fact that organized labor was most reluctantly drawn into this fight, he said.

That Judge Parker had rendered the yellow dog decision several years back was first tipped off to Labor, the publication here of the railroad brotherhoods. It dug up a copy of the decision and carried a story on it. Then inquiries were made of William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, by newspapermen and others as to what he intended to do about it.

Mr. Green plainly showed his reluctance to do anything. He finally decided to look into the matter and then when he decided to oppose Judge Parker, it is an open secret that it was with considerable difficulty that John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, was drawn into the fight. In fact, he would not say anything until after the journal of the Illinois Mine Workers, the insurgent faction, had carried a story of his apparent timidity. Mr. Lewis is frequently mentioned as a possible Secretary of Labor. One significant thing is that Matthew Woll, one of the federation vice presidents, and usually most active in tariff fights and other political-economic matters, and in the recent fight on the side of the administration, has not been heard from at all.

Labor Leaders Conservative.

This probably means nothing more, of course, than that the labor leaders are what some of the followers call ultraconservative.

Senator Fess' long narrative was climaxed with Senator Ashurst's observation that he had enjoyed his recitation most thoroughly; that it had been most informative, but that the Ohio senator's "thesaurus" was pointed the wrong way. Senator Ashurst would say that.

He agreed with everything Senator Fess had said. Senator Ashurst explained; that is, that the Supreme Court members had always been men of high caliber, immured from the clamor, but that was because the Presidents had been most painstaking in their selection of Supreme Court members.

"It is doubtful whether that is true in the present instance," he said very gravely. The Arizona senator is the funniest man.

Study of Decisions.

Senator Fess said he had been informed that Mr. Hoover had the Attorney General study more than 100 of Judge Parker's decisions before he was appointed.

Senator Gillette, of Massachusetts, leading off for the administration, save for Senator Allen's ill-timed start Monday, went into the question of whether Judge Parker's yellow dog implied a lack of sympathy for labor. The Tri City case, which Senator Borah had cited Monday as the one Judge Parker should have followed rather than the Hitchman case, did not apply at all, Senator Gillette contended. In this case, Senator Gillette said, the Supreme Court ruled that an injunction should not issue against the union that was trying to persuade men from going to work. In the yellow dog, the question on which the injunction issued, and which Judge Parker upheld, was the right of the union to persuade miners to break their contract, Senator Gillette contended.

Reads Brandeis Opinion.

And he read Justice Brandeis' dissenting opinion to show that although the Supreme Court divided in its opinion in the Hitchman case it was unanimous in the statement that the contract by which the miners agreed not to join the union, or discuss with each other ways and means of bettering themselves, was valid notwithstanding how abhorrent it might be.

Senator Borah promptly challenged him though, and said the question of the union persuading the men to break their contract was not the issue before Judge Parker. The union sought to have the men quit and then join the union, he said, while the contract only called for their refraining from union membership so long as they were employed.

Senator Borah had previously made his position very plain, though, and that was that regardless of the ifs and ands of this particular case he would not vote to confirm a man for the Supreme Court who was committed to the principle of that contract.

"If this Senate decides that Mr Parker should be confirmed," he declared, "then it is undeniably in favor of the Yellow Dog contract."

Question Held Legislative.

Senator Fess contended that the question of whether the Yellow Dog contract was against public policy was a legislative matter.

These emotional terms of "human rights" and "property rights" are indefinite, incapable of exact definition, he argued.

"But we have tried to legislate on the matter," insisted Senator Borah, "and the Supreme Court has voided our efforts."

"Then amend the Constitution," exclaimed Senator Fess.

"I think that perhaps there is a better way," replied Senator Borah.

Senator Fess said that what he wanted was to hold the courts to the letter of the law.

The point was made against him and Senator Gillette by Senators Walsh, of Montana, and Bratton, of New Mexico, that Judge Parker in upholding the Yellow Dog injunction was not acting in a matter of law but in equity.

Differ in Views.

The question, said Senator Walsh, was whether he should lend the arm of the law to the protection of this contract. Courts in equity frequently refuse to lend their protection to contracts because of their offensiveness, notwithstanding that they may be legal, Senator Walsh contended.

Senator Gillette said that he could not oppose Judge Parker because of his difference in views on the Negro's participation in politics.

"We are in decided disagreement on that," he said, but he appreciated that Judge Parker's views are those of other Southerners and certainly that section is entitled to representation on the bench, he declared. He was convinced, he said, that Judge Parker entertained no bias against the Negro.

A letter was introduced from Judge Parker, branding as "absolutely and unqualifiedly false" the charge that in prosecuting the war fraud cases as special Assistant Attorney General, he continued to prosecute a man when he had evidence of the man's innocence in his pocket. A letter from Federal Judge Groner, who had to do with the cases, was also read and it branded the charge as untrue. Senators opposed to confirmation say, however, that the judge's charge to the jury, if correctly reported in the newspapers, is true, there is a conflict between it and the letter. They are seeking to get the transcript of the charge.

DEMOCRAT WOMEN HEAR SUE S. WHITE

Aid to Former Gov. Ross Urges Montgomery Group Members to Vote.

RAPS TARIFF HANDLING

The Jeffersonian principles of democracy were lauded yesterday in an address by Miss Sue S. White, secretary to former Gov. Nellie Tayloe Ross of Wyoming, before the Women's Democratic Clubs of Montgomery County in the clubhouse at Rockville. Miss White, who is a member of the Democratic national committee, urged the women to put forth their best efforts in the coming elections.

Women should take an active part in politics and should make an intensive study of this subject because through their handiwork politics can be cleaned up and government made clean, Miss White said. She declared the Republican party has handled the tariff question in an atrocious manner, but in accord with its usual policy of catering to "big business."

Mrs. C. E. Roach, president of the county organization, presided and introduced the speaker.

Announcement was made that the State organization convention will be held May 8 at Charlestown Courthouse, beginning at 11 a. m. The afternoon will be devoted to speeches by prominent Democrats, among them Gov. Albert C. Ritchie.

Mrs. Charles Whalland, of the Democratic State central committee, will act as hostess at the convention. Members of the clubs were urged to attend the State meeting.

The Montgomery County commissioners will be in session in their offices at Rockville, May 6, and May 13 to receive bills other than road and bridge accounts which should be included in the next annual levy. The office of the county commissioners is now engaged in preparation for the compilation of the annual levy and the fixing of the tax rate.

The commissioners announced that they had completed an agreement with the Automatic Signal Corporation and the Potomac Electric Power Co. for the installation of traffic signals at Silver Spring and Bethesda.

Kirby Heads Harvey College.

Huntington, W. Va., April 29 (Special).—Prof. David Kirby, head of the department of education in Morris Harvey College, has been elected president of the institution by the board of trustees to succeed Dr George West Diehl, resigned. The board has also created the office of vice president and appointed the Rev. Leonard Riggleman to the position. For several years he has been an instructor in rural sociology in the college.

Policeman F.L. Ach Weds Capital Girl

Marriage Surprises Friends of City Patrolman Who Figured in Shooting.

Policeman Frank L. Ach, of the Thirteenth Precinct, who was seriously wounded in the pistol battle which resulted in the death of Policeman Leo W. K. Busch and the electrocution of three gangsters, married Miss Loretta Brady, of Washington, Monday at Rockville, Md., it became known yesterday.

The couple was married by the Rev Bertram Osgood, pastor of the Rockville Baptist Church, in the parsonage. They were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. John W. Urban, who acted as bridesmaid and best man. The marriage was a complete surprise to the policeman's friends in the Thirteenth Precinct and to his comrades of the Tenth Precinct, where he was stationed at the time of the shooting affray, September 26, 1926.

Mr. Ach saw service with the U. S. Marine Corps and now holds the rank of captain in the U. S. Marine Corps Reserve. He is on leave from the precinct.

Moffett Death in Crash Is Probed by Montgomery County Officials.

NO INQUEST TO BE HELD

No inquest will be held in the death of Ralph Raymond Moffett, 23, of 936 Ninth street northeast, who was killed about 1 o'clock yesterday morning when a Baltimore & Ohio Railroad train struck his automobile at the Rockville grade crossing. The death was declared accidental by Montgomery County officials.

The body was brought to Washington yesterday to the Deal funeral home, 816 H street northeast, where it will remain until funeral arrangements are completed.

Mr. Moffett had been visiting in Rockville and had just left Miss Bertha Watkins at the country home of the Christ Child Society near Rockville. The crossing is unprotected at that hour in the morning. The train was in charge of Conductor E. B. Hoffman, of Baltimore; Engineer G. W. Howser, of Brunswick, Md., and Fireman J. G. Myers, of Cumberland.

The Rockville crossing is one of those scheduled for early removal by the State Roads Commission because of its dangerous nature. Approach by trains is hidden by a lumber yard.

The accident was investigated by Officer J. Lloyd Whipp, of the Rockville substation.

Bethesda District To Get Call Boxes

Added Police Protection Is to Be Afforded by New System.

In order that more efficient police protection can be given the Bethesda suburban district of Montgomery County, a police call box system is being installed in this section, it was announced yesterday.

County policemen will be more easily reached while on patrol with inauguration of the new system. Signal bells and flashing lights surmount the boxes in order that the policeman's attention can be attracted in cases of emergency. The telephone in each box will connect with the substation in the county building at Bethesda.

Five stations are being installed at present: Chevy Chase circle, Chevy Chase Lake, Connecticut avenue and Bradley lane, Wisconsin avenue and the District Line and Bradley lane and Wisconsin avenue.

Chaplain Will Take Annapolis Position

Lieut. Hangen Will Assume Duties Today on Staff at Academy.

Special to The Washington Post.

Annapolis, Md., April 29.—Lieut. E. Hangen, of the Navy Chaplain Corps, reported today at the Naval Academy, and tomorrow will assume the duties of assistant to Commander Frank H. Lash, chaplain of the academy, succeeding Lieut. Comdr. B. F. Huske. The latter has resigned the service and will leave here tomorrow to accept the post of rector of the Episcopal Church at Kinston, N. C.

Lieut. Hangen is from Philadelphia. He is a graduate of Albright College and Princeton Theological Seminary. He comes to Annapolis from Quantico, Va., where for several months he has been chaplain of the Marine barracks.

Appointed to the Navy in 1925, other tours of duty included the Naval Training Station at Newport, Mare Island, Calif., and aboard the U. S. S. Black Hawk and the destroyer division of the Asiatic fleet. In the latter post he served under Commander Lash, who was fleet chaplain.

STIMSON PACT WORK LAUDED BY MORROW

Envoy Says Arms Made at London Justifies Calling of Conference.

NAVY RACE DANGER TOLD

Englewood, N. J., April 29 (A.P.)—In a radio address from his home today, Ambassador Dwight W. Morrow declared that whatever success was attained at the naval disarmament conference in London "is due in a great measure to the integrity, the courage, the industry and the constant patience of Secretary Stimson, the head of the delegation."

He pointed out that a limitation of armaments in all classes of naval vessels among the three great naval powers of the world was obtained and also some reduction effected.

"Not as much as we desired," he said, "but more than there could have been if there had been no naval conference. We carried on the work that was begun in Washington eight years ago. We have now made a substantial beginning in the substitution of open prescribed limitation for competition in naval armament.

"I am not sure," he continued, "that the people of the United States appreciate how much danger to international peace lurks in naval competition. It is not too much to say that all nations upon this earth look upon their armament as defensive. All armament is defensive from the point of view of the nation behind the armament. But all armament is also potentially offensive to those nations on the other side of the armament. This means that competition is inevitably a breeder of mistrust and fear.

"Armaments feed on armaments. In the vicious circle international trouble almost inevitably comes. In my opinion nothing had more to do with the last great war than the intense competition in armament which preceded it. It is, therefore, well worth while to spend some time avoiding naval competition. The essence of agreements for limitation of armament is that competition is to be avoided."

Actress Reported On Recovery Road

Lady De Frece, Stage Star, Soon Will Return to English Home.

Cannes, France, April 29 (A.P.)—Sir Walter de Frece has informed the Associated Press correspondent here that Lady de Frece, internationally known on the stage as Vesta Tilley, is convalescent and that he hopes she will be able to return to England within a fortnight.

On March 20 the Associated Press carried a dispatch concerning the removal of Lady de Frece from a nursing home where she had been several weeks under treatment for temporary derangement due to a nervous breakdown.

This dispatch, obtained from what was believed to be a reliable source, erroneously said the transfer was to a hospital for the insane. This correction is gladly made together with the further report from Sir Walter that his wife is on the road to recovery. She is now at her home in Monaco.

ShinnstonWoman's Club Elects Officers for Year

Special to The Washington Post.

Shinnston, W. Va., April 29.—At the annual spring banquet of the Shinnston Woman's Club, held in the social rooms of the Methodist Episcopal Church, officers for 1930-31 were elected as follows: Mrs. L. T. Feaster, president; Mrs. Guy A. Hardesty, vice president; Mrs. M. Leslie Wyatt, recording secretary; Mrs. Lloyd Tetrick, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. C. Harry Higginbotham, treasurer.

Mrs. George H. Wisser, the outgoing president, was presented with a silver dish.

Special to The Washington Post.

Clarksburg, W. Va., April 29.—Louis A. Carr, district census supervisor, today announced the population of Glenville, seat of Gilmer County, as 535, a gain of 208 over the 1920 census.

The figures excluded the student body of the Glenville State Normal School, numbering about 250. West Union, seat of Doddridge County, suffered a 25 per cent decrease from 1920, its present population being 984, against 1,270 in 1920. Cairo, Ritchie County, has 607 against 662 in 1930.

Cumberland Accepts Bid on Water Bonds

Special to The Washington Post.

Cumberland, Md., April 29.—The bids for $75,000 and $100,000 water improvements bonds, submitted by Harris, Forbes & Co., investment bankers, Baltimore, at $104.159 for the combined issues of $175,000, was accepted by the mayor and city council yesterday.

The bonds run $100 and bear 4¼ per cent. This is regarded as a very good sale, the premium totaling over $6,000, it was stated. There were two other bidders. The money is to be used in water extension work in the city.

Child, 2, Eats Poison For Candy; Recovers

Mistaking a small capsule of poison for candy, 2-year-old Frances Fields, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert B. Fields, 259 Maple avenue, Takoma Park, Md., ate the "candy" yesterday and became ill.

Her mother called police and Sergt. Earl H. Burdine, of the Takoma Park substation, Montgomery County Police, took the child to Emergency Hospital, where she was treated. The policeman then returned her to her home, still ill, but not in serious danger, according to hospital authorities.

Penny Offers New Air Service.

Pittsburgh, April 29 (A.P.).—The Pennsylvania Railroad today announced inauguration of 17-hour air-rail passenger service between Pittsburgh and cities in Texas. Passengers leaving here early in the morning may reach Fort Worth, Dallas and other points late in the afternoon. Railroad officials said fares would be less than the combined rail and Pullman costs.

Newspaper Man Dies in Baltimore

Edgar Goodman, 71, Veteran Journalist Is Taken by Illness.

Special to The Washington Post.

Baltimore, Md., April 29.—Edgar Goodman, 71, widely known Baltimore newspaperman and member of the Baltimore American editorial staff for 45 years, died in Sinai Hospital today after an illness of ten days.

A native of Baltimore, Mr. Goodman graduated from City College in 1875 and won a Peabody scholarship. He received his degree from Johns Hopkins University in 1880 and two years later graduated from the Maryland University School of Law. He began his career on the American first as reporter and then an editorial writer. He later became exchange editor and telegraph editor. He handled Washington national copy for more than 15 years.

Recently, after leaving the American, he was correspondent in Baltimore for the New York Herald, the Philadelphia Public Ledger, Washington Post and Cincinnati Enquirer. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Edgar W. Goodman, and three children, Miss Bessie Goodman, Miss Esther Goodman and Sylvan Goodman.

WOMEN WETS PLAN FIGHT IN CONGRESS

Planks Discussed as Group for Prohibition Reform Holds Meeting.

SALOONS ARE OPPOSED

Preparations for parading "existing evils of prohibition" before Congress adjourns were made yesterday at a meeting of the District Council, Women's Organization for National Prohibition Reform.

Objectives adopted at the recent Cleveland convention of the organization and a number of committee chairmen were announced at the meeting, which was held at the home of Mrs. William B. Mason, secretary.

Explaining that the 1,500 local members and 80,000 national members of the association wanted "temperance, not prohibition," Mrs. Mason said that their platform called for the repeal of the eighteenth amendment, a return to States' rights in liquor control and accompanying legislation that would forever prevent the return of saloons.

The local chapter will have an executive committee of 100 and an advisory board of 30. The following committee chairmen were announced: Membership, Mrs. Charles P. Stone; finance, Mrs. James F. Mitchell; legislative, Miss Margaret Frazer; nominating, Mrs. Lee P. Warren.

Officers of the chapter, confirmed following the Cleveland meeting, are: Miss Bell Gurnee, chairman; Representative Mary T. Norton, vice chairman; Mrs. William B. Mason, secretary; Mrs. John F. Dryden, treasurer.

Harrisonburg Census Shows 7,194 Persons

Special to The Washington Post.

Harrisonburg, Va., April 29. — The population of Harrisonburg, according to the 1930 census, is 7,194, a gain of 1,319 over 1920, it was announced today by J. Givens Fulton, supervisor of census for this district.

Harrisonburg's gain in population is 22 per cent. The figures do not include the 800 students at the Harrisonburg State Teachers College nor 1,000 people residing immediately across the city line at Edge Lawn and at Assembly Park. Harrisonburg's population in 1900 was 4,521, in 1910 4,879.

Officers for Glee Club Elected at Virginia U.

Special to The Washington Post.

Charlottesville, Va., April 29.—The University of Virginia Glee Club has elected the following officers for next year: President, James L. Ellis, Metuchen, N. J.; vice president, William D. Cabell, University, Va.; librarian, Estes V. Howard, Lynchburg, Va. The new officers will take up their duties next fall, when the club will resume its year's activities.

Ellis is a third-year man and is a tenor in the club. Cabell, also of the third-year class, is a baritone. Howard, in addition to singing bass, is also accompanist on the piano.

Students at Virginia U. To Elect Officers Soon

Special to The Washington Post.

Charlottesville, Va., April 29.—Election of officers in the academic school at the University of Virginia will take place next Thursday. Skull and Keys have selected as their candidates the following: For president, C. Alphonso Smith, University, Va.; vice president, Byrd W. Davenport, Richmond, Va.; secretary-treasurer, Fenton A. Gentry, St. Petersburg, Fla.; historian, Alan McCullough, Oceanna, Va.

The Lambda Pais have chosen Hunter Motley, of Madison, for president; Robert E. Manley, jr., of York, Pa., for secretary-treasurer, and Herbert Bryant, of Alexandria, Va., for historian. As yet they have not announced their candidate for vice president.

Light Plant Sale Lost In Front Royal Ballot

Special to The Washington Post.

Front Royal, Va., April 29.—Advocates of municipal ownership won a sweeping victory here today when a vote of 333 to 270 was recorded in a special town election against the proposed sale of the town's electric light plant and its franchise.

The election was unusually spirited, and followed an active campaign made during recent weeks by partisans of both plans. Under the proposal, the plant and the franchise would have been offered for sale to the highest bidder. The election marks the first vote on the question in the history of Front Royal.

BIRTH CONTROL ITEM DOWNED AT MEETING

Study of Sterilization of Unfit Is Rejected by Women Voters.

PROGRAM AGREED UPON

Louisville, Ky., April 29 (A.P.)—The fight of Mrs. Chauncey J. Hamlin, of Buffalo, N. Y., to get birth control included in the national study program of the League of Women Voters failed today to get the necessary three-fourths vote for addition of new material.

The New York, Oregon and District of Columbia delegation supported the birth control measure which already has the official indorsement of the New York league.

Effort of the national board to have the study of sterilization of the unfit removed from the program failed when Mrs. Wells P. Eggleston, of Newark, N. J., led the combined forces of New Jersey, Colorado, Connecticut, District of Columbia, New York and Wisconsin for its retention.

The birth control measure was thus definitely disposed of for the two-year period unless it should be introduced by resolution on the convention floor, in which event it would require a two-thirds vote.

The recommendations of executive committee conferences to the convention floor also included: Continued stress on World Court and on government ownership of Muscle Shoals; addition of "treaties" to "international reduction of expenditures for war" to allow convention action on the just completed London disarmament conference; emphasis on state child labor laws instead of a national child labor amendment; and stress on property rights of women.

Employment stabilization was recommended for transfer from the study program to the legislative program with members of the league instructed to actually push legislation for unemployment insurance, public employment services, regulation of private employment agencies and collection of employment statistics.

WARRANT IS DENIED IN BAKER MURDER

a catch basin on the experimental farm of the Department of Agriculture, near the place where the body was found.

Decision to requestion Kelly was made by police after Martin Furhamm, who lives on Thirteenth street near M street northwest, told authorities that he suspected him of having stolen jewelry and clothing from his room on April 20. Kelly, until April 20, lived in the same rooming house as Furhamm.

If the value of the articles stolen is in excess of $35 a charge of grand larceny may be made. In this event an indictment will be sought which may warrant his extradition. If the value of the articles is less than $35 the offense constitutes a misdemeanor and is not extraditable.

Police cannot extradite him as a witness in the Baker murder case even though he found the girl's clothing. Local police were yesterday considering the dispatching of a detective to New York to question Kelly in respect to the trinket found with the girl's clothing. Another move under consideration was an attempt to have New York City operatives hold Kelly for investigation and question him regarding the clues he uncovered near the murder scene.

Furhamm, in his report to the police, listed the articles as a stickpin valued at $10, a wrist watch valued at $10, a pair of black shoes which cost $6, and three 50-cent pieces which are valued at a premium because of their rarity.

While Furhamm, in his report, valued the watch at $10, police last night learned that it was worth $35. This change of value brings the offense within the statutory specification of grand larceny.

Inspector William S. Shelby yesterday conferred with laundry officials who assisted police in deciphering a mark on a handkerchief which was found near the murder scene. An attempt is now being made to find the laundry which washed the handkerchief in the belief that it will lead to the owner.

Another Is Unmarked.

Another handkerchief bearing the initial of a man who was previously questioned and exonerated in connection with the case carries no laundry identification. This one was found in the culvert a few days after the discovery of the body.

Park Policeman William Hammond, who was reported to have told investigators of the trysts held by the Baker girl with a man near the Navy Department, yesterday was closeted with Inspector Shelby and Lieut. Edward J. Kelly. Nothing of value developed from the interview, according to police.

There was a decided lull yesterday in the Arlington County investigation of the case. Commonwealth's Attorney William C. Gloth was in court all day. Sheriff Howard Field's men were trying to trace the identity of a man who left an Alexandria Hotel on the day of the murder and left several articles of clothing in the room.

State Charter Asked For Atlantic University

Richmond, Va., April 29 (A.P.).—A charter application for Atlantic University, new liberal arts institution proposed to be located at Virginia Beach, was filed with the State Corporation Commission today.

The charter application was signed by Dr. William Moseley Brown, formerly professor of psychology at Washington and Lee and unsuccessful candidate for governor in 1929, as president; Thomas B. Brown, of Dayton, Ohio, as secretary, and Morton H. Blumenthal, of New York, one of the organizers.

Ford Party Visits Points in Virginia

Car Manufacturer on Tour Views Monticello and Madison's Home.

Special to The Washington Post.

Charlottesville, Va., April 29.—Henry Ford, accompanied by his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Edsel Ford and secretary, Frank Campbell, spent today in Charlottesville, visiting points of interest in the city and Albemarle.

The financier and his family came here from Richmond at 2 o'clock this morning, his private car being parked in the local railway yards. Mr. Ford inspected the railway shops and chatted freely with workmen about the place. A half hour later the Ford party left for the Greenwood section, where the morning was spent at Miradir, former home of Lady Astor and now occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Tree.

The visitors motored this afternoon to Montpelier, former home of President James Madison, and this evening visited Monticello, where they remained for an hour inspecting the building and grounds of the new national shrine. Late tonight the manufacturer and his party left for Williamsburg.

Woman in West Virginia Dies at 95 Years of Age

Special to The Washington Post.

Berkeley Springs, W. Va., April 29.—Mrs. Jane Keesecker, 95 years old, Morgan County's oldest woman resident, died Monday at the home of a daughter, Mrs. Harriet A. Hassenbuhler, after a short illness.

She was a Miss Shriver before marriage, a native of the county. Surviving are 4 children, 29 grandchildren, 71 great-grandchildren and one great-great-grandchild.

Escape Champion Again Leaves Jail

Convict, in West Virginia, Avoids Posse and Heads for Hills.

Special to The Washington Post.

Clarksburg, W. Va., April 29.—Lewis County officers today reported that West Virginia's champion jail breaker, Ike Nicholson, was again at large following an unsuccessful pursuit by a posse into nearby hills.

Ike has proved a veritable Houdini in getting out of shackles and from behind prison bars. None seemingly can hold him. He has escaped time and time again. Each time he pays with additional jail sentences. Once he did two years on a sixty day sentence. He ran away four times while serving a six months sentence for a liquor violation.

Lately he has been serving time for nonsupport and repeated escaping. Yesterday he again slipped out of shackles and from behind jail bars.

Firm Strikes Gas Well On Cabell County Farm

Special to The Washington Post.

Huntington, W. Va., April 29.—One of the largest gassers struck in Cabell County has been brought in by the Hamilton Gas Co. on the Knight Farm, near the headwaters of Fudge Creek about 6 miles from Ona. It is producing about 2,200,000 cubic feet a day, the initial flow following a shot of nitroglycerine being around 5,000,000 cubic feet.

This is the second well drilled there by the Hamilton Gas Co., which plans to do further drilling in the section. Wells will also be put down on other adjoining leaseholds.

Social Work Conference Planned.

Fairmont, W. Va., April 29 (Special).—Plans are complete for the annual convention of the West Virginia State Conference of Social Work, which will be held here May 13-15. Featured speakers will be Dr. Samuel A. Loveman, of Toms River, N. J., welfare division chairman of the American Legion, and Mrs. Pereba Croxton, an officer of the District of Columbia Society of Parents and Teachers.

CHURCH CASE ENDS AS BISHOP RESIGNS

Diocese Head Views Trial of Velasco as Reflection on His Integrity.

PASTOR WED CATHOLIC

Lexington, Ky., April 29 (A.P.).—Because he considered the verdict in the ecclesiastical trial of the Rev. Julius A. Velasco, Dayton, Ky., a reflection upon his integrity as a bishop, the Right Rev. H. P. Almon Abbott, Bishop of the Episcopal Diocese of Lexington, today announced his resignation.

Mr. Velasco was tried last week on charges of violating a preordination agreement with the standing committee that he would not marry a Catholic, conduct unbecoming a clergyman and using defamatory language to his bishop. The ecclesiastical court, composed of five priests, acquitted Mr. Velasco of the first two charges, but found him guilty of the latter. The sentence imposed was a reprimand by the bishop.

Advised in Dayton today of the bishop's resignation, Mr. Velasco declined to comment other than to say "the entire case is closed so far as I am concerned."

Bishop Abbott, whose relinquishment of the leadership of the diocese does not mean resigning his orders, as retiring bishops are eligible to serve as parish priests, had no public comment to make. On leaving the meeting at Christ Church Cathedral he donned golf knickers and an eyeshade and went to the golf links.

Mr. Velasco, 31-year-old rector of St. John's Episcopal Church, Dayton, Ky., married Miss Catherine Rogers, Ellicott City, Md., January 24, soon after he was ordained. The ceremony was performed by a Catholic priest.

Bishop Abbott, after asking Mr. Velasco to resign and requesting his vestry to oust him, asked the standing committee to bring charges against him, claiming that Mr. Velasco had signed an agreement with the standing committee that he would resign his orders if he married a Catholic. Mr. Velasco, conducting his own defense, won acquittals on the more serious charges. He claimed the agreement had been revoked before he married Miss Rogers. The court found him guilty of using defamatory language in calling Bishop Abbott "un-Christian" because the bishop had requested the St. John's vestry to meet without notifying the rector.

Bishop Abbott, in advising the standing committee today that he had tendered his resignation to the primate of the church, said he considered the verdict a "reflection upon the integrity of the bishop and every members of the standing committee." He said he could not exercise his Episcopal authority in a diocese "where I would have to recognize a man who has broken his plighted and written pledge as a clergyman in good standing."

Apartment House Blaze Fatal to Two Children

Minneapolis, April 29 (A.P.).—Two children were burned to death and five other persons were burned or injured seriously in a fire that swept the Washburn Apartment Building on the edge of the downtown district today.

More than 100 persons were driven into the streets by the fire, which firemen estimated caused about $50,000 damage.

The dead are Loretta and Lorraine Carlberg, aged 6 and 8, respectively, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Carlberg. They were trapped in their room. Mrs. Carlberg, severely burned and suffering from shock, was taken down a ladder by firemen, and Carlberg, also seriously burned, leaped from the window into a net held by firemen.

Brickbats & Bouquets

By JAMES HAY, JR.

NOW that Mr. Frelinghuysen has lifted his political skirts and leaped with impressive agility clean out of the dry camp into the wet ranks, it becomes painfully apparent that several other lawmakers of the State will either have to emulate his acrobatics or do a tall lot of hustling to insure the Nation a continuance of their valuable services.

Scouts coming in from the field of battle report that the wet-and-dry yardstick of statesmanship is a mighty weapon of war in the land of commuters and mosquitoes.

The two Democratic representatives, Mrs. Norton and Mr. Aufderheide, being of a spongelike wetness, will have no trouble in the primaries and little in the elections. They're as good as in again right now.

* * * *

BUT at least three of the Republican brethren probably wish they were jumping beans—that is, if the bean can think as wisely as it jumps widely.

Dry Mr. Ackerman, dean of the delegation, has his experienced hands full of trouble to running over. Although nobody has been named to belabor him with the loaded yardstick, the united wet element in his district will have their champion selected, trained to the pink and rarin' to lay lustily about him in ample time to make things hot in the June primary.

Mr. Hartley, the "boy Congressman," can escape assault by the wets only by getting into shape to leap out of the dry lines with Frelinghuysen plausibility. Otherwise, when the battle is hot in June, he will see the face of a foe through the smoke clouds.

To make his plight all the worse, the wiseacres say that, if he should attempt to water the flower of his ambition with a degree of moisture, the infuriated drys, turning upon him with all the tenderness of starving wolves, would run somebody against him.

* * * *

WHILE there will be little primary trouble for Mr. Fort, the silver-tongued gentleman who so eloquently told the House that the Volstead Act was a great aid, comfort and convenience to the drinkers of alcoholic beverages, he will have against him in the election the thoroughly wet Democrat whom he defeated in 1924, Daniel F. Minahan.

Men deeply versed in the lore of Jersey or jumping bean politics declare that this Fort-Minahan engagement will be a fight from which all politicians—jumpers and nonjumpers—may unblushingly date time.

Meanwhile, with bated breath, the Jerseyites wait to hear what Mr. Morrow will say when the boys come knocking on his front door with the wet-dry yardstick. His friends predict that he will advocate "something practical," which will allow elbow-benders to drink when they please and drys to stay dry where they choose.

If he can put that over, high and handsome will be the jumping in Jersey and elsewhere—not jumping for votes, but jumping for joy.

ing trades now find their lowest measure of employment."

During the afternoon delegates split into six round-table conferences on banking, exporting, construction, industrial development, inland waterway transportation and natural resources industries.

John W. Pole, comptroller of currency, told the banking conference that bank merger movements had gained such momentum in the United States that reshaping of Federal law might be necessary, and should be considered. Roy A. Young, governor of the Federal Reserve Bank, urged the enactment of legislation permitting the establishment of branches by national banks.

Construction Contracts Larger.

Dr. John M. Gries, chief of the division of public construction of the Department of Commerce, announced before the construction group that public construction contracts during the first quarter of 1930 had increased 33 per cent over the same period last year.

Assertion that business is now emerging from a recession world-wide in scope was made before the exporting conference by W. L. Cooper, director of the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce of the Department of Commerce. Mr. Cooper said the United States was in a position to take advantage of any advance.

Inland waterway transportation was both attacked and defended in the conference group considering it. Fred W. Sargent, president of the Chicago & Northwestern Railroad, contended the railroads were not getting a "square deal" with reference to waterways. W. R. Dawes, president of the Mississippi Valley Association, contended there was business enough for both types of carrier.

Darrow Refuses to Aid Indian Squaw's Defense

Buffalo, N. Y., April 29 (A.P.).—The now celebrated Marchand murder case is just like any other murder case, involving no great issue, in the opinion of Clarence Darrow, celebrated criminal attorney from Chicago.

Stripping away the public interest and intense partisanship in Lila Jimmerson, Cayuga Indian woman who pleaded guilty to a charge of murdering Mrs. Clothilde Marchand, wife of the noted artist, Henri Marchand, two months ago, Darrow today refused to appear as the woman's attorney and reopen her case.

The merchants and automobile dealers, for example, will suffer in the loss of markets among the laboring men. The banks will miss their deposits, and every business is directly or indirectly made to feel the loss. If enough of these contracts are lost, it was asserted, the whole economic structure of the city is likely to be affected.

As William J. Eynon, president of the Washington Typothatae, declared: "The youths of Washington often have to look to other cities for good jobs because local industries have no place for them. If Washingtonians learn to do all their buying in this city, business will prosper, real estate values will increase, and the city will grow."

Proud of Standards.

Foreign contractors who underbid Washington firms by using cheap labor and often inferior material came in for a drubbing at the hands of the labor representatives and builders.

"We have a right to be proud of the high standard of labor in this city," said Mr. Colpoys, "and we object to having the living standards of our people lowered and the social organization of Washington endangered by the importation of cheap laborers."

One Southern State which has obtained many local contracts by such methods was particularly criticized.

Complaints were also made that few Federal projects are being awarded to subcontractors here, and it was the consensus that Washington concerns should at least have their proportionate share of the contracts.

Walls Are Erected.

Attention was called by several speakers to the walls which other cities had erected to keep out foreign builders, thus preventing this city from getting back even a part of the money that goes out to these cities.

Mark Lansburgh, president of the Merchants and Manufacturers Association, declared that "Buy-in-Washington" had long been the slogan of the organization he represented; while Rudolph Jose, first vice-president of the Chamber of Commerce, stated that the chamber has fostered such a campaign frequently. Wholehearted indorsement of the council's aim was also given by George Plitt, president of the Board of Trade.

The council, when once under way, will probably enlist the cooperation of local universities in conducting economic research to determine what industries are best fitted for this city and its business needs.

Others who spoke in favor of organizing the council were Claude Owen, president of E. G. Schafer Co.; J. R. Skinker, president of the Master Builders Association; Thomas Lane, business agent of the Bricklayers Union; Horace W. Peaslee, past president of the Washington Architects Association; Mr. Rosengarten, Luther C Steward, president of the National Federation of Federal Employes; Arthur aCrr, first vice president of the Washington Real Estate Board; Mr. Rothschild, Mr. Plitt and C. H. Pope, secretary of the Washington Bankers Association.

The remaining delegates present were John Botts, business agent of the Steamfitters Union; Charles Young, secretary of the Washington Building Trades Council; F. R. Hunnewell, president of the Washington Society of Engineers; J. Whitney Leary, president of the Washington Automotive Trade Association, and Col. J. Miller Kenyon, president of the District Bar Association.

U. S. ENVOYS RETURN FROM NAVAL PARLEY

valent of the three 10,000-ton cruisers in smaller 6-inch gun ships.

Naval authorities favoring the 6-inch gun ships have already expressed themselves in some instances and are in accord with the treaty program. Those who favor the 8-inch gun ships are withholding comment until they appear before the committee and are naturally reticent about expressing views which are in conflict with the treaty program. Hearings before the naval affairs committee will demonstrate on which side of this controversial question is to be found the majority opinion of the recognized naval authorities.

The question of the safety clause is certain to be dealt with by the Senate, but the tendency is to protect America's interests under this clause without changing the terms of the pact. The language of this clause, which permits each of the three powers to build beyond the treaty limitations if conditions warrant this program, is not satisfactory to senators.

But the implication that Great Britain may exceed the limitations by building destroyers to cope with French submarines and then require America to build destroyers or abandon parity has attracted notice. Provision may be made by the Senate to permit America to exceed the treaty limitations in cruiser construction if Great Brtain exceeds the limitations in types of vessel which the American Navy does not need.

As soon as the treaty reaches the Senate it will be referred to the committee on foreign relations, of which Senator Borah is chairman. This committee will hold hearings, but the Senate naval affairs committee, of which Senator Hale is chairman, will also hold hearings to obtain expert naval advice on the pact.

The House naval affairs committee, of which Representative Fred A. Britten is chairman, may also hold hearings. Senator Borah has stated that the treaty should be disposed of before summer adjournment.

PARLEY DELEGATES HAILED IN NEW YORK

Stimson and Colleagues of U. S. Mission Return With Treaty.

PRESS CENSORSHIP HIT

New York, April 29 (A.P.).—Bearing the pact of London, which limits the fleets of the three major naval forces, four of America's seven delegates to the Naval Limitations Conference returned to the United States today aboard the liner Leviathan.

Convoyed by a battleship and two destroyers, and with Army airplanes maneuvering overhead, the delegation was given a restrained welcome by a New York which apparently was more curious than it was informed.

They were met at Quarantine this morning by the usual mayor's committee of welcome, given a slow ride up the harbor aboard the municipal tug Macom, a parade up Broadway and a motorcycle escort to the Pennsylvania Station. A little over an hour after they landed at the Battery, the delegation, with the exception of Ambassador Dwight W. Morrow, was on a special train en route to Washington. Mr. Morrow went direct to his home in Englewood, N. J.

Glad to Be Back.

The delegates, headed by Secretary of State Henry L. Stimson expressed pleasure at being home again after four months absence. They found a typical New York spring day, warm winds, clear sky, a brilliant sun.

Arising early, on the Leviathan which had dropped anchor at Quarantine shortly after midnight, the delegates and the official party promenaded the decks, posed for photographers and bade good-by to shipboard acquaintances until arrival of the Macom at 8:30 a. m.

With the arrival of the Macom, carrying on its forward deck the police band playing "Home, Sweet Home," the delegates gathered in the ship's library and were greeted by Police Commissioner Whalen and members of his committee, which included Maj. Gen. Hanson B. Ely, commandant of the Second Corps Area; Rear Admiral Louis R. de Steiguer, commandant of this naval district Maj. Gen. W. H. Haskell, head of the New York National Guard; E. H. H. Simmons, president of the New York Stock Exchange and Gen. W. W. Atterbury, president of the Pennsylvania Railroad. As the Macom steamed slowly past the U. S. S. Texas, which lay at anchor with two destroyers off Staten Island, a gun amidships boomed out a 19-gun salute and bluejackets manned the rails, their hands at caps in salute.

Crowd Lines Seawall.

The Macom cruised slowly off Governor's Island where a battery fired another salute and came to Battery Park where a crowd, estimated at between 5,000 and 10,000 lined the walks, the seawall and adjacent streets. There was little applause as the delegates took their seats in waiting automobiles and started up Broadway behind three bands.

Up that deep canyon of skyscrapers the parade passed through crowds strangely silent, to the plaza of city hall. Only an occasional length of ticker tape floated down.

A taxi driver, caught in the parade jam, pulled up and called to a patrolman, "What's this all about?"

"Admiral Stimson's home from the peace conference," the officer replied.

At city hall the delegates got a burst of handclapping as they climbed the steps to the second-floor auditorium where they were greeted by Acting Mayor Joseph V. McKee.

Respond to McKee Welcome.

Secretary Stimson and Senator Joseph T. Robinson, of Arkansas, responded to Mr. McKee's welcome. Both praised the three-power treaty as a step toward world peace. Mr. Stimson expressing the opinion that Italy and France eventually would accept such a treaty as that signed by the three major sea powers.

Climbing back into their cabs the delegates were whisked through crowd-lined but quiet streets to Pennsylvania Station, where they boarded a special train for Washington. Their secretaries and marine escort, which went to London with them, previously had boarded the train. Ambassador Morrow accompanied his colleagues to the train, then went with Mrs. Morrow to Englewood.

Although all the delegates said they were worn out by the protracted deliberations they appeared to have been refreshed somewhat by six quiet days at sea.

Reed Remains in Europe.

The four delegates who returned today were Secretary Stimson, Ambassador Morrow, Senator Robinson and Charles F. Adams, Secretary of Navy. Mrs. Robinson and Mrs. Stimson accompanied them. Senator David A. Reed, the fifth delegate from Washington, remained in England for a short vacation. Hugh Gibson, Ambassador to Belgium, and Charles G. Dawes, Ambassador at the Court of St. James, the other two American delegates, stayed at their posts abroad.

Newspapermen aboard the ship were incensed at a censorship placed by ship's officers on their press dispatches. On the homeward trip, as is usual with censorship, they said, nothing really important was cut out, but the mere fact that it was imposed was a source of irritation. They said they believed the naval delegates had no hand in its imposition.

telling them she would pay the rest when she received back the skins.

But the boys called a policeman, and a few minutes later Mrs. Taormina found herself walking twelve long blocks to the police station, where she was charged with unlawfully withholding property.

But next day Magistrate Silberman, in West Side Court, dismissed the case, with the note that it was a matter for civil suit. Mrs. Taormina immednately brought the action for false arrest.

She had told her story in court today, describing herself as a former model and motion picture acress, and the wife of Paul Taormina, restaurateur, who, she admitted, maintained a separate home. She said she had played on the screen under the name of Mabel Stapleton.

With the Garfunkels in court was their 17-year-old son Leon, who said his father had taken him out of school that afternoon because he had been so anxious to see what court procedure was like. Mrs. Garfunkel, weeping hysterically, told court attendants that a "great big celebration" had been planned for her husband's fiftieth birthday on May 5.

"Gold Coast" Residents Employ Clock Winder

Chicago, April 29 (A.P.).—That exclusive section of Chicago known as the "Gold Coast" can now go ahead just as though nothing had happened—thanks to the tireless efforts of Mr. Herman Stenbeck, the only known professional clock winder in Chicago.

Most people in Chicago do their own clock-hand turning when the city goes on daylight savings, but on the "Gold Coast," where the mansions contain clocks considered priceless, a more expert hand is deemed necessary and so they called on Mr. Stenbeck, who has put in 18 hours a day since Sunday when the swap to daylight time was made.

KELLOGG PACT WAR BAN IS LEAGUE GOAL

British Ask Its Principles Be Incorporated in Nations' Covenant.

AIR FORCES ARE ARGUED

Geneva, April 29 (N.Y.W.N.S.).—Incorporation of the outlawry of war principles underlying the Kellogg pact into the second league convention—the general treaty for the prevention of war—was asked today by British spokesmen here who started the movement to put the Kellogg pact into the covenant of the League of Nations.

Lord Robert Cecil submitted detailed preliminary proposals which revealed that the Labor government intends to carry out its original intention of starting a drive in favor of the general act and other anti-war measures. He announced at the same time that the MacDonald cabinet, because of the outcome of the London Naval Conference, had not yet concluded formation of its policy regarding the draft evolved by the arbitration and security committee.

Having fulfilled their pledge to bring about general ratification of the optional clause for compulsory world court jurisdiction over justifiable disputes, the Laborites will seek simultaneous acceptance by the dominions and other league members of the treaty which Denmark, Norway and Sweden already have ratified and to which France, Germany and Great Britain have pledged support.

Osten Unden, former foreign minister of Sweden, is acting as chairman of the security committee. Twenty-eight countries are attending the meetings of that body. Russia also has an observer at the deliberations and Turkey a plenipotentiary delegate. The United States is not represented.

Today's discussions dealt with creation of an international air force and the facilities to be extended to the league in cases of international emergency. Germany opposed creation of an air force exclusively owned and operated by the league, advocating instead the leasing of Swiss, French, German, Italian or whatever other airplanes might be available in the event of a crisis. Other delegates were virtually unanimous in favoring both a league-owned air force and air forces furnished by its members when needed.

Ninth Person Dies in Plane Crash.

Fayetteville, Tenn., April 29 (A.P.) J. M. Douthitt, 75, died today of injuries received Sunday when an airplane fell into a crowd watching a stunting exhibition. His death increased the toll of the accident to nine.

DEATH THREAT SENT STRIKE CASE JUDGE

Dynamite Found on Veranda of Residence; Workers' Homes Bombed.

PRINTS ARE EXAMINED

Madisonville, Ky., April 29 (A.P.).—Four sticks of dynamite and a note threatening death to County Judge J. D. Shain if he asked the grand jury to indict ten striking miners were found on the veranda of the judge's residence today.

Judge Shain had ordered the ten miners held under bond on charges of mite also contained a rifle cartridge and a shotgun shell. The note was printed by hand and signed "The Bloody Williamson County, Ill." It reads as follows:

"Judge Shain:

"We thoroughly understand the banding and confederating after a minor disturbance at Nortonville near here, where two miners' homes were dynamited this morning. The package containing the note and dynadirty deal you gave the ten striking miners of Nortonville, as you held them under bond as they are not guilty. We do hereby warn you if the grand jury should indict any one of those boys, damn your crooked soul, you will die."

Judge Shain said that he would not be influenced or intimidated by the threat, and would press the charges against the ten miners when the grand jury meets next month. The cases of the ten will be investigated during the Circuit Court term beginning May 5.

Hopkins County officers summoned fingerprint experts from the State Penitentiary at Eddyville to examine the note and package for possible clues. The local officers had no clues to the identity of the person or persons who placed the package on the veranda of the judge's home.

Nortonville, Ky., April 29 (A.P.).—The homes of Bailey Keith, white, and Clyde Bass, Negro, both miners were dynamited early today. The Bailey residence was damaged $2,500 and the other $1,500. Bailey and his wife and family were asleep at the time. The roof and part of the walls fell near them, but they were not injured. Bass and his wife were away from home. Bailey owns his home, while Bass' residence is owned by the Norton Coal Co., which employs both men.

Bailey works at the Norton mine here, which is closed down at present, and Bass is employed at the company's mine at Ilsley, which is operating.

Several minor disorders have occurred in the western Kentucky coal fields recently. Approximately 4,000 miners are out of work because of independent strikes and shutdowns. The strikers are asking a return to the 1917 basic wage scale of $5 a day, claiming they are receiving only $4. Better working conditions are sought also.

Baltimore Scientist Hurt in Auto Accident

Grass Valley, Calif., April 29 (A.P.) Dr. James Stokley, of Johns Hopkins University, Baltimore, who came to California to witness the eclipse of the sun, suffered numerous cuts and bruises and possible internal injuries in returning from Camptonville yesterday.

The car in which he was riding collided with a stage.

Cloudburst Imperils Texas Town.

Sinton, Tex., April 29 (A.P.).—Sinton was recovering today from a cloudburst which caused water to rise as high as window sills and sent many persons scurrying for safety to the courthouse. Twelve and 35-100ths inches fell from noon to midnight. Boats were being used all over town.

EAST-WEST HIGHWAY DEDICATION PLANNED

Montgomery County Bodies Discuss Road Project at Meeting.

DETAILS ARE OUTLINED

Plans for dedication of the East-West highway, one of the most important links in the roads system of Montgomery County, were discussed at a joint meeting of committees from the Silver Spring, Takoma Park and Bethesda Chambers of Commerce, held yesterday at the Silver Spring County Building. The dedication will be held May 16, on the same day that the Montgomery County Civic Federation stages its tour of the suburban section of the county.

The two events have been planned so that both will be participated in by the prominent Maryland and Washington business civic leaders who have been invited by the federation.

The program for the day, as announced last night, is as follows: The citizens from Washington and Maryland who will make the tour will meet in Washington, probably Lafayette Square, at 2:15 o'clock in the afternoon. They will then proceed to the western section of the suburban area and will devote an hour and a half to view the natural beauties and commercial aspects of that section.

Dedication Is Planned.

They will then proceed to the intersection of the East-West highway and Sixteenth street at the District line, where dedication exercises will be held, at which Gov. Albert C. Ritchie, District Commissioner Luther H. Reichelderfer and Lieut. Col. U. S. Grant 3d, of the National Capital Park and Planning Commission, will make short addresses.

The intersection presents a natural amphitheater at this point, and the two roads, the opening of which is to be celebrated, join here for the short section of the road which leads to Silver Spring.

One of the features of the dedication will be the setting up of one of the old District of Columbia boundary stones in the center of the traffic island which marks the District line.

Following the dedication exercises which are under the auspices of the three chambers of commerce, the civic federation tour will continue, and for another hour and a half will be conducted over the eastern portion of the suburban area.

The day's activities will be concluded with a dinner at the Manor Club at Norbeck, at which the Maryland Governor and the District officials also will speak.

Plans for the federation tour are being handled by Maj. E. Brooke Lee, chairman, and other members of the transportation committee. The civic federation committee on the tour, headed by Emory H. Bogley, of Friendship Heights, will meet Tuesday at the Bethesda County building.

Chairmen of the three chambers of commerce special committees who were present at the meeting yesterday were Edward H. Jones, Bethesda; Maj. Phil D. Poston, Silver Spring, and H. B. Hendrick, Takoma Park.

Proceedings Are Begun To Widen 2 Highways

The District Commissioners yesterday instituted proceedings in District Supreme Court through which they seek to condemn land for the widening of Sheriff road from the Alexandria branch of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad to Fiftieth street northeast and for the widening of Minnesota avenue from Sheriff road to the Washington Railway & Electric Co.'s right of way northeast.

More than 200 property owners are affected by the condemnation proceedings. The action is brought under the acts of Congress of March 4, 1913, and May 28, 1926. Corporation Counsel William W. Bride and Assistant Corporation Counsel Walter L. Fowler appear for the Commissioners.

demned to die in the electric chair, all seven were recaptured this afternoon and removed to the city jail for safekeeping.

Governor Is Determined.

That George Tonoff, Lucas County, who was shot in the lung, was an innocent victim of the disorder, was the claim of the Rev. Father Albert O'Brien, Catholic chaplain, who administered the last rites of the church to Tonoff. The priest said Tonoff was not taking part in the riot, but was trying to get into his cell when shot. The other convict who was injured was Jewell Joffa, Lucas County. His leg was wounded.

While the State tonight awaited the report of Gov. Cooper's commission which investigated the tragic fire, word came from the governor's office that the findings of the committee would not be ready for publication until very late tonight or tomorrow. One report on the fire was made during the day. The State inspection bureau indicated that the blaze was of incendiary origin, and was not caused by defective wiring in the ill fated G and H cell blocks, where the 320 locked-in convicts met death. It was held that fires, started later in the prison yard, were set by prisoners.

The determined attitude of the State to overcome the revolters was shown in Gov. Cooper's order to suppress the mutineers. The governor said "I feel that sufficient consideration has been shown for the extraordinary conditions resulting from the fire and loss of life. The time has now come when the regular routine of the institution must be re-established."

On the Rules of Traffic

By WILLIAM ULLMAN

Hand signals are not everything in driving in Washington.

One instance in which the driver depends too much on signaling is when making a left turn into an alley or driveway. The law relating to turning traffic surrendering the right-of-way to that which is going through governs this maneuver also.

Example: A motorist is driving southward on Sixteenth street. He desires to turn left into, say the Racquet Club driveway. He pulls over to the center of the street and sticks out his arm. Before completing the turn, however, he must wait until northbound traffic has cleared.

ILLNESS IS FATAL TO REALTY DEALER

N. L. Sansbury, Head of Firm of Same Name, Claimed by Death.

CAME TO CITY IN 1888

Norman Lee Sansbury, president of the firm of N. L. Sansbury Co., Inc., and veteran local real estate dealer, died yesterday at Providence Hospital, having been in failing health for some time.

Mr. Sansbury, who was 66 years old, was born in Forestville, Prince Georges County, Md. He came to this city in 1888 and was associated with the old Ebbitt Hotel for a number of years prior to entering the real estate business in 1903, when he established the firm bearing his name, now located at 1418 I street northwest.

At the time of his death Mr. Sansbury was a vice president and director of the District National Bank, president of the board of trustees of Calvary Methodist Episcopal Church, a member of the Washington Board of Trade and the Washington Real Estate Board. He and his associates were prominent in business activities for years, engaging in general real estate, brokerage and construction. He was identified with negotiations resulting in a number of the largest transactions in the downtown section.

Mr. Sansbury married Miss Ida May Schotta, of Catonsville, Md., in 1896. His widow, a brother, E. Wylie Sansbury, of this city, and two sisters, Mrs. Sarah Bell, of Maryland, and Mrs. Agnes Wyatt, of Kentucky, survive. Funeral services will be conducted tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock at Calvary Methodist Episcopal Church.

"Iron General" Expires In Belgrade, Aged 74

Belgrade, Jugoslavia, April 29 (A.P.).—Gen. Michael Zivkovitch, known as the "Iron General" and former Jugoslav minister of war, died today, aged 74.

Gen. Zivkovitch was commander and defender of Belgrade until the city was vacated during the World War and then took over command of the Jugoslav volunteer legion on the Russian front. He had fought in every war participated in by his country since 1877.

INTERSTATE CHORUS REGISTERS SUCCESS

Sylvia Meyer, Harpist, Wins Plaudits at 28th Concert of Organization.

WAGNER NUMBER SCORES

Miss Sylvia Meyer, harpist, was soloist of the twenty-eighth concert of the Interstate Male Chorus, Clyde B. Aitchison, conductor, given at Memorial Continental Hall last night.

Among the numbers on program was a song, "When Twilight Dews," written by Conductor Aitchison, who is one of the Interstate Commerce Commissioners.

The well trained chorus was in good form last night. Its ensemble tone was produced with ease and beauty, and the diction and enunciation were of unusual clarity and distinctiveness.

One of the loveliest numbers of the program was "Forest Harps," by Edwin Schultz, with a harp obligato by Miss Meyer.

A notable group of selections by Miss Meyer included Poenitz's "The Music Box," attractively played by the clever harpist, who possessed technical skill as well as the gift of poetic interpretation of outstanding themes through her difficult instrument.

A striking selection was act 1, scene 3, from Wagner's "Tannhouser," in which soloists of the chorous interpreted the various roles from the opera.

A beautiful arrangement of Tennyson's "Crossing the Bar," by W. L. Thickatun, brought an ovation for the chorus and its gifted leader.

IT'S TIME to change to.... summer grades of oil

IT'S WISE to change to.... AMOCO MOTOR OIL

100% PURE PARAFFINE BASE

As far as your motor is concerned, it's been a long, hard winter. Plenty of snow. Plenty of ice. Plenty of bitter, cold weather causing frequent use of the choke.

The oil in your crank case is thin. Mixed with dirt and sludge. Badly diluted. All worn out and eager for a decent burial. It's time to change to a heavier grade of oil suitable for spring and summer driving.

There'll be a lot of driving to do this spring. On warm days and chilly days, on smooth roads and rough ones. To protect the costly moving parts of your motor you'll need an oil that will lubricate promptly--stay on the job with ample body even under the most trying conditions.

It's wise to change to Amoco Motor Oil. Have your spring greasing done today--at any company-owned station or Amoco dealer.

'HARD MEN' SOUGHT IN DOUBLE SLAYING

Connecticut Pair Found to Have Been Warned Not to Visit Oklahoma.

TWO JAILED IN MURDER

Muskogee, Okla., April 29 (A.P.)—County officers tonight were seeking certain "hard characters" against whom officials of the new bankrupt New Milford Security Co., of Connecticut had been warned, in an effort to clear up the mystery surrounding the slaying of David and George Smith, Conecticut capitalists killed in a hotel room here Saturday night.

Investigators turned to this clew when dispatches from Connecticut said that John L. Wike, who with P. G. Seeley is under charges of murder in connection with the slaying of the brothers, had attempted to dissuade the Smiths from making the trip through Oklahoma, on which they were checking up on mortgages held by the New Milford Security Co., because there were many "hard characters" in the part of Oklahoma the party planned to visit, "and no one could tell what they might do to a fellow."

Preliminary Hearing Today.

A preliminary hearing will be held tomorrow for Wike and Seeley, who were traveling with the Smith brothers and occupied an adjoining room to them when they were shot and killed.

Tom Graves, Muskogee police chief, said a diamond ring found in Seeley's baggage corresponded to the description of one which Mrs. George Smith, widow of one of the brothers, telegraphed Graves today.

Phillip K. Oldham, assistant county attorney, said tonight that three crimson spots found on Wike's coat had been analyzed by a chemist, who declared they were made by human blood. Wike was unable to account for the spots, Oldham said.

Murder Charges Filed.

The murder charges were filed against Wike and Seeley unexpectedly late yesterday after officers had announced that they believed the two were not implicated in the killings.

Wike in his statement to officers after the shooting, said he was in the Smiths' room about 9 o'clock Saturday night when two men forced their way in and a fight ensued, ending in the killings. Wike said he was bound and gagged and robbed of $8 by the two strangers. Seeley said he was in his own room and did not hear the shooting.

Women Urge Congress To Oppose World Code

Favorable action of Congress on the Fish resolution, opposing participation of the United States in the newly launched world code on international law, was urged yesterday before the House foreign affairs committee by a delegation of the National Woman's Party, headed by Mrs. Max Rotter, of Wisconsin, and Miss Laura Berrein, of Georgia.

The delegation also asked indorsement of the stand taken by the United States delegation at the recent conference at The Hague in striving for the principle of equal nationality rights for women as well as men. Among the Washingtonians appearing before the committee were Mrs. Paul Linebarger, Mrs. Jennie Berliner, Mrs. Nina E. Allender, Miss Sheldon Jackson and Miss Lula Adams.

Three Dry Law Charges Are Filed After Raid

Mitchell Alpine, 21 years old, of Tenth street near L street northwest, was arrested by Sergt. Oscar J. Letterman and the members of his raiding squad yesterday on charges of sale, transportation and possession of liquor. He was booked at the First Precinct.

The arrest was made following a sale to an undercover agent of one-half pint, police say. Possession of twelve pints was charged when he was searched, and several more quarts of liquor were found, police said, in a later search. Detectives F. A. Truscott, J. A. Mostyn and Richard Cox participated in the raid.

Man Is Given 360 Days After Row Over Dime

Thomas Dean, colored, was sentenced yesterday by Judge Ralph E. Given in Police Court to serve 360 days in jail on a charge of assaulting Nettie Pecker, a grocery store operator.

Dean told the court that the woman hit him after he had bought a plug of tobacco and she had accused him of giving her a counterfeit dime. The woman denied that she had struck the Negro, stating that she merely showed the man the dime and that he responded by striking her. The woman lost two front teeth, had her eye blackened and received a gash on her arm as a result of the encounter.

Lindbergh Goes So Fast Speed Record Is Ruined

(Associated Press.)

Col. Charles A. Lindbergh went so fast in establishing a new transcontinental speed mark Easter that he destroyed his official record.

A barograph installed in the plane and turned over to the Bureau of Standards by the National Aeronautic Association for certification was found yesterday to have been broken by excessive vibration. Long before the flying colonel and his wife made their stop in Wichita, the instrument revealed, the bolts holding the drum on which is traced the time and altitude record of the flight became loosened.

Brooklyn Firm Is Given Engine House Contract

Contract for the construction of fire engine house No. 31, was awarded yesterday by the District Commissioners to Castor & Castor Construction & Engineering Co., of Brooklyn, N. Y., lowest of ten bidders. The Brooklyn concern bid $53,690.

The new engine house and an oil house will be constructed on the north side of Everett street at the corner of Thirty-sixth street and Connecticut avenue northwest.

THREE ARE INDICTED IN DRY AGENT DEATH

Dayton Reindicted in Slaying of Marjorie O'Donnell Last October.

23 CASES ARE IGNORED

Three colored men, John Borum, Milton Guy and John Logan, were indicted by the District of Columbia grand jury yesterday on a charge of first-degree murder in connection with the slaying April 12 of Prohibition Agent Lamar Watson York, who was shot to death in an alley near the Capitol while supposedly trying to seize an automobile equipped with a smoke screen.

At the same time the grand jury reindicted Dexter Churchill Dayton, youthful clerk, on a first-degree murder charge in connection with the slaying of Marjorie O'Donnell, 24-year-old stenographer, who was strangled to death last October 7 at the Roosevelt Hotel.

The indictment in the York case is in three counts, each of the Negroes being accused in a separate count with holding the gun with which the dry operative was slain. The indictment against Dayton is in only one count, reciting that he choked and strangled the girl to death.

One Jury Held Illegal.

Reindictment of Dayton was made necessary due to the fact that the former grand jury which indicted him was held to be illegal because one of its members was a woman pensioner of the Government. Recently, Attorneys Ring and Cobb, his counsel, learning that plans were on foot to reindict their client attacked the array of the present grand jury as illegal, but the case had been resubmitted prior to this action, it was understood.

Logan, one of the trio charged with the murder of York, last week filed a petition for the return of the automobile seized by the police in connection with the investigation of the slaying. The automobile, understood to have been the one York was trying to seize when killed, was seized by the police on April 15.

The murder indictments were among 35 true bills returned by the inquisitorial body. Charges contained in 23 cases against 31 persons were ignored.

Indicted for Manslaughter.

Alfred C. Curtis, colored, was indicted on a charge of manslaughter in connection with the death of Alfred Crawley last March 2. Crawley, according to the indictment, was killed at Wisconsin avenue near Veazey street northwest by an automobile operated by Curtis.

Those against whom charges were ignored are as follows: Jennie Durham, arson; Joseph Davis, William G. Baker, James E. Armstrong, Robert Tyler, Wilbur Wallace, Joseph Sewall, Ernest D. Bryant, Grace Hutchinson, joy riding; William Persoff, larceny after trust; Oliver Kinnard, George E. Deacon, Harvey Lewis and Joseph Jones grand larceny; Harvey Lee Schulte and Mabel Schulte, Jones act; Severance A. Farmer and Timothy W. Temple, housebreaking and larceny; James Hemphill and Theodore R. Poole, assault with a dangerous weapon; Augustus Wallace, assault; John T. Commodore, assault; John Goetzinger, rape; Robert Rogerson, Mann act; George Nicholson, bigamy; Irving Rosenburg, Helen Moose and Charles A. Lomax, perjury; Garnet (Buck) Mayhew and Nellie P. Ernest, violation of section 814 of the code and Helen Speaks, robbery.

Fireman's Dismissal Confirmed.

The District Commissioners yesterday confirmed the Trial Board sentence of dismissal imposed on Charles Pell, a private in the Fire Department, for his failure to pay a bill of $460 claimed by Dr. James Albert Potter. Pell was appointed a private in the Fire Department on April 16, 1921.

GRAVELY ACQUITTED ON SHOOTING CHARGE

Judge Mattingly Asserts Detective's Firing on Crotts Was Justified.

POLICE SCANDAL ECHO

Spottswood F. Gravely, suspended Third Precinct detective, was acquitted in Police Court yesterday afternoon by Judge Robert E. Mattingly on a charge of assault with a dangerous weapon in connection with the shooting of James Crotts, of Lexington, N. C., several weeks ago. Judge Mattingly, who came over from Municipal Court to sit in Police Court during the honeymoon trip of Presiding Judge Gus A. Schuldt, dismissed the charge without requiring the defense to offer any testimony additional to that presented Friday.

The shooting of Crotts for a time threatened to reveal an alleged police scandal. With the acquittal of Gravely all the policemen involved, with one exception, have been cleared. The exception is Ardie C. Swortzell, of the Fourth Precinct, also under suspension, who is charged in an indictment jointly with Crotts and John C. Elgin with conspiracy to extort money from two women in return for alleged "protection." Crotts was shot on First street near U street near the home of Marie Rose Foster, one of the women whom he and his two companions are alleged in the indictment with attempting to "shake down."

Judge Mattingly in entertaining a motion of Defense Attorney James A. O'Shea to dismiss the case, declared: "I think that the law justifies the shooting in this case. There was reasonable, probable cause for the belief that a felony had been committed and that of the three men, one of them was fleeing from the scene. Case is dismissed."

Crotts, at the first session of the hearing last Friday, testified that he was running from Gravely because he thought the policeman was a hold-up man.

Woman Is Indicted In Child-Theft Case

Alleged to Have Utilized Daughter as Foil in Grand Larceny.

Mrs. Edith Mannie, of D street northeast near Third street, who is alleged to have used her 9-year-old daughter as a foil in thieving operations in a local department store, was indicted yesterday by the grand jury on a charge of grand larceny.

The indictment alleges that the woman stole a pocketbook belonging to a clerk of the store which contained seven platinum ring settings. The pocketbook is alleged to have been removed from behind the store counter while the small daughter attracted the attention of the clerk.

Mrs. Mannie pleaded guilty in Police Court on April 16 to two charges of larceny in connection with the theft of two other pocketbooks belonging to clerks of the same store and was given two 90-day suspended sentences by Judge Isaac R. Hitt.

Man Held on Rum Count After Raid at Office

Walter E. Tipton, 39 years old, living on F street between Sixth and Seventh streets northwest, was charged at the Second Precinct with sale and possession of liquor following a raid on a second-floor business office on Fourteenth street between L and M streets northwest yesterday afternoon.

Several others were taken and charged with disorderly conduct, later being released on $5 collateral. The raid was conducted by Capt. O. T. Davis, with Privates E. L. Shelton and Henry Renke.

THE SENATE ON TRIAL.

After long study of the case and hours of argument, Senator Borah concluded a speech yesterday opposing the confirmation of John J. Parker as associate justice of the Supreme Court.

With all his research and all his art of oratory, Senator Borah failed to present a single valid reason why Judge Parker should not be confirmed.

Senator Borah placed the opposition to Judge Parker in its true light when he asserted that he would oppose Judge Parker just the same, even if that jurist did follow the decisions of the United States Supreme Court.

The attempt to bring out facts which would disqualify Judge Parker is a failure. Nothing has been brought out to show that he is not an able, conscientious, industrious, impartial judge, well qualified by character and attainments to serve on the Supreme Court bench.

Senator Borah's speech proves that the opposition to Judge Parker is in reality an attack upon the United States Supreme Court. In all probability any jurist nominated by President Hoover would have been subjected to attack. The object of the so-called "liberals" is to terrorize the Federal judiciary; to browbeat it into a surrender of the exercise of established judicial processes; and to constrain the Supreme Court to approve unconstitutional acts of Congress.

The "liberals" are in fact anything but liberal. Their assault upon the judicial power is a bigoted, intolerant, and wanton misuse of senatorial authority, which, if successful, would help to break down the rights of persons and property as safeguarded by the courts. The "liberals" seek to substitute for the judicial power the caprice and prejudice of politicians, who hope to curry favor with voters by offering demagogic nostrums in place of established law administered by impartial courts of justice.

The attack upon Charles E. Hughes clearly revealed the purpose of the politicians who are trying to make capital for themselves by intimidating the Nation's highest court. Fortunately the Senate refused to sanction this attack, and confirmed Mr. Hughes by a two-to-one vote. The country applauded the elevation of Mr. Hughes to the seat of Chief Justice of the United States. Now the bogus "liberals" renew the assault, taking as their opportunity the first appointment following that of Chief Justice Hughes. The appointee happens to be Judge Parker, of North Carolina. The attack would have been made no matter who had been nominated.

It is up to the majority of the Senate to smash this attempt to pervert the American system of government. The people expect the Senate to honor the Supreme Court and protect it against degradation. When a just and good judge like John J. Parker has been selected, and when examination has proved his fitness, the country expects him to be confirmed. The scheme to pack the Supreme Court with subservient and unscrupulous justices, through the rejection of all worthy nominees, is essentially base and unpatriotic. It can not be concealed any longer by the pretense that the nominee himself is unfit for the bench. Charles E. Hughes was fit, and John J. Parker is fit.

Senators worthy of their place will not be intimidated by the demand that a single class, or two classes, shall have the right to dictate the personnel of the Supreme Court. The time has not come when the "labor vote" or the "colored vote" or any other special "vote" must first give its advice and consent before the President and Senate can place a justice upon the bench of the Supreme Court. This is not a party or sectional question. It is a question of preserving the integrity and independence of the judiciary, upon which depend the rights of every citizen.

The Senate, and not Judge Parker, is on trial in this case.

THE ENFORCEMENT PROGRAM.

President Hoover's message to Congress calling for early action on the law enforcement bills is timely and important. The program for improving the facilities for law enforcement embraces five proposals, namely, the transfer of enforcement activities from the Treasury to the Department of Justice, the provision of increased Federal prison facilities and the establishment of a new and improved parole system, the unification of the border patrol, the relief of court congestion and the enactment of a prohibition enforcement law for the District of Columbia. The House has acted favorably on the transfer bill and the new prison bill. The Senate has not acted on any of the proposals.

The end of the session approaches. Considerable pressure will be brought to bear upon congressional leaders for an early adjournment. One-third of the Senate and the entire House are anxious to get started on the election campaigns. In the general anxiety to get to tending political fences, the legislative program may be sacrificed.

In his message, President Hoover says: "Our obedience to law, our law enforcement and judicial procedure our care and methods of handling prisoners in relation not only to the Federal Government but also to the State and municipal governments, are far from the standards that must be secured. Reforms are necessary if I am to perform the high duty which falls upon the executive of enforcement of the Federal laws."

President Hoover has not sidetracked the challenge that improved law enforcement depends upon the attitude of the Chief Executive. He is willing to bear the onus for any breakdown in law observance provided Congress makes available adequate legislation for relieving court congestion, improving the penal system and tightening up the enforcement machine. The necessity of prison legislation, above all, is undeniable.

CONGRESSIONAL COMITY.

The rules of congressional courtesy are emphatically upheld in a decision of Speaker Longworth. He has ruled that a resolution by Representative Luce, asking that a derogatory remark concerning the House uttered on the floor of the Senate by Senator George be stricken from the record, is not privileged. The House will not permit its members to defame or even criticize members of the other chamber.

On the other hand, senators are not bound by Jefferson's manual on comity between the two chambers, and, to quote a recent ruling by Vice President Curtis, "it is left to the discretion of senators as to what they may or may not say about the proceedings of the House." Speaker Longworth was no doubt anxious to set an example for the Senate, for when the Vice President made his recent ruling Senator Norris was criticizing the Speaker for keeping the Norris "lame duck" resolution on his desk. But no one will question the wisdom of Mr. Longworth's course.

Leaving congressional courtesy to the discretion of each individual would be all right if discretion were a universal quality. Unfortunately it is not. Some members of the Senate do not hesitate to cast aspersions upon their colleagues in the House. Senator George found the multitude of amendments with which the bill for relief of World War veterans was loaded an excuse for sarcasm. But some clever wit in the House might have been even more satirical as to the manner in which the Senate voted amendments to the immigration bill to favor every section of the country, and then, having given every one a campaign argument, returned the whole tangled mess back to the committee.

In view of the innumerable opportunities for members of each house to hold the other up to scorn, expediency demands that the sentiments of legislators be smothered under their breath. By upholding the tradition Speaker Longworth has dealt a stinging blow to the Senate. Is he not implying that business in the House would be completely disrupted if the members were allowed to speak their minds about the Senate?

DOGWOOD BLOSSOMS.

The Wildflower Preservation Society recently issued a bulletin on the dogwood, prepared by P. L. Ricker, that was distributed throughout the country. It says: "None of our flowering plants has been subject to such ruthless destruction as the dogwood. In most places during the flowering period, which varies from April to May, according to latitude, a majority of the automobiles returning home on a pleasant Sunday will be found loaded with the flowering branches. Often on reaching home the flowers are badly wilted, do not readily revive, and are then thrown away. Effective campaigns have been conducted in many places for the protection of the dogwood, using motion picture films, lantern slides and newspaper articles, cuts and cartoons."

The dogwood is now blossoming in the woods and parks on the outskirts of Washington and nearby Maryland and Virginia. Some individuals are tempted to mutilate the trees in order to take the flowers home. Those who are so inclined should bear in mind that the flowers wilt rapidly and are usually cast aside upon reaching home. The dogwood should be left in its natural haunts for all to enjoy.

COLUMBUS PRISON RIOTS.

The riots at the Ohio State Penitentiary present a most difficult situation. The routine of the prison was seriously disrupted by the calamity last week in which more than 300 convicts were burned to death or smothered by smoke. A feeling of unrest and rebellion has taken possession of the prisoners.

This attitude is encouraged to some extent by the sympathy of the public. The fact that the State has been negligent in providing prison facilities further stimulates resentment and mutiny. Discipline has been seriously weakened, and the prisoners are attempting to take advantage of the situation. They have been encouraged to aggressive action by the fact that shortly after the disastrous fire the prison officials yielded to some of their demands. Chances of a wholesale delivery are meager because of the reinforcement of prison guards by police and the Ohio National Guard. Nevertheless, another catastrophe may occur unless the rioting and defiance of the prisoners is checked.

Gov. Cooper has issued orders that discipline must be restored immediately. The fact that the prison has been the scene of a holocaust is no reason why discipline should be relaxed to encourage further trouble. It is absolutely essential to restore and maintain order within the prison walls, and the State authorities sense their responsibility in this matter. The danger is that public sentiment will not support vigorous measures to bring the prisoners to terms, because of the widespread sympathy for those who went through the fire. Such an attitude is wrong. Discipline and order are necessary for the prisoners' own welfare as well as for the public safety.

The pressure that has been brought to bear upon Warden Thomas has not improved the situation. Criticism has been heaped upon prison officials because of the disaster, and the prisoners, who by nature are antagonistic to their keepers, are quick to make the most of it. An investigation of the fire has been made, and every one at fault will no doubt be dealt with according to his degree of negligence. But in the meantime the public would do well to give wholehearted support to the authorities in restoring order.

8-INCH vs. 6-INCH CRUISERS IN TRADE WARFARE

By Commander HOLLOWAY H. FROST, U. S. N.

Now we have come to the analysis of the 8-inch and 6-inch cruisers in the attack on and the defense of oversea trade. The Hawkins class, which initiated the 10,000-ton 8-inch cruiser type, was built specially for the defense of British merchant shipping against German cruisers. It would have been equally effective for attacking German trade—if there had been any to attack.

For eight 8-inch cruisers we could have eleven of the 7,400-ton 6-inch type. Numbers are, therefore, in favor of the small cruisers. But as attack on trade is usually carried on by single ships outside of supporting distance from each other, numbers are of less importance than in the case of scouting operations, where support is quickly available. The characteristics of the individual ship are of primary importance.

Both types of cruisers have great endurance. The 8-inch has a slight advantage in this effect, but it is believed that the 6-inch cruisers will be able to maintain themselves at sea for long periods by fueling from prizes or oilers sent to rendezvous at sea well off the trade routes. The Emden was able to refuel at will from captured colliers and it is much simpler to take on oil than coal.

The larger cruiser would have six planes in use or reserve against four for the smaller vessel. Planes were first used by the German auxiliary cruiser Wolf in trade warfare and proved extremely useful. They permit the cruiser to locate enemy ships and convoys and either attack or avoid action as is most desirable. The greater number of planes carried by the 8-inch type gives it an important advantage. The large cruiser, knowing that it can defeat any single ship but a battle cruiser, will be operated with greater boldness than the small cruiser. The cruisers of the War of 1812 demonstrate the weight of this moral advantage.

To reduce our analysis to concrete facts, let us assume that an 8-inch and a 6-inch cruiser put to sea to attack trade and that each encounters the same ships:

First, an armed or unarmed merchant vessel. Either cruiser will be able to overtake and defeat such ships without appreciable injury to itself.

Second, an auxiliary cruiser on patrol. Either cruiser would be able to overtake this ship with ease. The 8-inch cruiser would, of course, make short work of her. The 6-inch cruiser would have to engage more cautiously, but with a broadside of nine guns, capable of over 20,000 yards range, spotted by aircraft and controlled by director fire, there can be no doubt as to the ultimate result.

Third, an auxiliary cruiser with a convoy of merchant ships. The 8-inch cruiser would be able to sink the auxiliary cruiser quickly and then could capture one or more of the merchant ships under her escort. The 6-inch cruiser would be so delayed by the resistance of the auxiliary cruiser that the merchant vessel probably could get away. Whether her planes could stop the fleeing merchant ships and hold them until the cruiser came up is an interesting point of international law.

Fourth, a 6-inch cruiser on patrol. The 8-inch cruiser would chase away the enemy ship, which could probably make good its escape. The 6-inch cruiser would have an even fight.

Fifth, a 6-inch cruiser with a convoy. The 8-inch cruiser would be able to destroy the enemy vessel and possibly capture some of the convoy. The 6-inch cruiser would have an even fight.

Sixth, an 8-inch cruiser on patrol. The 8-inch cruiser could fight on even terms. The 6-inch cruiser would be thankful to get away.

Seventh, an 8-inch cruiser with a convoy. The 8-inch cruiser could fight on even terms. The 6-inch cruiser would have to leave the convoy well alone during good visibility, but could attack during low visibility or at night.

Eighth, a battle cruiser. Both our cruisers would be glad to escape.

This analysis demonstrates that the 8-inch cruiser has a decided advantage over the 6-inch cruiser in both attack on and defense of trade. It is estimated that a given tonnage of 8-inch cruisers is superior to an equal tonnage of 6-inch cruisers by about 20 per cent. It must be remembered, however, that small cruisers are by no means useless in attacking trade. The remarkable successes of the very small 4-inch cruisers, Emden and Karlsruhe, and even the auxiliary cruisers, Moewe and Wolf, demonstrated their value in such operations.

Our conclusions may be summarized as follows: First, a given tonnage of 8-inch cruisers is slightly more effective than an equal tonnage of 6-inch cruisers in scouting operation. In battle, on the other hand, the 6-inch cruiser is more effective. In trade warfare, the 8-inch cruiser has a decided advantage. In all forms of cruiser warfare we consider that the 8-inch cruiser has an advantage of about 10 per cent. Thus, while the 8-inch vessel is considerably superior in efficiency, the 6-inch cruiser is also a very useful and necessary type for our Navy.

We must remember that, if we are limited to fifteen 8-inch cruisers, Great Britain is also, and two of her fifteen are smaller ships, carrying only six guns each. Japan includes in her 8-inch tonnage, four 7,100-ton six-gun ships, which are generally rated as an overgunned and not highly effective design. Our future 6-inch cruisers would probably be a match for them.

It may be interesting to compare our future 7,400-ton, 32-knot, nine-gun, well armored 6-inch cruiser with the 6-inch cruisers of other navies. Great Britain has stated her intention to have fifty cruisers. When her fifteen 8-inch ships are subtracted, there remain only 192,000 tons for the thirty-five 6-inch vessels. This works out at about 5,500 tons per ship. For that size they will do well to get a broadside of six guns, 30 knots speed and one plane. Thus our new 6-inch cruisers will have a very decided individual advantage over them, almost equal to the advantage the 8-inch cruisers will have over our 6-inch type.

In 1936 Japan will still have thirteen cruisers of less than 5,200 tons. These have a broadside of only six 5.5-inch guns. Thus they are manifestly inferior to our future 6-inch cruisers and even to the ten Omaha class, which have superior speed and a broadside of eight 6-inch guns.

While we made a very large concession in limiting the number of our 8-inch cruisers to fifteen, or eighteen with very important restrictions and reduction of tonnage—we can still build very powerful 6-inch cruisers with great endurance and good speed. These vessels will hold a marked superiority over other 6-inch cruisers for many years and will be a most effective addition to our Navy.

We do not feel that our national security has been seriously threatened by the substitution of eleven 7,400-ton 6-inch cruisers for eight 10,000-ton 8-inch cruisers. Viewed from another angle, we believe that fifteen 8-inch and twenty-six 6-inch cruisers, totaling 339,000 tons as permitted by the treaty, are certainly not inferior to twenty-three 8-inch and ten 6-inch cruisers, totaling 300,000 tons, as authorized by our present building program.

You Can't Violate the Rights of Man by Killing Snakes.

By ROBERT QUILLEN

SOME weeks ago the Senate of the United States discussed the importation of obscene literature and the advisability of a censorship.

There was, of course, the usual "hokum" for the voters back home—one group being determined to "protect the purity of American womanhood from the wickedness of Europe," and the other equally determined to "preserve the right of freedom."

The absurdity of the first proposition lies in the fact that America now produces pornographic literature in sufficient volume to corrupt her young people without alien assistance, and consumes it too eagerly to justify a pose of superior righteousness.

The second proposition is made equally absurd by the fact that the right of freedom is only for those who are capable of self-government—that is, for those who have the desire and the strength of mind and character to be decent.

No sane person contends that the inalienable right of freedom gives irresponsible children, half-wits and perverts the privilege of doing as they please without restraint or hindrance.

Books offered as evidence in the Senate debate included such titles as "How to seduce a young girl" and "How a young girl can seduce boys."

These were imports, but similar filth is produced in America and literature only one degree less vile is offered openly on news stands.

The suppression of such indecency does not involve the freedom of citizens or the press.

As there are certain rights a majority can not take away, so there are certain wrongs, offensive to the common conscience of mankind, that no interpretation of freedom can justify.

It is an accepted principle of democracy that things harmful by nature and in no way beneficial must be suppressed for the common good.

No advocate of freedom defends the sale of narcotics, because they do incalculable harm and in the hands of laymen can do no good.

No advocate of freedom can reasonably defend the sale of obscene and indecent literature, for it serves no useful purpose; normal people have no desire for it; and its only possible influence is evil.

To suppress it is no more a violation of liberty than the suppression of an evil smell, the prohibition of spitting or the confinement of lepers.

Censorship is not aggressive, but defensive, and there must be censorship while there is indecency to censor.

A free man has a right to drink dirty water, but he has no right to befoul water used by the public.

THE ONCE OVER

By H. I. PHILLIPS

Mr. Hoover Declines a Dial Phone.

Dial telephones are being installed in Washington but President Hoover has declined them in the White House. The President acts wisely. He has troubles enough without being forced to pick numbers out of a finger-trap in order to get somebody on the telephone.

* * * *

The dial system is a clever invention and no dunce devised it, but what makes the dial phone unpopular is that if a man gets a wrong number he has only himself to blame.

* * * *

If he gets profane he is only razzing himself and if he has trouble with a call and demands the complaint operator, all he can tell her is that he is butter-fingered and has too many thumbs.

* * * *

When you want a telephone number you want a telephone number, not a parlor game. The average subscriber is not disposed to regard telephoning as a sport linked up with Tiddle-de-Winks, Johnny Stir the Soup and Button, Button, Who's Got the Wrong Number. He likes to feel he is just a telephone user, not a magician, miracle man or anagram expert.

* * * *

The dial phone is a fearful and wonderful device. It consists of a disc with letters and numbers on it, over which is a wheel with a lot of mouse-holes in it. Anybody can play it with a little patience and a quick eye.

Here's how it's done, assuming, for instance, that you wish to get Bohunkus 8195:

1. Look for the hole over "B." Stab it with the index finger and bring the wheel around to the left until you hear the Arlington time signals. Withdraw the finger and let the wheel snap back.

2. Look for the letter "O" and, being a little inaccurate on the trigger, stab the letter "K," "M" or "P."

3. Try to find the letter "H." Come to the conclusion there is no "H" and condemn the telephone company. Look again and discover "H" is right under your nose. Twist it around (the wheel, not your nose) until the bell rings.

4. Now find the figure "8." Stick your thumb in the hole above it and try to think what to do next.

5. Decide to read the instructions in front of the phone book.

6. Discover that phone book is on a table 9 feet away.

7. Try to think of a way to walk across room and get phone book without taking finger out of the dial.

8. Abandon idea.

9. Decide to summon secretary and have him either get the book or hold finger in dial.

10. Pound on table for secretary.

11. Ask him whether he would prefer to bring you the phone book or hold his finger in dial while you get it.

12. Argue the point a while, but make him get the book.

It's just as well that President Hoover is not to have one. If the telephone company insists on installing one in official Washington, make the vice president take it. He hasn't anything else to do.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.

Praises Henry Ford and Tom Edison for Bettering Conditions in America.

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: Your article in the Sunday issue in regard to Mr. Henry Ford gaining so much prestige in Europe was read with much interest. You ask if it is Mr. Ford's personality or his mechanics which gains the prestige? I want to say that I fail to see how any person who has such human methods of dealing with the public in general could ever fail to gain prestige. Mr. Ford has always looked on the human side of every deal he has ever transacted with the human element of this good old earth and has always treated every one as he would like to be treated himself. Both Mr. Ford and Thomas A. Edison have made a huge success of everything they ever undertook. They are two outstanding men among citizens of this country who can never be praised too much for what they have done to better the conditions of every laboring man and women in the United States. EDWARD FELKER.

Can a Man Drink Half a Gallon of Whisky a Day?

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: I am not a drinking man, but do associate with some gentlemen who do drink. Therefore, I think I have some knowledge of a man's capacity. I have been on parties where there were eight men. They would not all, in several hours, consume more than half a gallon. The next day they would not want to look at it.

In your issue of Saturday, April 26, you quote Senator Robsion, of Kentucky, as saying, "There were 20,000,000 people in the United States who each consumed 150 gallons of liquor a year." I have never in my life heard a more ridiculous or absurd statement. If Senator Robsion can name five people in the United States who can consume a half a gallon of whisky for each day in a year he should have them presented with a congressional medal of honor. They deserve it. COMMON SENSE.

A Little Job Outlined by Mr. Russell as a Means of Making Everybody Happy.

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: In order to straighten out this controversy affecting the Federal Courts, the labor unions and the rights of the States, their measures should be taken:

1—Repeal the Sherman anti-trust act, under which the Red Jacket injunction was granted.

2—Repeal that provision of the Federal judiciary act which confers upon Federal Courts jurisdiction in cases involving purely State law when there is diversity in the State citizenship of the parties under which the Federal Court exercised power to issue the injunction to protect the so-called "yellow dog" contracts.

3—Repeal the fourteenth amendment which has debased the States of the Union into satrapies of the Federal judges.

Opportunity for Women to Acquire Political Information From Government Experts.

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: I would like to call the attention of the women of Washington to the unusual opportunity offered them for political understanding in the recent political school held by the Republican women in the Willard Hotel.

Leaders of national responsibility in the various Government departments prepared lectures for the school with the aim of teaching. Only in the National Capital could such a list of speakers be gathered without tremendous expense. It was a privilege to women seeking understanding and yet the small attendance was a surprise.

Perhaps this letter may assist others in similar future endeavors.

THORA HINSHAW SEATON

Here's a Constitutional Reform to Which All Radicals Can Repair.

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: It is respectfully suggested that a movement be launched for the amendment of that part of our Constitution which provides that the members of the Supreme Court shall be appointed by the President, with the advice and consent of the Senate, to read: "The members of the Supreme Court shall be appointed by the President, with the advice and consent of Senator Borah and other senators, if any, who would ignore the legal ability, character and fitness of the appointee in favor of one who would, if appointed and confirmed, decide all cases along the lines satisfactory to these said senators."

THE GOOD LIFE.

Oh, whether you dwell in a cottage or a castle on top of a hill,
There are hunger and thirst of the spirit that are certain to follow you still,
There is pain that you can't get away from and loss that you'll have to endure,
For life doles out anguish and heartaches which money and fame can not cure.

Oh, whether you're master, or toiler, or rich man, or poor, 'tis the same.
You'll never know joy if you're friendless; you'll never be happy in shame,
Food hunger seems trifling compared with the hunger of men for respect,
For there's nothing that fortune can offer to pay for the name that is wrecked.

Oh, the good life is builded on courage and honor and kindness and cheer,
It gathers its friends where it finds them and clings to them year after year,
And whether in cottage or castle, the true man may chance to abide,
There shall come those dark days of disaster when he must have a friend at his side.

GANDHI DENOUNCES BRITISH DICTATION

Revival of Censorship of Native Press Rapped by Leader.

SON TO BE SENTENCED

Bombay, April 29 (A.P.).—With unrest apparently slumbering in India today, no riots or sensational incidents being reported, Mahatma Gandhi took occasion at Bilimoria to denounce "British dictation" in the course of a statement on revival of the native press censorship law by the viceroy.

"I hope that tame submission to dictation from our British rulers has gone forever," he said. "Whether we realize it or not, we have been living under a veiled form of martial law for some days past."

Mr. Gandhi said new provisions of the revived press censorship act were more severe than the original. He is understood to have told publishers of his newspaper, Young India, to let the government seize the press rather than deposit security demanded for permission to continue publication.

Troop Trouble Investigated.

Reported disaffection among the government's native troops at Peshawar, on which an official statement was issued, still remains somewhat of a mystery. An inquiry is under way and details will probably not be published until it is over.

The statement merely said that two platoons of the Second Battalion of the Eighteenth Royal Garhwal Rifles had not performed satisfactorily in the recent rioting at Peshawar, and that they were being transferred to Abbottabad pending investigation.

The strength of the civil disobedience campaign was indicated today in the reelection of J. M. Sen Gupta as Mayor of Calcutta for the fifth time. Sen Gupta is now serving six months rigorous imprisonment on charges of sedition and conspiracy growing out of the Gandhi campaign.

Sentence for Gandhi's Son.

The mahatma's son, Davi Das Gandhi, pleaded guilty to a charge of sedition at Delhi today and will be sentenced tomorrow. In a statement he said that "the moral wrong done my country by Great Britain has no parallel in history and even surpasses the material wrong which requires to be declared from the housetops."

The women volunteers in the Gandhi campaign who are fighting intoxicating liquor and foreign cloth, gained a convert today when they persuaded a Bombay saloon keeper to close his place.

The government's security requirement for papers coming under the censorship is 50,000 rupees (about $18,000), and a committee representing various Indian newspapers in Delhi decided that after tomorrow no papers would be published until further notice.

News organizations were requested to discontinue their services.

Magazine Raid Reported.

Calcutta, April 29 (A.P.).—It was learned today that a party of Indians had attempted to raid the artillery magazine at Barrackpore, 15 miles north of Fort William, Calcutta, yesterday. Shots were exchanged, but no one was injured.

The natives drove up in an automobile in front of the magazine and fired four shots at British sentries at the gates. The sentries returned the fire and the natives hastily beat a retreat. All the shots went wild.

Howell Bill Vote Is Due Tomorrow

Senate Group to Ballot on Proposed Dry Law for Capital.

The Senate District committee will take a vote on the Howell enforcement bill at a meeting tomorrow afternoon, Chairman Capper announced yesterday.

The bill, which was drafted by Senator Robert G. Howell (Republican), Nebraska, would give all local policemen the powers of prohibition agents, and would authorize them to raid private dwellings that have been visited by bootleggers.

The Prohibition Bureau has indorsed the bill in its entirety, but the Department of Justice has disapproved the home raid provision. At a hearing last week, Washington society leaders denounced the bill.

Crew of British Ship Jailed Under Dry Law

St. George, S. C., April 29 (A.P.).—Four members of the crew of the British schooner Dorothy and Autrey, captured when it entered Winyah Bay, at Georgetown March 15, loaded with 800 cases of fine liquors, today were under sentence of six months each in the Dorchester County Jail. The men pleaded guilty to violation of the prohibition law in Federal Court at Florence yesterday.

As the result of their appearance in court, an indictment has been returned against Andrew Kar, Henry C. and Edgar Sanchez, all of Georgia; S. P. Sirtle, of Nova Scotia, and Cleve Hayward, of Bermuda, by whom the four men alleged they were employed and whom authorities believe to be principals in a rumrunning conspiracy.

Wickersham Says Public Is Dissatisfied With Law

Crime Board Chairman Takes Cognizance of Unrest.

Chattanooga, Tenn., April 29 (A.P.).—George W. Wickersham, chairman of the Federal Commission on Law Enforcement and Observance, tonight took cognizance of a "general dissatisfaction" with the "uncertainties and complexities of our laws." He declared, however, that the dissatisfaction with the law is "perhaps less marked than is discontent with our system of administering justice."

He told the University of Chattanooga's first annual institute of justice that no satisfactory results could be expected from working of State judical systems "in which judges are elected after nomination through popular direct primary." He deplored the fact that many States have taken away from the trial judge "the right to instruct the jury as to the law and advise them in respect of the facts."

"In many States," he said, "the effect of the laws is to make it practically impossible to secure a jury of intelligent and experienced citizens." Turning to laws themselves, he said:

"It is hardly an exaggeration to state that comparatively few statutes of American States remove uncertainty in the laws, at least until their meaning has been defined by judical decision; while it is undoubted that the biennial crop of new laws poured out from all legislatures in all States, plus enactments of the Federal Congress, greatly add to the uncertainties and complexities of our law and tend materially to weaken respect for the law in general on the part of the average citizen."

FEDERAL AGENCIES TO WAR ON LAWLESS GANGS IN U. S.

ury to the Justice Department and bills to authorize construction of a prison in a Northeastern State and a reformatory west of the Mississippi, are still in Senate committees.

Attorney General Mitchell disclosed yesterday that the Northeastern penitentiary would be built in the vicinity of Erie, Pa.

President Hoover made it plain in his message that he considered the overcrowded penal situation as serious. Also it is known that he is extremely anxious that means be resorted to that would remove causes for disturbances by Federal prisoners.

Mr. Mitchell said his department was cooperating in every way possible with local authorities in a campaign to suppress organized criminal gangs.

Cooperation is Promised.

"Everybody knows that the gangster and racketeer violate both local and federal laws of all sorts and we are working out the greatest possible measure of cooperation with local authorities to put down such gangs. We have always cooperated with local officers, but we are trying to stimulate it."

Mr. Mitchell said that on April 23 there were 11,985 prisoners in Federal institutions which had a capacity of 6,946 and on last January 15 a total of 13,565 Federal prisoners in county and State jails, making a total increase of Federal prisoners in the last nine months of more than 6,000.

The Attorney General said congestion had been growing for years and that various reasons had been advanced as its cause. In this connection he said he believed that three things—increased activity of prosecutors, increased severity of sentences by judges and increased activity of police branches of the Government—had brought about increase in the present population.

He said that three remedies for court congestion had been advanced. First, that United States commissioners try minor cases; second, that Congress authorize the appointment of inferior Federal judges, and third, that there be a general increase in Federal judges.

Relief by Congress Welcomed.

"The Government is willing and will be glad to accept any form of relief that Congress offers," the Attorney General said. "We have got to have relief in our courts and any method will be gratefully accepted."

Mr. Mitchell said that increased activity of enforcement officers of the country and the prosecuting branch of the Government promised only further congestion for the courts and prisons.

"We could jam the courts to the guards in no time at all if all of the police agencies of the Government proceeded at full power in making arrests," Mr. Mitchell said. "Our Bureau of Investigation and the police section of the Prohibition Bureau when transferred here would be able to do this in no time."

DAY IN CONGRESS

SENATE.

Met at 12 noon and adjourned at 4:35 p. m. to 12 noon today.

Continued debate on the nomination of Judge John J. Parker to be associate justice of the Supreme Court with Senator Borah (Republican), Idaho, opposing confirmation, and Senator Overman (Democrat), North Carolina, defending it.

Finance committee appointed a subcommittee to hold hearings, beginning Thursday on the House bill liberalizing veterans' legislation.

Commerce committee announced that hearings on the $111,000,000 omnibus rivers and harbors bill, passed by the House, will begin next Friday.

Chairman Blaine of the committee investigating charges of fraud in connection with postoffice building leases, said he expected active assistance from Comptroller General McCarl.

Lobby committee deferred until today examination of William H. Stayton, chairman of the board of the Association Against the Prohibition Amendment.

HOUSE.

Met at 12 noon and adjourned at 3:30 p. m., to 12 noon today.

By a vote of 190 to 61, passed and sent to the Senate Williamson bill carrying out President Hoover's plan to consolidate Government agencies handling veterans' affairs.

Military committee reached an agreement on the tentative draft of a new Muscle Shoals bill.

John K. Ottley, banker, of Atlanta, Ga., appeared before the banking committee and declared that the system of banking with which the rural population of his district had to deal "has failed" and said that branch banking should be permitted within Federal Reserve districts.

G. T. Bryan, secretary of the Oklahoma State Conservation Commission, appearing before the flood control committee, indorsed the reservoir plan for flood control of Mississippi River tributaries as provided in the Sears bill.

Representative Jones (Democrat), Texas, introduced a bill asking authority for the Secretary of Agriculture to investigate the handling of cottonseed and to establish standard specifications of cottonseed grades.

Representative Selvig (Republican), Minnesota, presented a resolution of the Minnesota delegation to the irrigation committee indorsing the Smith bill to provide tax assessment relief for irrigation districts.

Plane From S.S. Bremen Lands Mail in New York

New York, April 29 (A.P.).—An airplane catapulted from the North German Lloyd liner Bremen 350 miles at sea landed four bags of mail today approximately twelve hours before the ship was due to dock.

The plane, resuming ship-to-shore air-mail service from the liner inaugurated last year, alighted in the harbor 3½ hours after it left the deck of the ship. It taxied to the end of the North German Lloyd pier; and within five minutes the mail bags, containing about 1,000 letters and postcards, were on the way in a taxicab to the Brooklyn postoffice.

INSURANCE RESERVE LEGISLATION SOUGHT

Commissioners Ask Congress for Law Requiring Full Funds Be Kept.

EMERGENCY IS CLAIMED

Legislation requiring life insurance companies operating in the District to maintain a legal reserve on life insurance policies was urged on Congress yesterday by the District Commissioners.

"A legal reserve," the Commissioners said in identical letters signed by Commissioner Luther H. Reichelderfer and sent to the House and Senate District committees, "is an important as well as a necessary element in the contract of life insurance.

"Its existence is the only assurance that the insured has that his contract will be satisfied at maturity. To realize that there is no authority in law requiring the maintenance of such a fund is but a harbinger of chaos so far as the insured is concerned.

"The bill proposes to grant relief in this connection and the Commissioners believe that the measure is an emergency one requiring prompt action."

The bill would add a new section, 648-a, to the District code, providing for a valuation of insurance companies annually by the superintendent of insurance and setting forth the basis for the maintenance of a reserve by the companies to meet payments when they fall due.

The question was brought to issue by Thomas M. Baldwin, jr., superintendent of insurance, who suspended the license of the Federal Life Insurance Co., for alleged impairment of its capital. The company appealed and the matter was referred to Corporation Counsel William W. Bride, who reported that under existing District law there is no authority to compel insurance companies to maintain a reserve.

A general revision of the insurance laws of the District has been pending for several years but has made little progress.

17 Scottish Rite Degrees Granted

Higher Ratings Conferred Upon Candidates in Colorful Rites.

Colorful ceremonies accompanied the conferring of degrees on two classes of Scottish Rite Free Masons last night at the Scottish Rite Cathedral. The ninth degree, known as "Elu of the Nine," was conferred on a class of eight candidates, and the tenth degree, designated as "Elu of the Fifteen," was bestowed on a class of nine.

The two classes elevated to higher degrees of the order comprise part of the 1930 spring class of the Ancient and Accepted Scottish Rite of Freemasonry. Other degrees will be conferred during May. The class of the ninth degree was made up of Charles W. Garlock, Melville D. Hensey, Hugh Kneipp, Frank M. Graham, Christian Hansen, George P. Grove, Harry Beach and Austin J. Leister.

The following comprised the tenth degree class: John S. Tassin, William J. Hope, Melville D. Hensey, Hilliard C. Meyers, Ralph H. Gauker, George P. Grove, Harry Beach, George B. McGinty and James A. Wetmore.

New Dry Chief Seen For New Jersey Office

Newark, N. J., April 29 (A.P.).—The Newark Ledger said today that Alexander McPhee, of Philadelphia, will be appointed prohibition administrator for New Jersey, succeeding William J. Calhoun, who was described as having gone to Washington to wind up his official affairs.

McPhee was represented as having confirmed the report he was being considered for the post and as having said he had discussed the appointment with Dr. James H. Doran, prohibition commissioner. McPhee now is assistant administrator in the Eastern and Middle Judicial Districts of Pennsylvania.

State Prison Growth Small.

Cheyenne, Wyo., April 29 (A.P.).—Increase in the population of the Wyoming State Penitentiary in 10 years was only 23, census returns announced today showed. In 1920 there were 335 prisoners. This year the inmates number 358.

Wind Halts Flight Of Goldsborough

Aviator Seeking Mark for Junior Transcontinental Hop Delayed.

Tulsa, Okla., April 29 (A.P.).—Rough weather today interrupted the schedule of Frank Goldsborough, 19-year-old flier, who left New York Monday in an attempt to establish a junior transcontinental flight record of three days.

Goldsborough arrived here at 2:45 p. m. after bucking high winds on a hop from Springfield, Mo., and decided to remain overnight in the face of a gale from the south which at one time this afternoon registered 61 miles an hour. The young pilot had planned to reach El Paso, Tex., tonight.

In view of today's curtailed flight it was uncertain whether he would be able to reach the Pacific Coast within the three day limit he had set. However, he said he would take off at daybreak tomorrow and believed that with good weather there was a chance of reaching Los Angeles in one day.

Raskob and His Family Are Received by Pope

Vatican City, April 29 (A.P.).—John J. Raskob, American financier, and his family were received in audience by Pope Pius today. They were presented by M. Spellman, of the Boston archdiocese.

The pontiff was pleased to learn that Mr. Raskob had attended the consecration of M. Pizzardo, assistant papal secretary of state, in St. Peter's last Sunday, and imparted the apostolic benediction to the group.

Test on Dry Laws Faces Democrats of Michigan

Detroit, Mich., April 29 (A.P.).—An attempt to define the attitude of Michigan Democrats on the prohibition question will be made at a preprimary convention to be held at Jackson on May 24.

The call for the conference, issued today by Henry H. Heinmann, chairman of the State central committee, presents a report of a special committee which offers four platform planks on the subject.

Census Dodgers Get New Warning

Procrastinators Are Subject to Fine, Jail Term or Both.

A final warning is being issued by census officials to persons who refuse to be enumerated that if they continue to refuse furnishing the necessary information that they will be subject to a fine of $100, spending 60 days in jail, or both.

J. Sterling Moran, supervisor of the Census in the District of Columbia, announced yesterday that he knows the identity of a number of persons who have refused point blank to meet the requests of census enumerators. There are a number of others, Mr. Moran said, who persist in sending a message to enumerators to "come back tomorrow." The procrastinators are to be considered in the same light as those who refuse to be included in the census, Mr. Moran said.

Apartment house residents are among those who are giving most of the trouble, according to Mr. Moran. Many of these persons elude the enumerators by sending word that they are busy today and will see the enumerator tomorrow. When tomorrow comes, the case is the same, Supervisor Moran reported.

Judge Dismisses $500,000 Film Suit

Marine Officer's Action in Plagiarism Case Is Called Off.

Suit for $500,000 brought against the Metro-Goldwyn Pictures Corporation by Col. Edward W. Creecy, of the Marine Corps, for alleged plagiarism of a scenario in the filming of "Tell It to the Marines," was dismissed yesterday in District of Columbia Supreme Court. The action was taken on motion of the plaintiff after Justice Alfred A. Wheat had quashed service of subpenaes made on a Washington representative of a subsidiary of the corporation.

Col. Creecy claimed that the picture which starred Lon Chaney was based in part on his scenario, "Devil Dogs." The scenario was rejected, it was alleged, but the corporation paid the officer $500 for the idea and agreed that his title and his plot would not be used.

Attorneys, Wolf, Wolf, Fleishman & Brylawski, appearing for the corporation, pointed out to the court that the suit was directed against the Metro-Goldwyn Pictures Corporation, but that the Metro-Goldwyn Production Corporation had produced the film and that service had been made on a representative of the Metro-Goldwyn Distributors Corporation.

CONVICT SHIP

The Oldest Ship Afloat

Built in India 1790

This Wonderful Vessel Has Made History During Three Centuries

She marked the beginning and the end of England's monstrous penal system.

She has held lurid horror and dreadful iniquities beside which even the terrible stories of the Black Hole of Calcutta and the Spanish Inquisition pale into insignificance.

She is the oldest ship in the world and the only convict ship left afloat of that dreadful "Fleet of Ocean Hells," which sailed the Seven Seas in 1790 A. D.

She is unchanged after all these years, nothing being omitted but her human freight and their suffering from the cruelties and barbarities practiced upon them.

Aboard her are now shown, in their original state, all the airless dungeons and condemned cells, the whipping post, the manacles, the branding irons, the punishment balls, the leaden-tipped cat-o'-nine tails, the coffin bath and the other fiendish inventions of man's brutality to his fellow man.

From keel to topmast, she cries aloud the greatest lesson the world has ever known in the history of human progress.

The Convict Ship "Success" is the Greatest and Most Extraordinary Exhibition That Ever Visited America. It Is a Theme for the Pen of a Dante. When You Walk Her Decks, Grooved with the Chains of Her Miserable Victims, the Past Will Speak to You Its Sad and Mournful Lesson. But You Will Leave Feeling Better Because You Live in a Better Age.

Betty Thorpe Wed to British Diplomat Here

Debutante Has Brilliant Church Ceremony and Reception.

By JEAN ELIOT.

OF interest in two countries was the marriage yesterday of Miss Betty Thorpe, daughter of Col. and Mrs. George C. Thorpe, and Mr. Arthur J. Pack, Commercial Secretary of the British Embassy. The ceremony, which was solemnized in Epiphany Church at 3:30 o'clock, was attended by a brilliant company, including the British Ambassador and Lady Lindsay, the entire staff of the embassy, the Diplomatic Corps and large groups from official and resident society.

A reception at the home of Col. and Mrs. Thorpe, 3218 Woodley road, followed the wedding, the diplomatic group and a few intimate friends having been invited for "immediately after the ceremony" and a larger company for 5 o'clock. This arrangement was made for the greater comfort of the guests.

The announcement of her engagement to Mr. Pack came at the close of Miss Thorpe's brilliant debutante season. She was formally presented to society last autumn and has been recognized as a beauty and a belle. Mr. Pack is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Pack, of London. He has a distinguished war record, served with the British Military Mission to the United States in 1917-18 and has been on duty at the British Embassy in Washington since 1925.

Epiphany Church was decorated for the ceremony with feathery Australian ferns and Easter lilies, the British flag and the Stars and Stripes flanking the altar and contributing vivid color to the picture. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dr. ZeBarney Phillips, the rector.

Entering the church on the arm of her father, who gave her in marriage, the bride was attended by her sister, Miss Jane Thorpe, as maid of honor, and she had her cousin, Mrs. Christian Lauriths Christensen, as matron of honor. The group of bonny bridesmaids included Miss Gertrude Lamont, Miss Edith Eustis, Miss Katherine Carlisle, Miss Helen Gray and Miss Katherine Phillips.

Capt. J. T. Godfrey, Assistant Naval Attache of the British Embassy, was best man. The list of ushers included Mr. A. R. Dew, Mr. Michael Wright and Mr. Harold Sims, of the embassy staff; Mr. William J. B. Macauley, of the Irish Free State Legation, and Mr. Thomas A. Stone, of the Canadian Legation.

Miss Thorpe had chosen a gown of eggshell taffeta combined with beautiful old rose point lace, and her veil of creamy rose point was bound tightly over her brown hair and held in place with a chaplet of orange blossoms. The gown was a high-waisted model, with the long train cut in one with the graceful full skirt. The decolletage was edged with lace and long cuffs finished the sleeves. She carried a shower bouquet of white roses and orchids.

The maid and matron of honor wore peach-tinted frocks, and the bridesmaids delphinium blue, their gowns fashioned alike of chiffon with full skirts and with narrow ribbon girdles defining the high waist line. They all wore picture hats of blue stray trimmed in peach velvet ribbon, with slippers of satin to match their gowns. They carried arm bouquets of delphinium and La France roses.

For the reception the house was decorated with pink azeleas and La France roses. The French doors of the drawing room were open into the garden, where frappe was served under a gayly striped marquee.

Col. and Mrs. Thorpe received with the bridal party, the latter wearing a gown of beige lace with a beige horsehair hat and a corsage bouquet of Talisman roses.

Noted among the guests were Mrs. Gann, sister of the Vice President; the Mexican Ambassador and Senora de Tellez, the Italian Ambassador and Donna Antonietta de Martino, the British Ambassador and Lady Lindsay, the Minister of Norway and Mme. Bachke, the Minister of Austria and Mme. Prochnik, the Minister of Czechoslovakia and Mme. Veverka, the Minister of Canada and Mrs. Massey, the Minister of South Africa and Mrs. Louw, the Attorney General and Mrs. Mitchell, the Secretary of Commerce and Mrs. Lamont, the Secretary of Labor and Mrs. Davis.

Also Senator and Mrs. Hendrick Shipstead, Senator and Mrs. Thomas D. Schall, Senator and Mrs. Arthur H. Vanderberg, Senator and Mrs. John B. Kendrick, Sir John Joyce Broderick and Lady Broderick, Countess Cornelia Szechenyi, Assistant Secretary of State and Mrs. Wilbur J. Carr, Mrs. Robert Hinckley, Judge and Mrs. Samuel Jordan Graham and many of the group of debutantes with whom the bride was closely associated.

Mr. Pack and his bride will spend their honeymoon in Europe. They will be abroad for five months, returning to Washington in October. They will make visits in England, Scotland and on the Continent. For her traveling costume Mrs. Pack wore a smart ensemble of chartreuse green duvetyn trimmed in mole, with a blouse of glod metal cloth. Her hat was a close fitting turban of chartreuse and mole ribbon.

Mirrors Will Tell on an Uncomfortable Mattress

Beauty specialists say that "after twenty-five years, the Anglo-Saxon face begins to record the marks of time."

But neither crow's feet nor wrinkles mar the lovely skin of many gloriously young women of forty or more. Their secret is simple. Proper care of the complexion plus sound, relaxing sleep. They have found that sleep is beauty's greatest aid.

Animation in the day time causes wrinkles that a good night's sleep will erase. But beauty sleep should not be the fitful rest that hard-packed mattresses cause. It should be upon a buoyant mattress that cushions every curve and croons taut nerves to rest. Hundreds of Washington women have told us that they never rested so well, as upon the new mattresses which we make from their old ones.

The work is done in one day at a cost of only $4 to $9. Phone National 9410 and our representative will call with samples of ticking from which to make your selection. Mattresses, Box Springs and Pillows renovated or made to order at factory prices.

BOTANICAL GARDENS' NEW AREA IS VALUED

Land Wanted for Addition to Site Worth $833,220, Jury Decides.

16 PARCELS INCLUDED

Sixteen parcels of land wanted for the extension of the Botanical Gardens in the Southwest Section will cost the United States $833,220, according to an appraisal submitted yesterday to Justice Alfred A. Wheat in District Supreme Court by a condemnation jury appointed last year. Justice Wheat must approve the awards before they become effective.

All land needed for the work, except eighteen parcels, was purchased by the Government. After the condemnation proceedings were begun parcel No. 1 was withdrawn. The jury also placed no valuation on parcel No. 17, which is owned by the District of Columbia and which is occupied by the Bell School.

The largest individual award was made to the General Baking Co. for its plant on B street southwest, the figure fixed being $275,000. The jury set no value on the plant's machinery.

Members of the jury were Maury Middleton, Frank E. Ghiselli and Gardner Johnson. Assistant Attorneys General Henry H. Glassie and Arthur G. Lambert appeared for the Government in the proceedings.

The award by parcels reads: Parcel 2, General Baking Co., $275,000; parcel 3, James A. Richardson, 133 B street, $6,500; parcel 4, William P. Metcalf, unimproved lot, $6,435; parcel 5, Arvilla McDonough, 116 to 128 Second street, $18,508; parcel 6, Catherine K. Salb and others, 1 to 7 Dudley place and 110 to 114 Second street, $25,743; parcel 7, Saegmuller heirs, $320,040; parcel 8, Otto Statter, 117 First street, $16,600; parcel 9, John P. Smith and others, 235-7 First street and 101 Canal street, $10,908; parcel 10, John P. Smith and others, 115 to 123 and 129 Canal street, $31,547; parcel 11, Edgar H. May, trustee, 140 to 144 Canal street, $8,475; George R. Randall, 152 Canal street, $5,000; parcel 14, Belle Willard, lot 11, square 578, $3,776; parcel 15, Kate V. Daly, 136 to 140 B street, $8,088; parcel 16, John P. Smith and others, 101 First street, $88,000, and parcel 18, William Keister, 231 and 233 First street and 103 Canal street, $8,500.

EVENTS OF INTEREST IN CAPITAL SOCIETY

on Monday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Sasscer, when they entertained informally for some of their own contemporaries

Mrs. Walevitch was formerly Miss Nan Whelpley. Her father, a distinguished writer, was a contributor to Century, Harpers and similar magazines a number of years ago. She has many friends in Washington whom she has known from her girlhood days. Mr. Walevitch will give a recital in Baltimore today and from there he and his wife will go to Philadelphia, where he is also booked for a concert, to visit friends. They spent the winter in Florida and on their way north Mr. Walevitch appeared in concert at a number of schools, universities and private houses.

Visiting in Washington some two years or more ago, this charming pair were entertained by Senator and Mrs. Couzens, Mr. Walevitch presenting a program for the entertainment of their guests. His music has a quality peculair to folk music and usually lost when peasant songs are formalized for the concert stage.

The Woman's National Democratic Club will conclude the season's program on Monday with a weekly forum luncheon, when Mr. Charles Michaelson, director of publicity, Democratic national committee, will discuss "What Is the Matter With Us Democrats."

Judge and Mrs. Harry S. Truman, of Independence, Mo., are in Washington and are staying at the Potomac Park Apartments.

Mr. and Mrs. Silas Strawn, of Chicago, are at the Carlton, where they will remain for several days.

Mrs. Stevens to Entertain With Conference Tea.

Mrs. Cabot Stevens will be hostess at a conference tea this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at her residence in Webster street, having asked the junior aids of Providence Hospital to meet the members of the executive board, Mrs. William X. Willard is director of the junior aids. Mrs. Stevens is president of the Ladies Aid of Garfield Hospital, which was organized in 1882 and retains the quaint name under which it was incorporated.

Miss Janet Richards entertained at luncheon yesterday at the National Woman's Country Club. Her guests were Mrs. William Dawson, Mrs. Robert Hinckley, Mrs. Ollie James, Mrs. Amy N. Talbot, Mrs. Sallie H. V. Pickett, Mrs. Austin Kautz, Mrs. Peter Drury, Mrs. James G. Wentz, of New York; Mrs. Cabot Stevens, Mrs. S. S. Gardiner and Miss Joy Hansel.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert S. Houston, of New York, who were guests at the White House last evening, are staying at the Willard.

Mrs. H. H. Shelton, who is visiting in Pittsburgh, is expected to return to her apartment at the Wardman Park Hotel tomorrow.

Miss Marian Jardine and Miss Helen Stone leave by motor today for Princeton, N. J., to spend a week with Miss Margaret Righter.

Mrs. Camden R. McAtee entertained a small group at a luncheon yesterday at the National Woman's Country Club. The luncheon was followed by bridge.

Mrs. John C. Boyd is passing a few days at the St. Regis Hotel in New York.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward A. Sumner, of Paris, who will be in this country until June, are passing the week in Washington at the Mayflower. Mr. Sumner is attending the meetings of the Chamber of Commerce as a representative of the American Chamber of Commerce in Paris, and on May 23 will make an address at the meeting of the National Foreign Trade Council in Los Angeles. Mr. and Mrs. Sumner are former residents of Detroit.

Mr. William Elmerkin Huntington and Mr. Clyde Wortham have returned from the University of Virginia, where they went to attend the germans.

Guests From New England To Attend Conference.

Coming from New England to attend the volunteers conference of the American Red Cross in Washington, May 5-12, are Dr. Mary D. Dakin and her daughter Miss Marjorie Dakin, of Cambridge and Magnolia, Mass., who will visit while here, with Dr. Dakin's son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs Lisle Burroughs. After the conference Mrs. Burroughs and her mother will go to Hot Springs for a short stay

As a substitute for the popular afternoon tea, Mrs. Porter H. Dale will be hostess today at a "morning coffee," entertaining at 11 o'clock at the Congressional Club, of which she is president. The party will be quite informal in character, a large group of Mrs. Dale's friends assembling at 11 o'clock for an hour of conversation and coffee.

Dr. Frederic E. Farrington, principal of the Chevy Chase School, and Mrs. Farrington have sent out invitations for a May Day fete at the school which are marked by the originality which spices all the activities of this delightful couple. Printed in red on a yellow slip, the invitations read: "Hearken! Ye Towne Folkes. Ye Lord Mayor of Canterbury bids thee join our revelry with song and dance in honor of Her Majesty ye Queene of May on ye first day of May in the year of Our Lord one thousand nine hundred and thirty at four by ye clock at ye Chevy Chase School. If the day be not good ye are bidden on the next fair day."

Mrs. Price Whitaker will sail for Europe this week with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Elisha Dyer. They will spend some time on the continent.

Fifth Ave. Fashions NEW YORK

Today the smartly dressed woman wins the admiring praise of the world. Are you in the set? It's quite possible even on the smallest budget.

For example, take this charming dress pictured in printed crepe silk in Paquin red tones. Its slender silhouette is rather suggestive of Princess lines.

The fullness in the skirt is concentrated at the left side through a circular inset. A partial belt holds the garment closely to the figure and has a unique tab end with buckle.

The cascading jabot frill stitched down left side of the bodice is of plain crepe in matching shade. It softens the line and breaks the width, to give the figure height.

This lovely model Style No. 8110 is designed in sizes 16, 18, 20 years, 36, 38, 40 and 42 inches bust. It is made with 3½ yards of 40-inch material with ⅝ yard of 18-inch contrasting for the woman of average figure.

It is very distinctive in black silk crepe with the jabot of eggshell crepe silk.

Patou tan wool crepe, Lanvin green crepe marocain, navy blue silk crepe, crepe Elizabeth in Spanish red, and purplish blue canton crepe are flattering combinations.

All patterns of Lucille Lorraine styles are 15 cents each. Mail your order to our Fashion Department, Washington Post, 259 Fifth avenue New York City. Be sure to write your name and address clearly and give the number and size of the pattern

"All Over Town" PEOPLES DRUG STORES —The Better To Serve You

When hospitals point the way you need look no further for sanitary guidance

Kotex absorbent is used today in 85% of our leading hospitals. That is your assurance of safety in sanitary protection.

YOU want to feel perfectly safe in choosing sanitary protection. And there's one way that you can be absolutely sure you are making the right choice ... that is to follow the guidance of hospitals. 85% of our leading hospitals now use Kotex absorbent for all sorts of surgical dressings.

This is why hospitals prefer Kotex absorbent

It's not an accident that Kotex absorbent is so quickly replacing surgical cotton in dressings. It is so much more absorbent, you see. It is made of a marvelous product called Cellucotton (not cotton) absorbent wadding. This is not cotton, but a cellulose substance which, for sanitary purposes, performs the same function as the softest of cotton, with five times the absorbency.

These layers and layers of Cellucotton absorbent wadding make Kotex light and comfortable, cool and easy to wear.

There are so many refinements of comfort in Kotex: It deodorizes perfectly, completely, in a way that makes one dainty all the time. It is fashioned to fit snugly and securely under the closest fitting gown, and you know what a comfort that is these days.

Because Cellucotton absorbs so quickly and so thoroughly, it stays soft longer, and this lasting protection is one of the most desirable of all Kotex features. Then, too, it is easily and quickly disposed of. Kotex Company, Chicago, Illinois.

KOTEX IS SOFT...

1—Not a deceptive softness, that soon packs into chafing hardness. But a delicate, fleecy softness that lasts for hours,

2—Safe, secure . . . keeps your mind at ease.

3—Deodorizes . . . safely, thoroughly, by a special process.

4—Disposable, instantly, completely.

Regular Kotex—45c for 12
Kotex Super-Size—65c for 12

WORK'S BRIDGE

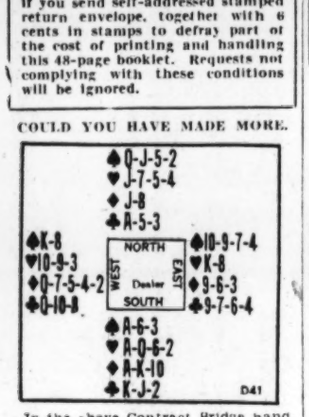
GOOD NEWS, BRIDGERS.

We are pleased to announce we can now renew the offer of Milton C. Work's great Contract and Auction booklet entitled "THE PLAYING PROBLEMS." Bridgers who received copies from previous offers are most enthusiastic over it.

"PLAYING PROBLEMS" presents eighteen hands, the complete auction and contract bidding for each hand with reasons for each bid, the answers to every question and the reason for each answer in complete detail.

"PLAYING PROBLEMS," which will be of much greater value to the auction and contract player than many high-priced textbooks, is not for sale. It has been prepared exclusively for readers of this newspaper by special arrangement with Mr. Work. One copy will be mailed to you upon request if you send self-addressed stamped return envelope, together with 6 cents in stamps to defray part of the cost of printing and handling this 48-page booklet. Requests not complying with these conditions will be ignored.

COULD YOU HAVE MADE MORE.



In the above Contract Bridge hand, South bid three No Trumps; and North, with a count of 9, bid four Clubs as a slam suggestion, but South had shown the full strength of his hand and was unwilling to risk a bid higher than four, so he ended the contracting with a bid of four No Trumps. The Auction bidding would be; South one No Trump followed by three passes.

West led his fourth best Diamond which Declarer passed up to South's Ten; and then led a Club, won by dummy's Ace. Dummy's Jack of Hearts followed, which East covered with the King and closed hand won with the Ace. South's Queen of Hearts was the lead, followed with a third Heart to trick 5. This was won by West who continued his long Diamond suit. South of course winning. A fourth Heart was won by dummy and the Queen of Spades led from that hand for a finesse which West won and led a third Diamond. The Declarer next led his Ace and then a third Spade, hoping to establish a long Spade in dummy; but East had kept his Ten guarded, and West's Club Queen-Ten spoiled the finesse in that suit. So Declarer took a total of ten tricks, the adversaries winning three.

Could you have made more?

THE CORRECT PLAY.

Declarer erred in leading certain high cards from dummy, and in not utilizing his first opportunity to obtain a lead from dummy. His best method of play would have been to put dummy's Jack of Diamonds on the first trick, and then lead a small Heart; the lead of the Jack will not produce every Heart trick against sound adverse play, but the lead of a small Heart will if East have the King singly guarded.

Played in this way, the Declarer would win three Hearts, keeping the fourth as an entry in dummy; and then lead a small Spade from dummy, winning with the Ace and returning the suit to sacrifice the one Spade which must be lost. With the second Spade taken by West, the adversaries would have made their only trick. No matter what West led, the Declarer would make the remainder of the tricks, because he would be able to discard closed hand's Jack of Clubs on dummy's last Spade.

Uncle Sam's Home Hints

MILK TOAST.

(Bureau of Home Economics.)

A way to make milk toast is to thicken milk and pour it over toast. For one cup of milk allow 1¼ level teaspoons of flour and ½ teaspoon of salt. Make a smooth paste out of the flour, salt and a little of the milk. Heat the rest of the milk. Add the flour and milk mixture and boil for about five minutes, stirring constantly, or cook for twenty minutes in a double boiler, stirring constantly at first and frequently later on. If skim milk is used, add a level teaspoonful of butter or fat. Milk toast with the yolk of a hard-boiled egg grated over it makes an attractive dish. The whites of hard-cooked eggs are not suitable for a young child nor for any child unless they are finely chopped or unless the child can be made to chew them well.

Baby Mine

Dare Interprets the Mode

Posies like these at the waist we call "pfm-m-ps," and flares like those in the skirt we call charming! (Courtesy of Tollman, Paris.)

Paris, April 29.

WE have just had word that the court presentations at Buckingham Palace this year will probably be held early in May—El Secretaire Gallant is in London, you know, rising to fame and fortune via the megaphone—yeah, he's in the movies.

And any one who wants to see the approved designs for court gowns can go to the lord chamberlain's office, where designs for women of four ages are on view. The sketches were, as usual, submitted to the queen for her approval, before they were decided upon.

The design for the young debutante is of white satin, delicately embroidered with diamante. The skirt is the same length all the way around, almost hiding the wearer's little feet.

For the married woman the design has an uneven hem, dipping at the sides and back and raised a few inches from the floor in front.

Debutantes usually wear white or pale pastel shades, but the designs for older women are in more pronounced colorings and have gold and silver decorations.

Heigh-ho! I'll have to tell you the rest of this court presentation business tomorrow, because there are other things on my mind for today's collum!

• • • •

There is a new silhoutte in the mode designed expressly for the slender, slim and sylph-like debutante—and for no-o-o-o-buddy else! It has a tight hipline, then a flare, and tightness at the knees and then a flare.

Tollman has done it artfully in black faille for evening and just to make it more than lovely, he has placed a huge flower corsage at the waist. But we can only look at it and sigh, and wish we hadn't eaten that "croissant" for breakfast.

• • • •

I'll take that pair and that pair and that pair, if I manage to get out before La Chic Secretaire kicks me in the shins—but good heavens, wasn't I doing it all in the interests of my deah publik? It was a sale, and they were only a dollar a pair, or what a dollar amounts to in French money, and I wanted to be very sure that all the ideas I had for making these dollar slippers look like several dozen dollars' worth were really workable.

They were, and now all you have to do is send a stamped, self-addressed envelope to the Dare Department of The Washington Post for the illustrated leaflet that resulted from this altruistic overdrawing of my bank account.

• • • •

Of course you're reading Dare's weekly fashion letter in The Sunday Washington Post.

Au Revoir!

What Today Means to You

By MARY BLAKE

WHAT TODAY MEANS TO YOU.
"TAURUS."

IF April 30 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 9 a. m. to 10 a. m., from 2 p. m. to 3 p. m., and from 9 p. m. to 10 p. m. The danger periods are from 11 a. m. to 1 p. m. and from 6 p. m. to 7 p. m.

The astrological influences on this date favor things other than business, especially domestic and social affairs. Over-expenditures, resources drained through others. Especially good for the open-air type of person.

The child born on this April 30 will have high ideals, will be a little inclined toward selfishness, and will have a versatile mind. It will be sport loving and truly fond of nature. Its horoscope shows travel.

It is difficult to sum up your great versatility and contradictory traits of character. At times you appear lackadaisical, and at others you exhibit an inflexible firmness. You are both a dreamer and a doer. You have the cheerful, tolerant, well-balanced outlook on life that is commonly known as the philosophic temperament. Touchiness or conceit are absolutely foreign to your nature, and you are entirely indifferent in invective. All through your life, you will prove yourself to be a person of action, when action is called for. Your power to make quick decisions helps you over the critical periods in your life.

You are a good conversationalist, although you never try to monopolize the talk. You are also a first-rate dialectician. You are interested in the study and usage of words, and you carefully search for the right one to express your meanings. You thoroughly enjoy exercising your power in intellectual thrust and parry. It is probable that this gift does not strengthen your popularity with all peoples, especially those who lack the wit to fight back. The suffering of others appeals to you very strongly, and you are very charitable in thought as well as action.

Successful People Born April 30:

1—George W. P. Curtis—Author and painter, adopted son of George Washington.

2—Henry O. Houghton—Publisher.

3—Charles S. Fairchild—Lawyer, Secretary of Treasury under Cleveland.

4—William A. Crane—Actor.

5—Joseph M. Toner—President of American Medical Association.

"Her little feet, like little mice, stole in and out"

● And the little feet of this year's younger set are training themselves to stealing in and out of the long skirts back in favor. The result is simply delightful . . . witness the young thing at the left in her frock of orchid net that goes straight to the floor, enlivened by ruffles at skirt, sleeve, and bolero.

Indoor and Outdoor Gardens

By JANE LESLIE KIFT

PLANTING TREES.

TREE grouping is difficult. It is useless to lay down any set rules. We must be governed by circumstances and surroundings. The "lay" of the land must be considered, the size of the ground and other things. Many folks confound the word "grouping" with "clustering," which is misleading, as they are in no way synonymous. Worcester defines "grouping" as the "art of combining objects, with a view to picturesque effect," and this covers the term exactly.

Stand on a little hill and look about you. You will see nature's groups on every side, so when planting one tree, or many trees, follow nature's lead and you will always be satisfied with the result. Trees are more or less permanent. We plant them not only for immediate pleasure, but to provide shade for the second and third generation. It is, therefore, wise to give some consideration to the location we choose for them.

In nature there is neither formality nor monotony of arrangement, but rather picturesque irregularity of which we never tire. On a large estate you can plant large tree groups where the ground plan permits of variations of outline in the form of bays and recesses, hollows or bold projections. But most of us with small gardens have room for only a few trees and their placing becomes a simpler matter.

Generally, in placing a group of three or four trees, especially in arranging ornamental dwarf varieties which are so decorative in a small lawn, plant the taller growing trees near the middle of the group and the shorter ones toward the outside, bringing them down gradually. Or, again, if only one side of a group is visible, plant the taller growing trees in the rear. In all grouping aim a variation, both as to ground and to outline. Aim at contrast and if acquainted with trees, notice their form and habit of growth.

It is easy to produce the effect you wish. Plant at unequal distances and avoid all straight lines. Always be careful to space trees so as to allow for future development. Crowding not only spoils the individual trees but kills the effect of the group. Many large-growing trees should be 30 feet apart, some even 40, low growers only 20. Of course you may plant thicker than necessary for immediate effect and later thin out, but I never recommend this method. At some time it means the sacrifice of a tree, which somehow always seems wrong.

Trees are usually placed effectively when they skirt the boundaries of a garden. Here the individual specimens should stand out well into the lawn at some places and recede at other places.

Never plant a tree or group of trees in a dell or depression in your garden. Always plant them in the high places.

Program Will Be Given By Railroad Glee Club

As a feature of the monthly session of the Pennsylvania State Society tonight at the Wardman Park Hotel the Reading Company Glee Club, of Reading, Pa., will render a musical program.

The club, numbering eleven employes of the Reading Railroad System, includes Richard Boyer, E. L. Daniels, Harry Brown, Addison Kinsey, Herbert Shannon, Harry Woodworth, George Long, Claude Hoch, A. M. Hawman, William Sebest and A. H. Hille.

King George's Uncle 80 Tomorrow.

London, April 29 (A.P.).—The Duke of Connaught, uncle of King George, will be 80 years old May 1. He will carry out a number of public engagements this summer, coming back to London shortly after celebrating his birthday anniversary at his villa at Cap Ferrat, on the Riviera.

All readers' questions on growing and care of indoor and outdoor flowers and floral decorations for social functions will be answered by Miss Kift, directly in this column if addressed in care of The Washington Post, or directly to readers if a self-addressed stamped envelope is supplied.

"I'll do that today," says the Vita-Minutes Mind

The morning mind works faster, decides quickly, thinks of what's to be DONE TODAY instead of what's to be considered TOMORROW.

There's much to be gained by advertisers in realizing the plain and simple fact that people who are rested and alert are more responsive than people who are preoccupied and fatigued.

Things that get themselves on today's program are more apt to be attended to than are things that are put on tomorrow's program. The human mind is built that way.

If the errand to be done, the purchase to be made, the matter to be settled, can get on the early morning program, while the mind is working at Vita-Minutes speed and concentration, action will follow.

The advertiser's opportunity is, under those circumstances, plain. He will do all he can to get his message to people in the early morning.

The Post stands ready to do all that a newspaper can do for him in such a case. The Post will take his message into thousands of homes in Washington and surrounding territory—homes where the paper is awaited, read, regarded as an established, trusted friend.

More, in the Washington morning Post, advertising dollars are concentrated in an extremely profitable and responsive market. The Post's big circulation in this market is more important for its coverage of families important to the advertiser than for its mere bigness.

Plan your Post messages with those things in mind. Prepare your ads to bring an "I'll do that today" response.

Well Remembered

His name was Jewel and he was from Indiana, just a youngster of 19—one of a lot of First Division boys who had been wounded in July. They were in a French Hospital in La Havre, the Frasciti, waiting to be sent to an American base. It was in early August that I first saw Jewel. His right leg had been amputated at the knee and his wound, with all those of the others, was irrigated every two hours with Dakin solution. At night with only our flashlights and apparatus that was none too good, we went through the darkened and quiet wards giving our treatments.

One morning at daylight, after a busy night, I found Jewel's bed wet with Dakin. I scolded him for not telling me and he replied, "Oh! it wasn't bad and I didn't mind, I was so comfortable that I'd rather lie in it than have you fussing over me."

Again—May, 1919.—back in "God's country" and my town, as the boys often wrote upon reaching Walter Reed, I visited the hospital. Some of my nurse friends stationed there were giving a "welcome home party." Going through a ward I passed a boy whose face attracted me. Turning back I said, "Where have I seen you?" and he replied, "You are the nurse who took care of me in La Havre." I said, "Oh! yes, I remember you are the soldier I tried to drown one night with Dakin solution," and so it was poor little Jewel of the Frasciti.

Cherchez La Pups

After traveling by road for many days from the port of St. Nazaire, one evening early in March, 1918, our outfit, S. S. U. 515, better known as U. S. A A. S. Section 515 from Washington, D. C., consisting of 20 Ford ambulances, 1 touring car, 1 rolling kitchen, 2 lieutenants, 1 American and the other French, and 35 men, neared the front in the Champagne sector of the Marne. We were close to a little French village by the name of Ludes, which lies between Chalons sur Marne and Rheims sur Marne, and is in the heart of the vineyards from which the well-known Mums champagne comes. We were to learn later that Ludes was only 5 kilometers from the front line, known through this sector as the famous Hindenburg line, which we were not to penetrate until the second battle of the Marne in July, 1918. After chow we scouted around the village, which consisted of about 40 houses, and some of us located some cognac. It now being dark, there was nothing to do that near the front but look for some place to sleep. The Germans were now shelling heavily as the French troops used the road through Ludes after dark in going to the trenches or to the rear, and ammunition trains used the same road, as it was one of the main arteries. Well to bed if one could call it that. The officers and some of the men had gone down in a wine cave or cellar about 50 feet under ground for the night. There were 7 of us, I believe, who thought we would rather remain above ground. We found a narrow flight of stairs leading up above the wine presses. These stairs were so narrow that two men could not pass on them. One of the men picked up several little puppies somewhere and was carrying them.

Above the stairway we found a long room with a tarpaper roof and a number of racks with wire netting in them which some of the "Frogs" had built to serve as beds. Some soft couches just about big enough for a man's body. Each man took one and using a blanket proceeded to occupy his ritzy bed. We removed only our shoes as men at or so near the front did not disrobe as one had to move quick as later events will prove. The German shells were dropping close and they were 105's and any one who has heard them will know the terrible crash they made when exploding. Can you imagine us sleeping. Our first night at the front and what a night. The fellow with the pups was the only one that did, and he was soon snoring and every once in a while he rolled on the poor pups and they would whine or howl. It is a wonder he did not smother or crush them. Another shell and closer but all we did was shiver and stick it out. Well, finally the Germans made a direct hit near our resting place. There was a terrific and deafening crash and debris rained over the tarpaper roof. There was some scramble. Every man grabbing for his shoes, helmet and gas mask and the poor pups howling. It is hard to tell how we did it but every man tried to get down those narrow stairs at one time and once down we streaked across the roadway and down into the cave to remain until daylight, when we made a survey and learned how seven of us just survived our first night at the front and it is now my good fortune to tell this tale. The shell had just fallen short of the wall and fortunately for us the earth was soft and a hole large enough to bury several of our ambulances was made, mute testimony of what we escaped. In the mad scramble to get away the poor pups disappeared. Talk about your stage fright, well, it is my opinion that that first night was a wow and one never to be forgotten and we sure received our baptism of fire early in the game.

Tacoma Group Is Host To Congress Delegation

The Tacoma (Wash.) Chamber of Commerce delegation entertained with a banquet at the Willard Hotel last night in honor of the congressional representatives from that State. F. C. Brewer, president of the Takoma chamber, presided.

Senator Wesley Jones delivered the keynote address. Other speakers were W. Irving Glover, Assistant Postmaster General; T. V. O'Connor, head of the United States Shipping Board; Senator C. C. Dill and Mrs. Florence P. Kahn. More than 100 guests were present, 35 being from Tacoma.

These New Salts Are Wonderful

That's Just What She Said—Just What He Said

AND A MILLION FAT FOLKS CAN'T BE WRONG

When you take vitalizing Kruschen Salts for a few days that old indolent armchair feeling deserts you—it doesn't matter how fat you are—the urge for activity has got you and you're stepping lively.

And best of all you like this activity—you walk a couple of miles and enjoy it—you thought you'd never dance again but you find you're getting as spry as ever—the old tingling active feeling reaches even your feet.

Kruschen is a combination of the six salts Nature has already put into your body to keep you alive—if it were not for these vital salts you could not live.

Why not try one 85 cent bottle of these rejuvenating salts—a bottle lasts 4 weeks and one bottle is enough to prove to you that Kruschen will make you feel younger—sprver—more energetic—you'll enjoy life—every minute of it.

As one stout woman wrote: "Kruschen Salts are worth their weight in gold to me."

A half teaspoonful in a glass of hot water every morning is all you need to keep healthy—keep your stomach, liver, bowels and kidneys in splendid condition—free your system from harmful toxins and acids.

Peoples Drug Stores sells lots of Kruschen Salts—so do good druggists everywhere.

Hughes Named Trustee Of Geographic Society

Chief Justice Charles E. Hughes has been elected a trustee of the National Geographic Society, Dr. Gilbert Grosvenor, president, announced yesterday. Dr. George K. Burgess, director of the Bureau of Standards, and Capt. R. S. Patten, director of the Coast Geodetic Survey, also were elected to the board. They fill the vacancies caused by the deaths of Edwin P. Grosvenor and Stephen T. Mather.

Chief Justice Hughes succeeds the former Chief Justice Taft, for many years a trustee of the society and actively identified with its work for 25 years.

IN THE PLAYHOUSE

By JOHN J. DALY

IN dramatic offices of newspapers, Tuesday is visiting firemen's day—when all the advance agents for the next week's attractions come to town and plead for space in the Sunday papers. Yesterday, no advance agent came accompanied by the manager of Poli's—the usual escort. The reason: There will be no attraction at Poli's next week, nor the week after, nor ever again. On Saturday night of this week, after Mr. Walter Hampden finishes his performance of "Caponsacchi," the curtain will be rung down for all time.

• • • •

On Saturday afternoon Mr. Hampden will give his performance of "Hamlet"—his first and only performance of this play during the present repertoire. It may interest the sport's followers to know that Walter Hampden's "Hamlet" has the approval of Gene Tunney, former world's champion heavyweight boxer and now man of letters and leisure. Tunney once upon a time visited Mr. Hampden in his dressing room. "Your 'Hamlet' is one of my favorite performances," Gene avowed. So that, by all the rules, ought to make it unanimous.

• • • •

WHILE all this classical stuff is being uncorked on the stage of Poli's, the National Theater Players are holding true to form and romping merrily along in a modern farce, "Jerry," a play by Katherine Chisholm that once served as a vehicle for Billy Burke. Those who have witnessed the performance of Miss Marion Wells in the Billy Burke role claim that the leading lady of the National Theater Players need have no fear of comparison; that she is every bit as pretty, has the same Irish flair and temperament as Miss Burke, and wears her numerous costumes to the queen's taste. Her outstanding ensemble, in the play, is a pair of pink pajamas.

• • • •

JUST to prove that spring is here, comes the annual pass for the new season at Glen Echo Park—a highly lithographed piece of cardboard bearing the signature of Leonard B. Schloss, vice president and general manager of this popular resort. The park opens on Saturday, May 10. One of the regular old-line patrons of Glen Echo went to his eternal reward just a few months ago—the late Senator Fred T. Dubois, first senator from Idaho, lover of nature, and beloved statesman, who believed this park the perfect resting grounds for nerves frayed by the rapid pace of modern life. In 20 years the old senator never missed communing with nature at Glen Echo.

• • • •

MR. LEE SOMERS, to make sure that Glen Echo will not have all the best of it, comes to the front with a notice that Chesapeake Beach is also about to open for the season. Says he: "You'll hardly recognize the old place. The boardwalk structures have been razed, but not like your salary; many other buildings along the beach front have been torn down, and a force of 100 workmen is now busy constructing the park—to be known as Seaside Park—which will be ready for business, and pleasure, no less, on May 24. Make a date of it."

KEEN and ALERT at "FOUR"

the day's grind demands men of unusual Vitality

"Oh! fine."

you want to feel the same way

BUSINESS today requires that the successful man be physically fit and mentally alert.

Men, especially, forget themselves physically. Their work demands practically all their time. They do not exercise enough. They get little or no sunshine. They are robbed of a good appetite . . . and when their red-blood-cells fall below normal their flesh becomes flabby, their nerves unsteady. Their strength must be reinforced.

Soundness of body and peace of mind depend upon the proper number of red-cells in the blood—5,000,000 to the cubic millimeter. They give blood its color and are carriers of nourishment to every part of the body. It is dangerous to let the red-cell count remain below normal.

With an increase in the red-blood-cells, you will be on the right road to Health. This is Nature's way to body power and to clear skin. Naturally, with your strength restored, it is easier to fight disease and infection; to enjoy your food and to sleep soundly. When firm flesh takes the place of that which was once flabby, you will feel strong—your nerves will become steady—more happiness and friends will follow.

S.S.S. has been a blessing to millions who have taken advantage of its wonderful medicinal properties. It helps Nature build rich, red-blood-cells. It promotes healthy body building.

You will be pleased to know that S.S.S. is made from only strictly fresh vegetable drugs. It is easily assimilated. Pleasant to take.

is taken by many people at least once a year to keep their blood in good condition. Seek energy, vitality and the blessings of good health through this time-tested remedy which has been on the market over 100 years. Take at mealtimes. S.S.S. is on sale at all good drug stores in two sizes. Ask for the larger size. It is more economical.

KING HITS CHARGES IN DIVORCE ACTION

CITED IN $250,000 BALM

Charles W. King, jr., of Monroe street northwest, near Fifteenth street, who recently was named corespondent in a suit for absolute divorce filed against Mrs. Virdie A. Bierley, of Ogden street northwest near Fifteenth street, by her husband, Herman M. Bierley, of Columbia road northwest near Thirteenth street, filed his answer yesterday denying practically every allegation made against him in the bill.

King's answer is practically the same as that filed by him in the recent alienation suit brought against him by Bierley in which the husband asked for $250,000 heart balm. In both actions King is represented by Wilton J. Lambert, R. H. Yeatman and George D. Horning, jr.

King denies that he enticed Mrs. Bierley to leave her husband, that he has been intimate with her or that he has spent any night at the woman's apartment. He admits that the woman and her children moved into premises owned by him because if they had not they would have had no place to go. He alleges that Bierley had refused to provide his family with living quarters and the necessities of life, and that the husband had asked his wife and children to go to the home of her sister.

King also admits that he has bought food for Mrs. Bierley and the children and has purchased clothing for the children, but insists that at all times his relations with the woman have been entirely platonic.

Foch Dinner Draws Capital Residents

Banquet in New York Tonight to Raise Interest in Memorial Plan.

A number of men and women prominently identified with social and official life in Washington are expected to attend a dinner in New York City tonight in the interest of the proposed national memorial for the late Marshal Foch, generalissimo of the allied forces in the World War.

Invitations to the dinner have been issued by the Foch National Memorial, Inc., which maintains headquarters in New York. Gen. Charles P. Summerall, chief of staff, U. S. Army; Representative Hamilton Fish, of New York, and the Right Rev. William T. Manning are among the score or more guests expected.

Recalling the cancellation of a Foch mass here some weeks ago, when "certain irregularities" were discovered in plans to subscribe Foch memorial funds in Washington, Representative Fish said yesterday that the New York Foch memorial committee was a bona fide organization, "in no way connected with the spurious plans launched here by an impostor."

WHO'ZIT?

"Whozit?" is a test of your knowledge of history and current events. The statements below describe a character whom you should be able to identify. Match your knowledge and memory against those of your friends.)

1. He was a Frenchman.
2. He lived in the time of King Louis XIII and was a favorite of that ruler.
3. At first an itinerant actor, he later established a theater in Paris where his own dramatic compositions were performed.
4. His comedies particularly attracted wide attention and he is considered one of the greatest of the French dramatists.

Answer to yesterday: Fernando Magellan.

Engineer Praises Era of Machines

Electrical Expert, in Talk, Says Power Will Help Abolish Poverty.

Mechanical power and machines are lifting mankind to higher levels of living and ultimately "will win a bloodless victory over poverty and crime," declared Charles M. Ripley, electrical engineer, representing the General Electric Co., in a talk before the weekly luncheon of the Advertising Club of Washington yesterday at the National Press Club.

He asserted that electricity can be regarded as the worker's new declaration of independence and that America's wage scale is being raised through the extension of mechanical power.

In summarizing the important uses of electricity and its rapid growth in recent years, he said that the electrical ranks third, trailing only agriculture and railroading. He pictured the Nation of today minus electrical power, and said that its loss would necessitate use of 3,000,000,000 slaves, or almost twice the population of the world, to handle a day's work in America.

FREE Anniversary Cameras

Complete with Roll of Kodak Film

to Children Born in 1918

Given in Commemoration of the 50th Anniversary of Kodak

MOTHERS...FATHERS

Have You a Child Born Any Month in 1918?

This Special Anniversary Camera—complete with one roll of Kodak Film—will be given FREE to any child whose TWELFTH birthday falls in 1930. Its color is a beautiful golden brown and it takes pictures 2¼ x 3¼ inches.

IF you have a child whose 12th birthday falls in any month of 1930, come here and accept the camera illustrated—complete with one roll of Kodak Film—without cost or obligation.

It is the gift of the Eastman Kodak Company, with the compliments of George Eastman, Chairman of the Board, in commemoration of Kodak's 50th Anniversary.

Five Hundred Thousand Cameras are to be given to the Children of America, under this plan.

There are no reservations to the gift, except that no cameras will be distributed before May 1, or after May 31, 1930. And none after the original supply of 500,000 is exhausted.

Why The Gift Is Made

The gift is made for two reasons:

Sentiment: As a token of appreciation to the parents and grandparents of today, who as amateur picture takers have played so important a part in the development of amateur photography and the Eastman Kodak Company.

Business: To heighten interest in amateur photography among children, even beyond its present remarkably high peak.

Accept Now

Bring your child here. Get the camera. No red tape. No delay. No cost.

Remember, the gift-giving period will extend into the month of May, only as long as our supply of cameras holds out.

To avoid disappointment, come early.

Children Must Be Accompanied By Parent or Guardian.

U. S. STEEL REPORT HELPS STOCK RALLY

Shorts Cover as Favorable Quarterly Profits Are Shown by Company.

COPPER SHARES SLUMP

New York, April 29 (A.P.).—The stock market had further sharp sinking spells today, but regained much of its loss in the last half hour of trading, as shorts hurried to cover in expectation of a favorable quarterly report from United States Steel after the close.

Closing prices were irregularly lower, but the index of 90 leading stocks showed a net loss for the day of only 1-5 of a point. Trading was in heavy volume, total sales aggregating 5,810,010 shares.

The United States Steel report was considerably more favorable than most estimates had indicated. Net profit of $3.44 per share, while comparing with $5.04 in the like quarter of 1929, substantially exceeded Wall-street estimates running from $2.90 to $3.25. Report of the finance committee that the corporation expected to maintain operations at 80 per cent of capacity during the second quarter was encouraging, in view of a slight lagging tendency reported in the steel industry generally this week.

Inland Steel Reports.

Inland Steel published a good first quarter report in view of the slack business generally during the period. This company earned $2.26 a share, compared to $2.50 in the same period of 1929. Wall street looks for early announcements of reduced prices for steel products which is expected to stabilize the price structure, now more or less confused by the practice of shading prices below published quotations.

News from the oil industry continued favorable and several of the oil stocks gave good accounts of themselves. Leading refiners followed Tidewater Oil Co. in boosting price 1 cent a gallon in the East. Rails and copper shares continued to decline, several reaching new lows for the year or longer.

American Tobacco B was a strong feature, closing nearly 9 points higher. J. I. Case was up more than 7, and such shares as American Can, American Telephone, McKeesport Tinplate, Continental Can, Commercial Solvents, Johns-Manville, and Standards of New York and New Jersey gained about a point or two. International Harvester and Pan-American B were up nearly 3 points at the close.

Peoples Gas Declines.

Peoples Gas dropped 19 points to 300, then rallied to 312½. Vanadium dropped about 10 points, and closed off 3. Atchison dropped 6 points, and rebounded 3. Anaconda, Eureka Vacuum and Patino Mines broke through the low levels of last November. Several recent weak spots, such as Canada Dry, National Cash Register A, and Stewart-Warner, rallied substantially in short covering. U. S. Steel and General Electric were off fractionally at the close.

Credit conditions were a little easier. Call money was unchanged at 4 per cent, but an easier tone in time money indicated that lower call loan rates are expected after completion of the month-end shifting of balances. Month-end influences brought steadier foreign exchange rates, after the sagging of the past few days. Sterling Cables held at $4.86¼.

In the commodity markets, grains reacted moderately. Wheat futures lost about 1½ cents on a slackening of export buying, and bearish Texas reports. Corn lost about a cent. Cotton sold up a little, then lost its gains in selling prompted by bearish weather reports from the Southwest.

CHICAGO GRAIN.

Chicago, April 29 (A.P.).—Wheat prices went downgrade today, owing largely to rains over recent drought sections, with southwest Kansas receiving the best moisture supply in five months. The wheat market was also bearishly affected by continued heavy lifting to of May delivery holdings, with latest official figures showing that the rate of contraction of the open interest here in the May delivery is about 10,000,000 bushels for a single day. Government-sponsored agencies, however, were credited with buying enough May wheat today to keep liquidation from resulting in a demoralized market.

Closing quotations on wheat were nervous at almost the day's bottom level, 1¾ to 1¾ cents a bushel lower than yesterday's finish. Corn closed ¾ to 1⅝ cents down; oats, ¾ to 2 cents off, and provisions showing 2 to 30 cents advance.

Although surprising power to rally was shown by the wheat market today during the early dealings, sellers were quite extensive at any time in the last half of the day. In this connection there appeared to be unusual uncertainty prevailing as to the volume of deliveries here on May 1, the first day when wheat can be tendered in settlement of May contracts. Meanwhile, the most active buying witnessed was apparently due to belief in various quarters that with domestic spring wheat seeding now virtually complete Farm Board allies would be more inclined to help lift values because no increase of acreage would thereby be encouraged.

For the first time, chaotic political conditions of India were reported today as being a source of disquietude for speculative sellers of wheat. It was stated that these conditions were likely to hinder exports of wheat from India and also interfere otherwise with financing of India's wheat crop. On the other hand, there was a material falling off today in European demand for wheat from North America and, despite 8,236,000 bushels decrease of world available supplies, the total stock was shown to be 376,926,000 bushels, against 354,189,000 bushels a year ago. A special further bearish factor was a forecast by a leading Southwestern railroad official that the 1930 domestic winter wheat crop movement as a whole would probably equal last year's volume.

Corn and oats reflected the downward course of the wheat market. Dwindling of buying support for the corn market especially became very apparent when wheat turned decidedly downgrade.

Provisions were responsive to hog market upturns.

FEW RAIL, FOREIGN BONDS SCORE GAINS

Irregularity, in Sympathy With Stocks, Hits Share Feature Section.

AMUSEMENT LIST IS DULL

New York, April 29 (A.P.).—Bonds moved in larger volume today and prices developed considerably better resistance. Most of the increased business was in a comparatively few rails and foreign obligations.

Carrier liens made progress, but the buying was confined to less than a dozen issues which had softened in the recent dull markets. Chesapeake & Ohio refunding 4½s, Rock Island refunding 4s, Nickel Plate 4½s and 5½s, Pere Marquette 4½s, Frisco 4½s and prior lien 4s and Southern Railway General 4s were the leaders of the group and accounted for most of the day's advance therein.

The shakeout in stock prices and the late rally gave the share feature section a highly irregular appearance. American Telephone 4½s went to a new low for the movement below 165, but picked up most of the loss and closed about even with the Monday final figure. International Telephone 4½s ended the day with a small net advance. Railroad convertibles were heavy. Atchison 4½s dipping to within half a point of the year's low, while New Haven 6s lost 2 points. Baltimore & Ohio 4½s sagged fractionally to virtually their low. Bonds in the amusement classification were dull. Warner Brothers 6s eased to the new minimum of 107¼.

Telephone obligations featured the utility section. The American and International Co's debenture 5s and New York Telephone 6s rose half a point, although closing prices were slightly below the top. Industrials dragged.

Trading in foreign bonds was limited to the better grade loans, especially those of the European nations interested in German reparations. An announcement on the terms of Germany's $300,000,000 issue is expected later in the week. German bonds were fairly active today, although prices were slightly irregular. The Republic 7s advanced a shade, and Berlin City 6s rose 2 points, but German General Electric 6s eased and Rhine Westphalia 6s with warrants sold off a point. French 7s closed unchanged. Belgium 7s of 1955 encountered some selling.

Libertys and Treasurys remained dormant on the absence of important changes in money. Time accommodations eased slightly in the long maturities, but the market was dull.

It was learned that the $35,000,000 Sao Paulo coffee loan, floated here today, was 90 per cent subscribed.

CARPEL COMPANY GROSS SALES GAIN

BRAWNER NEW DIRECTOR

By THOMAS M. CAHILL.

The Carpel Corporation, holding company for the Carpel Co., Inc.; H. L. Carpel of Richmond, Inc.; H. L. Carpel, of Baltimore, Inc.; the Food Products Co., Inc., of Pittsburgh; H. L. Carpel of Roanoke, Inc., and the Food Products Co., Inc., of Norfolk, food distributors, report gross sales for the quarter ended March 31, 1930, of $447,023.37, an increase of 19 8-10 per cent over the corresponding period in 1929.

John F. Brawner, vice president and general manager, Waggaman, Brawner & Co., Inc., investment bankers, was recently elected to the board of directors of the corporation. The common stock of the Carpel Corporation is listed on the Washington Stock Exchange and has recently been very active, due somewhat to rumors of further expansion and consolidation.

Washington Chapter, American Institute of Banking, is arranging for a spring prom and bridge party at Columbia Country Club to be held Wednesday, May 21. Music for this occasion will be furnished by the Marcelon-Colvin Orchestra. Considerable interest is being manifested over this party and the committee in charge is arranging to accommodate a large number of institute members and friends. The women's committee, of which Miss Mildred C. Woodcock, American Security & Trust Co., is chairman, is in charge of arrangements. The committee will be assisted by officers, governors, and the board of consuls.

Bank Examinations Set.

The educational activities of the chapter will be brought to a close during the next ten days. Final examinations in negotiable instruments standard banking and types and analyses of financial statements will be held at the chapter rooms tomorrow. Examinations in banking fundamentals, commercial law and business forecasting will be held May 9. Approximately 250 students will take these examinations.

Considerable interest is being created in connection with the chapter's political campaign for the election of officers and members of the board of governors. The election will take place in the chapter rooms, May 8.

A syndicate headed by Mackubin, Goodrich & Co. of Baltimore and Whitaker & Co., of St. Louis, is offering an issue of $12,000,000 Houston Oil Co., of Texas Secured 5½ per cent sinking fund gold bonds due May 1, 1940, at 97 to yield 5.90. Application has been made to list the bonds on the New York Stock Exchange.

Expansion Is Planned.

The proceeds of this issue will be used to retire all of the $6,950,000 5½ per cent notes due 1938, to increase the capacity of its pipe-line facilities to around 150,000,000 cubic feet per day and to develop its oil resources, &c.

Net income of the Washington Rapid Transit Co. for the first quarter, after all deductions, was $5,162 compared with $13,289 a year ago.

The annual outing of the Bond Club of Washington will be held June 13, probably at Burning Tree Club.

Frederick H. Rhodes, Pittsfield, Mass., president of the Berkshire Life Insurance Co., is visiting the local office this week.

NEW YORK COTTON.

New York, April 29 (A.P.).—Declines from a slight early advance under selling promoted by reports of rains in the Southwest were followed by rallies on a renewal of near month covering in cotton here today. May contracts after selling off from 16.04 to 15.90 closed at 16.08, or 6 points net higher, with the general market closing firm, net 6 points higher to 3 points lower.

Both the old crop positions were 6 points higher, while later months ranged from 3 points higher to 3 points lower.

The opening was steady at a decline of 4 points to an advance of 5 points. Reports that additional May notices representing about 22,900 bales had been issued here caused some liquidation of the near positions, which was quite readily absorbed by trade buying on covering. There also was some selling of new crop months on the Texas rain reports, but it was fairly well taken with the active months generally showing net advances of about 2 to 6 points during the early trading. Scattering nearby month liquidation continued, however, and after the early demand had been supplied prices eased off under increased offerings which were encouraged by the detailed weather reports showing general rains in Texas and Oklahoma.

Active months sold about 9 to 12 points net lower with July declining to 16.00 and new October to 14.58, but a better demand developed around these figures and there were rallies during the last hour, July sold up to 16.18 and closed at 16.16 and the new October contract closed at 14.73. The closing quotation for May was 8 points below July, but 137 points above new October.

The rains reported in the Southwest were considered sufficient to relieve droughty conditions in recently complaining reactions of Texas and Oklahoma, although of new crop positions was not general or aggressive, however, and the strength of the near month situation no doubt had a sustaining influence on prices for later deliveries.

Liverpool was fairly steady. Cables received here said there had been fair trade calling and covering in the near months there, although late deliveries had bene sold on the Texas rain news. British home trade on cotton goods was said to be slightly better, but yarns were reported dull and freely offered. There was some of the latest selling of cotton on the midday decline which may have been influenced by the unsettled ruling of stocks and wheat.

Exports today 9,745, making 6,247,220 so far this season. Port receipts, 8,143. United States port stocks, 1,662,519.

WASHINGTON: WEDNESDAY, APRIL 30, 1930. 17

NATS OUTSLUG YANKS TO TAKE 8TH STRAIGHT, 11-8

Pegler

NEW YORK, N. Y., April 29.—The victory of a common, ordinary horse named Sandy Ford in the Dixie Handicap at Pimlico has caused a bit of a stir, not that there is any particular interest in the horse, which is just a betting device after all, but because the fellow who owns him had not been doing very well for some years and then, suddenly, and against his expectations won a stake of $25,000 and about $6,000 in mutuel money.

The fellow's name is Willie Shea and he is a little New Yorker of the familiar cap-wearing type with no real call to the horse-owning business. This is a business for very rich people who can profit by their losses. I am not very familiar with the evasions which the income tax laws provide for rich people, never having been put to the necessity of looking up the laws on this, but it is the understanding down in the steerage quarters at the horse tracks that a man with a big income can charge off as a business loss the deficit on his horse farm and stable, including his racing operations, but excepting bets and thus make the Government pay some of the cost of his sporting distinction and his fun.

Little Fellow Has Only Gambling Chance.

The rich ones do not really aim to make any money on their horses and if they, with their adavntages, find their racing expenses outdollaring their earnings, it is manifest that a little fellow whose life is one constant hustle to obtain enough scratch for common living expenses for man and beast, has only a distant gambling chance in the big stakes, such as the Dixie. He can hope to buy only the horses that the rich people don't want and inasmuch as the rich people employ experts to determine which horses they do want, very few worthwhile horses are available to the little fellows and those only by the accident of some expert's mistake in judgment.

So this Willie Shea, who is strictly a New York pavement boy with a record of long and loyal devotion to Tammany Hall, really has no call to be entering horses in the big stakes nor to own any horse at all since progress motorized the draying business.

He has no farm, save and except every New York citizen's share of one undivided six-millionth of Central Park. He had to borrow the $1,000 which he paid for his horse and go on borrowing to pay the horse's board, haulage, fees and one thing and another, and the odds of 33 to 1, at which Sandy Ford was held in the Pimlico mutuels give only a conservative notion of the weight of expert opinion against Willie Shea's optimism.

Will Lose Money Back, Of Course.

Now, with his earnings and winnings and the sale price of his horse, which will be around $40,000, Willie will start all over again. He will buy cheap, inferior horses which the rich people don't want and, of course, he will lose the money back because, as old Col. Bradley says, racing is a sucker's game and a sucker is a man with a big income.

Naturally, Willie will sell the horse that did all this for him because a little fellow can not afford to own such a good horse. There is no percentage in being sentimental about Sandy Ford, and while it undoubtedly would make a very nice piece for the papers if One-Horse Shea were to cleave to him, a horse is only a critter after all, and as comfortable in one barn as he is in another. One might say that this is just what might be expected of a pavement boy from New York, who grew up to regard horses as betting devices, but you will find that the country boys who come to the horse tracks are just as practical.

Love for the Horse Is Popular Illusion.

I was a bit put out one day last winter in Havana to hear the same idea expressed by a man who used to work in the moving pictures, even before the day of Bill Hart, as the original cowboy of the movies, and in this line of work, did much to create the popular illusion of love and understanding between man and horse.

The day before I arrived in Havana, an unknown filly by the name of Miss Fountain or Fountain Miss, had dropped down in front in one of those running broad jumps of six furlongs, winning at a very long price in the name of somebody calling himself G. M. Anderson. Nobody seemed to know who this G. M. Anderson was, as he had not gone in for any social activities around the town or in the clubhouse, but Mr. Charlie Foster, the press agent for

Peacock's 75 Leads Field Of Golfers

Youth Gains 2-Stroke Advantage; Trio in Tie for Second.

Stars Complete Qualifying at a Washington Club Today.

By HENRY LITCHFIELD WEST.

ROGER PEACOCK, one of the younger members of the Indian Spring Club, and winner last year of the District junior championship played on the Woodmont course, yesterday led a field of more than 150 golfers in the first day's qualification round of the annual invitation tournament of the Washington Golf and Country Club. He had a card of 37—38—75, five strokes over par and two strokes lower than his nearest competitors.

Three of the contestants had scores of 77. A. S. W. Frailey, of the Chevy Chase Club, who was out in 37 and who needed only pars on the last four holes to tie with Peacock, took three putts on the fourteenth green and met with disaster on the fifteenth hole when an encounter with the ditch cost him a fatal 7. Stanley F. Corcoran, who registered from the Thornlea Club, Brockton, Mass., but who is a student at Georgetown University, and John R. Slattery, a member of Woodland, Quimet's famous club at Auburndale, Mass., and also a student at Georgetown University, also finished with 77's.

Peacock's Lead May Fall In Today's Round.

With a field today which includes Maurice J. McCarthy, jr., former intercollegiate champion and winner of the Washington tournament two years ago; Miller B. Stevinson, District amateur champion; Harry G. Pitt, former Middle Atlantic champion, and many other leading golfers in the District, it is more than probable that the lead which Peacock held yesterday will not be maintained.

The tragedies of yesterday were more numerous than the number attributed to Shakespeare. For instance, Albert R. Mackenzie, who might have tied with the leader, lost three strokes on the first three holes, taking three putts on the first green, playing into a trap on the second and missing his second shot on the third. Then there was Leopold V. Freudberg, Woodmont, who after 45 for his outward journey, started home with 4—4—4—3—3 and then was penalized three strokes on the fifteenth hole and suffered two more penalty strokes on the seventeenth.

The fifteenth hole, by the way, was a Waterloo for nearly all the players, but the height of ill luck came to C. C. Heath, Bannockburn, and H. P. D. Cowie, Manor, each of whom took ten strokes on this tricky hole. They were not as fortunate as Burke Edwards, Manor, who made an eagle 3 on the fifteenth, the only eagle scored during the day. The scores of 81 and under 100 were as follows:

81—Dr. L. S. O'Tell, Indian Spring; V. G. Burnett, Beaver Dam; J. T. Barnes, Washington; John J. Tierney, Congressional.

82—E. L. Bono, Columbia; E. W. Cushing, Washington; John Clancy, Wetherfield Country Club; Commander C. T. Lynes, Washington.

MACKS SLUG 3 PITCHERS, WIN, 9-5

Simmons, Cochran in Star Roles as Red Sox Are Routed.

BOSTON, April 29 (A.P.).—Mickey Cochrane and Al Simmons led the assault on three Red Sox pitchers here today and the Philadelphia Athletics defeated the Sox, 9 to 5. Simmons drove in four runs and made four hits and Cochrane joined him in his hit total.

The champions pounded Charley Ruffing from the mound and treated George Smith in a similar manner. Horace Lisenbee finished the game. It was the second straight win for Philadelphia here.

Chisox Pound Uhle, Beating Tigers, 8 to 6

Detroit, Mich, April 29 (A.P.).—The White Sox hit George Uhle, veteran Tiger pitcher, freely today and won the second straight game of a series, 8 to 6.

The Chicago hitting included two home runs by Reynolds and one by Cissell. None of the Tigers was able to find Urban Faber, Sox pitcher, for extra base hits except Gehringer, who made a double and a triple, and McManus, who popped out a homer in the ninth with one on.

The Sox made a perfect double steal in the seventh inning when Clancy went home and Jolley to second.

Hodapp's Homer Helps Tribe Defeat Browns

St. Louis, Mo., April 29 (A.P.).—The Cleveland Indians scored a 6-4 victory over the St. Louis Browns today to make it two straight for the series.

The Indians were helped to victory by a home run by Johnny Hodapp in the fourth inning with Jamieson on base. The homer was the first damage to Walter Stewart. Both starting pitchers, Hudlin and Stewart, were removed when the going got too rough.

GIANTS DROP WILD GAME BY 19-15

Ott's 2 Homers Futile as Robins Pound Out 22 Hits.

NEW YORK, April 29 (A.P.).—In a game of hard and frequent hitting the Brooklyn Robins made their one big inning a bit better than the best the New York Giants could produce and won the second game in a row from their Manhattan rivals by the score of 19 to 15.

The Robins connected with the offerings of four Giant pitchers for eleven hits and one walk for eleven runs in the second inning. The Giants scored nine times in the third.

The two teams made 41 hits, 22 of them going to the Brooklyn sluggers, but no major league records were broken in the fray. The modern mark for scoring in one inning is 14 runs, made by the New York Yankees against Washington in 1920.

Mel Ott hit two home runs in the game and Bill Terry got one for the Giants.

Brown to Seek Fourth Straight Triumph in Game Today.

Chattanooga Returns Alvin Powell to Nationals.

LLOYD BROWN will be seeking his fourth straight victory this afternoon as he toes the slab for the Nationals in the final of this series with the Yankees. The young southpaw beat "Ruth and Company" here Easter Sunday and hopes to do so again this afternoon and thus give the Nationals a clean-up for the three-game series. It likely will be a left-handed day all around, as the veteran Herb Pennock is expected to draw the pitching assignment from Manager Bob Shawkey.

Alvin ("Jake") Powell, the Takoma Tiger Bearcat, who impressed Manager Johnson as a likely future outfield prospect, especially from a hitting standpoint, failed to make the grade at Chattanooga and is now on his way back to Washington. He will be placed with some minor league club for further seasoning, probably in one of much lower classification than the Southern Association.

Two Washington rookies leave the fold today. Catcher Gordon Phelps and Outfielder Arthur ("Dick") Freeman going to the Hagerstown Club on option. As a parting shot, Freeman put the name of Pitcher Don Savidge on the crippled list yesterday in practice before the game, a shot off the youngster's bat colliding with Savidge's left knee and forcing him to rush to Trainer Mike Martin for treatment.

Four Doubles Off Hadley.

The Yankees evidently were playing on a "double or no count" basis while Irving Hadley was on the hill. The four hits they obtained while he was on the hill were all two-baggers, Ruth cracking out two. Gehrig walked both times he faced the Lynn big boy.

Against Ad Liska, the New Yorkers continued their long distance hitting, Zachary tripling and Koenig doubling for the only two blows combed from his under-handed slants.

The game was halted for about five minutes at the start of the Nats' fourth while Umpire Brick Owens was trying to remove a chunk of coal from one of Third Baseman Bennie Chapman's eyes. The arbiter finally had to turn over the job to Doc Earle Painter, the Yankee trainer.

Chapman made a nice double play to stop the Nats in the fourth, although he benefited from a good break. With one Washington run over, putting the Nats ahead, the bases loaded and one out, Ruel shot a hot one down to third. The Yankee third-sacker had his foot on third when he gathered up the ball and so it was a simple matter for him to peg to first ahead of the batter.

Lazzeri Stars at Rice's Expense.

Tony Lazzeri raced over behind second in the fifth to turn in a pretty play at Sam Rice's expense. He snatched a hot grasser with one hand and tossed to Koenig to force Loepp at second. Had there been no runner on first it would have been a safety despite the stop, for Tony was in no position to make a peg to the initial sack.

Tommy Thomas gave the fans a thrill when he fanned Babe Ruth in the sixth. The Bambino did considerable "beefing," dropping his bat as a sign of disgust when the first strike was called on him. When the third one was slipped over, Babe stood in the batter's box for a moment or so and then angrily tossed his bat in the air, much to the delight of the fans, who gave the Home Run King a sound "razzing."

One of the prettiest exhibitions of the hit-and-run play seen in the Griffith Stadium this season was put on in the Nats' sixth. With Judge on first and heading for second and Bluege at bat, the latter reached out and tapped one of Gomez's slow balls right through the territory which Lazzeri had deserted to cover second.

Pirates Beat Cubs In Wild Battle, 13-9

Chicago, April 29 (A.P.).—It took the Pirates 2 hours and 16 minutes to apply the defeat stamp to the Cubs this afternoon in a wild game. The score was 13 to 9.

Seven pitchers were used by both clubs, the only effective man being Steve Swetonic, who was used the last three innings by the Pirates. Pittsburgh batted out sixteen hits, twelve of which came off Fred Blake's slants in the early chapters.

About 12,000 saw the game.

GIGANTIC OUTRUNS UP TO TAKE PIMLICO HOMEBRED

Ambrose Gets Victor Home By Head

Davis Colt Triumphs Over Favorite in Stretch Duel.

Her Grace Noses Out St. Prisca to Keep Record Clean.

By J. B. SNODGRASS
(Staff Correspondent of The Post).

PIMLICO Race Track, April 29—Jedwin Davis' Gigantic, under a perfect ride by Eddie Ambrose, won the ninth renewal of the Pimlico Spring Homebred Purse, a 4½-furlong sprint that was the magnet that attracted 20,000 fans here today.

Ambrose, a corking 2-year-old rider, broke Gigantic on top. He was coasting around the first turn when both Up, the odds-on favorite, and Parr challenged. When the field swung for home Ambrose lashed Gigantic once and then sat down, and by a vigorous hand ride had his mount home safely.

It took a perfect ride on the veteran's part to enable Gigantic to score over Up by a head. However, the colt deserves plenty of credit, for he made all the pace and withstood whatever opposition was furnished him.

A new money-winning record for the event was hung up when the Maryland Jockey Club turned a $3,630 purse over to Gigantic's owner.

Timon Scores Upset In Opener.

The form players took a drubbing in the day's three-quarter mile opener, when they installed Willis Sharp Kilmer's Sun Falcon, favorite only to see the colt run third to the Brookmead Stable's Timon, with the Glen Riddle Farm's Yankee Doodle placing.

After a considerable delay at the gate, Steve O'Donnell stepped Timon into the lead, with H. P. Whitney's Angry last in the field of twelve.

Timon saved ground at every turn and easily held Yankee Doodle safe. The latter chased the winner throughout. Sun Falcon, away slowly, came fast in the stretch, but could not menace the first two.

The Linstead Steeplechase, the first jumping test of the 1930 season in this State, went to Raspberry, 4-year-old chestnut gelded son of John P. Grier—Rowan Berry, owned by John Bosley, of Baltimore County.

Mrs. F. Ambrose Clark's Brown Stout took command at the drop of the flag, but when the field swung by the half-mile mark she was third to Friend Frank and Bootland.

Brown Stout again took command after three quarters of a mile and led until the final obstacle, where she made a bad landing. This enabled Raspberry, who was running second, to go on to a handy score.

My Care, a field horse, and owned by John Patrick McGovern, also took advantage of Brown Stout's bobble to rush into second place. However, Brown Stout recovered and saved the show money from Poplar Creek.

Placing Boost as Her Grace Wins.

The placing judges kept the winning streak of Ral Parr's Her Grace intact for this year when they called her ahead of Brancastle's St. Prisca in the Woodberry, a 6-furlong sprint.

The placing caused a storm of protest from many in the big gathering. The fans boced when the numbers were hung up and continued their shouts of disapproval after the horses came back to the scales.

Her Grace, away slowly, was much used up in trying to wrest the end from Samuel Ross, Poinciana. It was not until the turn for home that Her Grace could get on even terms with the early pacemaker.

As the two leaders started their run through the stretch, there was considerable bumping, with Her Grace appearing to be the chief sufferer. However, Arnold lashed her away from Poinciana only to have St. Prisca come charging very fast through the stretch.

Arnold gave Her Grace a powerful ride, but from the stands it appeared as if St. Prisca had won. This caused the storm of protest from the fans. It was the biggest demonstration of its kind in years. Third money went to Poinciana.

Homelike, a 24-to-1 shot, romped home three and a half lengths in front of Keydet in the closing number here today. Cudgeller was third. Keydet was the favorite. The winner paid $50.80 to win, $12.90 to place and $6.20 to show.

Two-dollar mutuels paid—RASPBERRY $19.40, $7.80, $5.40; MY CARE, $4.70, $2.90; BROWN STOUT $5.90.

RASPBERRY, permitted to race under slight reserve for the first turn of the field, responded stoutly for the final issue, went into an easy lead when BROWN STOUT almost lost his rider at the last fence and drew out. MY CARE began slowly, was forced to circle her field to secure racing room and finished with good ability. BROWN STOUT went into an easy lead after the third fence was restrained in front and looked a winner until the last fence, where he landed badly and almost lost his rider. POPLAR CREEK was unable to improve his position and showed a good test. FRIAR M'GEE fenced in good fashion. HORION struck several of his fences. BOOTLAND was under pressure and had no mishaps. WORD OF HONOR raced well and should improve. HOE CAKE, lost rider at the thirteenth fence.

THIRD RACE—Four and one-half furlongs. Purse, $1,300. The Hamden. For 2-year-olds. Start good from stalls. Won easily; place, same. Went to post at 4:43. Off at 4:50. Winner, Samuel Ross' b. c. (2), by Scotch Broom—Felicitation. Trained by M. Smart. Value to winner, $900; second, $250; third, $150. Time, 0:23 1-5, 0:47 3-5, 0:54 3-5.

Two-dollar mutuels paid—HAPPY SCOT, $2.80, $2.50, $2.20; ALL HAIL, $4.[illegible], $3.10; TOTEM, $3.30.

HAPPY SCOT, FAVORITE, REWARDS FAITHFUL IN THIRD.

HAPPY SCOT, moving into a short lead directly after the break, shook off BLIND LANE when entering the home stretch, drew into a safe lead and was eased up in the final sixteenth. ALL HAIL a forward factor throughout, closed stoutly in the final furlong. TOTEM worked his way up on the outside, but could not threaten the first two. BLIND LANE forced a good pace for three furlongs and then weakened. ARIES went evenly. NURSERY PLAY had brief speed.

FOURTH RACE—Six furlongs. Purse, $2,500 added. The Pimlico Home Bred (Spring). For 2-year-olds. Start good out of stalls. Won driving; place, same. Went to post at 5:23. Off at 5:23½. Winner, Ral Parr's ch. f. (3), by Bright Knight—Markiluna. Trained by F. Trueman. Value to winner, $1,000; second, $300; third, $200. Time, 0:23 2-5, 0:47 2-5, 1:13 1-5.

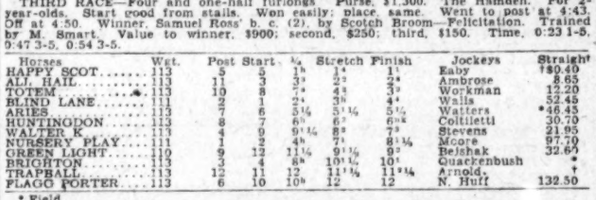
Two-dollar mutuels paid—HER GRACE $4.00, $3.20, $2.50; ST. PRISCA, $5.70, $4.10; POINCIANA, $9.20.

HER GRACE SHOWS HER CLASS IN FOURTH EVENT.



HER GRACE, following in nearest attendance of POINCIANA, raced to the latter swiftly when entering the home stretch, was sharply impeded by the latter when she bore out, continued courageously and just lasted to stall off ST. PRISCA, who moved up with a rush, when approaching the home stretch and, finishing boldly, just failed to get up. POINCIANA set a good pace and saved ground until straightened into the stretch where she began to tire and, swerving to the outside, suddenly bumped into HER GRACE. ENID was always outrun. SNAPPY SNUB had early foot.

FIFTH RACE—Four and one-half furlongs. Purse, $2,500 added. The Pimlico Homebred (Spring). For 2-year-olds. Start good. Won driving; place, same. Went to post at 5:56. Off at 6:00. Winner, J. E. Two-dollar mutuels paid—GIGANTIC, $7.80, $2.90, $2.60; UP, $2.50, $2.30; FARR, $4.30.

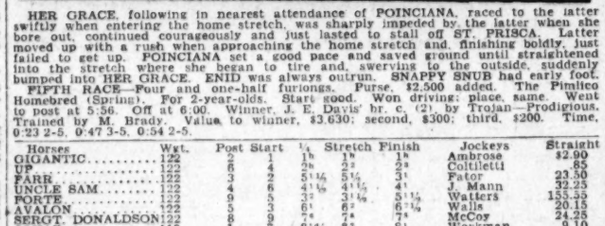
GIGANTIC LOOMS LARGE IN RUNNING OF FIFTH.



GIGANTIC began quickly and stoutly urged the entire journey, lasted under a stiff drive to stall off UP. Latter, urged hard and on the outside, finished courageously but failing the last sixteenth. FARR, away well and racing well placed, came with good courage under punishment. UNCLE SAM was unable to improve his position. PORTE had good speed in the early racing, but tired in the closing test.

SIXTH RACE—One and one-eighth miles. Purse, $1,300; claiming. For 4-year-olds and upward. Start good from stalls. Won driving; place, same. Went to post at 6:31. Off at 6:31. Winner, J. P. BLUE DARTER SOME DARTER IN CAPTURING SIXTH.

BLUE DARTER, going to the front with a rush soon after the start, raced sluggishly in reserve until the far turn, where he had to be shaken up to withstand LAURIE. Latter, going forwardly and responding when called on, was gaining slowly at the end.

SEVENTH RACE—One and one-eighth miles. Purse, $1,300; claiming. For 4-year-olds and upward. Start good. Won handily; place, driving. Went to post at 7:00. Off at 7:01. Winner, C. R. Ficalhamann's b. or br. g. (4), by Wrack—Hurry Home. Trained by T. Bonham. Value to winner, $900; second, $250; third, $150. Time, 0:25, 0:50 2-5, 1:17, 1:42 2-5, 1:56 4-5.

HOMELIKE MAKES FOLLOWERS' HOMES HAPPY.

HOMELIKE, kept within striking distance of VOYAGE, went to the latter when reaching the far turn, gained an easy lead and drew out through the final quarter mile. KEYDET, rated off the pace, made up ground steadily, but could not get to the winner. CUDGELLER, restrained early, was held safe when the final issue came. CELERITAS saved ground all the way, was put to punishment, but was unable to threaten. VOYAGE had speed for a mile, then retired.

SON OF BRITISH ACE COMES A CROPPER

Hugh Miller, Post Staff Photographer.

Jockey Patrick Donoghue, son of Steve Donoghue, famous British steeplechase rider, is pictured in the midst of a fall yesterday astride Stalker in the youth's maiden appearance as a rider in the Linstead Steeplechase at Pimlico. He is seen taking the overhead route after a bad landing at the last jump. He suffered a sprained wrist. No. 13 was on his saddle cloth.

WESTERN DEFEATS TECH IN SERIES OPENER, 8 TO 4

Red and White Shows Star In Payne

Pitcher Is Effective in Debut; Mates Gain Early Lead.

Tech Rally in 9th Is Cut Short by Poor Base Running.

By WILLIAM F. DISMER, JR.

BEHIND the effective pitching of Bill Payne, right-hand speed-ball artist, Western High School's baseball team got off on the right foot in the interhigh school baseball series which opened yesterday, when it defeated the Tech Nine, 8 to 4, at the Central High School Stadium.

More than 1,200 fans saw the Red and White Team gain revenge on a school which had beaten it in both football and basket ball earlier in the

In only one inning, the last, was Payne in trouble, and then only on the part of a Tech player allowed him to get out of the hole. Coming to the bat for the last time seven runs behind, Tech put on a bold bid when it filled the bases with none out on a hit, error, and a walk. After a passed ball had allowed one man to score, English, Tech's catcher, then came through with a single which scored two more runs.

English Victim on Delayed Steal Attempt.

Then, for some unknown reason, English tried to steal second with Pitcher Payne holding the ball, and was an easy victim when the hurler tossed to the second baseman, Oliver. His retirement made the first out to stop the rally and seemed to take the spirit out of the whole Tech team. Wills striking out and Wellens forcing Benner at second after the latter had walked.

Showing a good fast ball with a hop and a wide-breaking outshoot, Payne held Tech in the hollow of his hand for the first eight innings. Had it not been for his own wild throw to first, after handling Wills' bunt, which allowed English to score from second, Tech would not have scored a run. In no inning was Teach able to produce more than one hit, although six bases on balls were granted by the bronzed boxman. Payne struck out seven and seemed to have the Tech batters pulling away from the ball all afternoon.

Spigel in Trouble From Start of Game.

Pitcher Capt. Benny Spigel, of Tech, on the other hand, was in trouble from the start, altough in all justice to him it must be said that the first five Western runs were made on only two hits, four errors being made by the Tech team. After four hits in the first two innings had availed nothing, Western scored three times in the third and twice in the fourth on solitary bingles. Two walks granted by Spigel, however, were both turned into runs.

Harry Oliver, hard-hitting Western second baseman, was a thorn in the side of Spigel throughout, coming through with three singles. Oliver's last hit drove in two runs, while the keystone guardian scored two tallies himself.

Gonzaga Nine Rallies To Defeat Hyattsville

Although outhit, the Gongaza High Nine yesterday came from behind to defeat the Hyattsville High Team at Hyattsville, 11 to 7. McVean's homer in the ninth with a mate on base clinched the verdict.

Gonzaga will play Eastern tomorrow and Friday meets Charlotte Hall.

V. P. I. FROSH WIN.

Special to The Washington Post.

Blacksburg, Va., April 29.—Scoring two runs each in the first, second and third innings and driving Garrison, Salem High School pitcher, from the mound, V. P. I. Freshman Nine defeated the Wolverines, 7 to 4, for their fifth win of the season here today. Anderson's home run with one on base in the first inning and another by Sutton in the third featured the Freshman attack.

CENTRAL 10-7 VICTOR OVER EPISCOPAL

7 Runs in 2d Frame Clinch Game for Capital Nine.

Special to The Washington Post.

ALEXANDRIA, April 29.—The Central High School Baseball Team, of Washington, scored a 10-7 victory over the Episcopal High Nine here today. Central used 5 bases on balls, 2 errors and 2 scratch hits to chase over 7 runs in the second inning and had the situation well in hand thereafter.

Harrison was the only Central player to get more than one hit. Deveau, his teammate and Nalle, of Episcopal, hit triples.

Central used Lunch, Pollock and Cook on the mound. Cleveland did the most effective work for Episcopal, fanning five batters.

In another Alexandria game, George Mason High bowed to Fredericksburg, 22-9.

The executive committee of the United States Golf Association also enrolled 17 clubs as new members, bringing the total number of clubs now affiliated with the U. S. G. A. to 1,113.

FISHBURNE CADETS WIN.

Special to The Washington Post.

Waynesboro, Va., April 29. — Fishburne Military School won its fifth baseball game of the season by defeating its traditional rival, Augusta Military Academy, by a 7-to-5 score here today. Augusta's early lead was overcome in the fifth inning, when Short's home run into deep right field scored Martin and Garner ahead of him. Grier had already smashed out a four-base hit for Fishburne in the third. Both teams added a tally in the seventh, but the local nine increased its lead by another run in the eighth.

Duke Netmen Blank Marylanders, 9 to 0

Duke University varsity racketers cleaned up in an engagement with University of Maryland at College Park yesterday afternoon, winning all nine matches. All the contests were decided in straight sets. Six strings of singles and three doubles matches were played.

The most interesting competition developed in the No. 1 singles when Gene Phillips, of Duke, downed Capt. Rosenbaum in a hard-fought match, 7—5, 6—4.

The Duke team is now on a Northern trip, Richmond University having been defeated Monday at Richmond. Georgetown is to be played today, Virginia Thursday and Washington and Lee Friday.

The Old Liners will meet William and Mary here Thursday.

SINGLES—Phillips (Duke) defeated Rosenbaum, 7—5, 6—4; Frank (Duke) defeated Freeman, 6—1, 6—3; Myers (Duke) defeated Lucas, 6—1, 6—3; Rogers (Duke) defeated Roberts, 6—2, 6—2; Curtis (Duke) defeated Robertson, 6—4, 6—4; Farris (Duke) defeated Duckman, 6—1, 6—3.

POOR TURFMAN HAS GAMBLING CHANCE

the horse track, thought the name stirred some recollection and he set out to identify the unknown horseman whose filly had pal. such interesting odds. He inquired around the barns for a while, but the best he could learn was that Mr. Anderson had a little cabin off somewhere yonder and lived alone, and it took him some time to find him.

Discovers Broncho Billy Of the Movies.

"Finally," he said, "I came to a place where there was an old $12,000 automobile standing in the weeds beside a little house. The paint on the car was all faded away, due to the action of the tropical salt mists at night, and there was a little negro boy tinkering with the insides of it. I reckoned that only a horseman would have such a car standing out in the open, so I went in and discovered that G. M. Anderson was the old original Broncho Billy of the movies. You ought to look him up as there is probably a very touching story in this, remembering how he used to love horses, man's best pal, in the old days."

I found Mr. Anderson on a bench in the shade down by the paddock with a lot of exercise boys and hostlers, just sitting and squinting off at the horses which were going to the post in some unimportant race. He had aged a bit since he vanished quietly from the movies, but the face was unmistakably the face of the cowboy and sheriff of the Essanay Westerns of twenty years ago.

A hundred times I had seen Broncho Billy in his hair pants and his straw cuffs such as cowboys and butchers wear, with his head laid against that of man's best pal and expressing mutual understanding too deep for any words as the sun went down on the plains of some Chicago suburb and the picture faded to a close.

"Well, I'll bet there's one horse you aren't willing to sell," said I hopefully, after some reminiscent suggestions which had failed to stir the strong, silent man.

"Yeah," Mr. Anderson said; "why not?"

If a poor man must fall in love with a horse he doubtless can enjoy the same affection for a good, durable $20 chunk to be picked up at the auctions of light draft stock. Now Mr Raoul Walsh, a former director of moving pictures, bought a horse by the name of Greyola last winter for $15,000 and won the Agua Caliente Derby with him. It was Mr Walsh's first horse, and the Derby paid him $26,000 aside from any wagers he may have held on his own steed, but yesterday Greyola quietly hauled off and died.

WESTBROOK PEGLER.

N. C. STATERS WIN FROM VIRGINIA

Tarheel Nine Rallies in 9th to Triumph by 4 to 3 Count.

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va., April 29. In a light hitting contest North Carolina State Nine pushed over three runs in the ninth inning to defeat Virginia here today, 4 to 3, in the last home game save one.

Virginia's runs came in the first frame. Sloan singled, Lewis was safe on Turner's error and both counted on Steinberg's circuit smash to deep left field. Turner's home run was the only Wolfpack score up to the ninth. In that frame Brake was safe on Byrd's fumble. Morgan followed with a double and another pinch hitter, Averett, singled scoring Brake. Gerock's drive to center sent over the tying and winning runs.

Cavaliers Show Strong Defense.

Sharp fielding by the Cavaliers kept down the Wolfpack score. Sloan's stab of Plonk's terrific liner in the fourth and his shoestring catch of Furtados' short fly in the fifth were the features. Pinders' catch of Wilkie's long foul in the seventh and Steinberg's jumping stab of Shore's short fly in the ninth were also notable.

HILLTOP NINE WINS OVER SAINTS

G. U. Never Headed in 9-3 Win; Mooney Leads Attack.

By JACK ESPEY.

COMBING the curves of two pitchers for fourteen hits and playing errorless ball in the field behind strong pitching, Georgetown's nine yesterday hung up its fourth straight victory and its fourteenth in sixteen starts when it defeated the Mount St. Mary's Team by a score of 9 to 3 before 400 spectators at Washington Barracks.

It wasn't a game long to be remembered such as some of the thrillers in which the Hilltoppers have engaged, but still it brought out several features which for the fans compensated for the absence of close competition.

Johnny Scalzi, diminutive second baseman, the fielding demon of the Hilltop, made a running, one-hand catch of a short looping fly ball which took the defensive honors. He quit the game after the sixth inning on account of an injured finger, but before he went out he had run his string of consecutive accepted chances to 99, this total covering 11 games.

Scalzi Gets Two Hits and Steals 3 Bases.

In addition, Scalzi got two hits in four times at bat, and stole three bases, which now places him in front of the Blue and Gray base purloiners with a total of 14. Georgetown's team total of stolen bases was thereby swelled to the notable figure of 68 for the season, or 16 games.

Frank Baumann, Georgetown shortstop, and Capt. Bud McGarrigan, the Saint's shortfielder, were right behind Scalzi for fielding honors. One of Baumann's cleanly accepted ten chances was a bare-hand stop of a bounder to deep short and he made an equally clever throw to second for a force-out.

McGarrigan, whom reports have it will go up to major league baseball after his graduation in June, convincingly demonstrated that he is worthy of the nice things said about him by cutting off what appeared to be sure hits with stops far on his right. One error marred his record for the day, but this, on a high bouncer, was more or less excusable.

Pitcher Poole Credited With 4th Win.

Hal Poole, starting Georgetown pitcher, who was credited with his fourth victory, held the Emmitsburg team runless for seven innings.

Before the game was half completed, Georgetown held a 5-0 advantage. Bob Wholey, left fielder, drove in four runs with two singles.

Devitt Nine Scores In Final Round, 10-9

Devitt Prep diamonders rallied in the final inning yesterday to gain a 10 to 9 decision over Leonard Hall on the Ellipse. After the Leonard Hall tossers had tied the count in their half of the seventh, the Devitt sluggers came back to chase over the winning tally. Loker and Gleason were effective at times but kept themselves in trouble with their wildness. The game was called due to the fact the permit for the diamond expired.

Wives of Tomorrow

By FRANCES M'DONALD

"Fibbing Husbands."

Have you a fibbing hubby in your home? Chorus answers, "And how!" Yet Alice "simply loathes a liar" and feels she would be justified in "leaving him flat."

Well, all we have to say is that if every husband discovered in a lie were left "flat" the number of flattened husbands on earth if placed end to end would stop traffic all over the world.

When Adam said: "I ate it because she asked me to" he established a precedent as well as an alibi. From that moment the contrivance that we call man has been improving and perfecting his technique. Today almost any resourceful man can turn out a neat lie at an instant's notice and without so much as the quiver of an eyelash if any. Not that it does the poor thing any good. For just because man learned to lie so glibly, woman was endowed with a new gift, intuition. The chief reason she has that gift is to tell when a man actually has been unavoidably detained. Far from being a blessing this accomplishment is little better than a curse. For who wants to look into a man's eyes and know that the creature is just lying and lying and lying.

Alice possesses intuition and a brand-new husband who is not proving up to advertisement. And Alice wants to do something about it.

"I told him to take the bill back to the store and make them correct it. He told me he had done so. Instead he paid it like a poor worm, overcharges and all."

Well, there's a lot to be said in defense of a poor worm who stands between an argument with a store over 70 cents overcharge and an argument with a woman who believes in "principle."

Husbands lie because wives stand over them, looking them in the eye.

If Alice is wise she will learn to smile into her husband's eyes, instead of boring into them for lies. There is really a lot in almost any husband's eyes that is much more interesting and comforting than the discovery of the most intricate lie ever contrived by a panic stricken human. Let's hope Alice discovers the fact in time and so cures one man of the psychological "ducking." Don't "leave him flat" Alice, old dear; keep him happy instead, and that will end the fibbing.

ARLINGTON ADOPTS NEW ZONING RULES

County Is Divided Into Six Districts Under Measure Accepted.

PROVISIONS ARE CITED

ARLINGTON COUNTY.
BUREAU OF THE POST.
Tel. Clar. 509. Clarendon, Va.

After more than a year's study, with the aid of the Arlington County Zoning Commission and Allen J. Saville, of Richmond, Va., zoning engineer, the county board of supervisors, meeting in special session yesterday at the courthouse, adopted the zoning ordinance upon motion of Supervisor B. M. Hedrick.

The ordinance reads:

"That Arlington County be divided into six classes of districts as follows: A, resident district; B, resident districts; C, local business districts; D, general business districts; E, light industrial districts, and F, heavy industrial districts."

The location and boundaries of the several districts are well defined on the maps which are found in the engineer's office at the courthouse.

The ordinance provides that in any A residence district no building or premises shall be used and no building shall be here after erected or structurally altered unless otherwise provided in the ordinance, except for any one or more of the following uses:

Provision of Ordinance.

One-family detached dwelling, the office of a resident member of a recognized profession.

Customary home occupation, such as dressmaking, that such occupations shall be engaged in only by residents on the premises.

Churches and other places of worship, including parish houses and Sunday school.

School, colleges, public libraries, public museums and art galleries.

Clubs and grounds for games or sports, municipal recreation buildings, playgrounds, parks and athletic fields.

Hospitals or sanitarium, not treating contagious diseases and not for the care of epileptic or drug or liquor patients. Such buildings to be set back not less than 50 feet from any lot or street line and the exterior appearance of the building shall be in keeping with the residential section in which it may be located and both the appearance and location must be approved by the board of supervisors.

Buildings which are used exclusively by the Federal, State or county government for public purposes, except penal and correctional institutions.

Railroad, trolley or bus passenger stations, not including car barns or garages.

Transformer Stations.

Static transformer stations, transmission lines and towers, and telephone exchanges, not including service and storage yards, providing that all such buildings conform in appearance to the section in which permitted.

Small professional or announcement signs, not over 1 square foot in area, fixed flat against the wall of a building. Real estate signs not over 6 square feet in area, providing such signs are set back of building line and are only used to advertise for sale the property on which they may be located.

A private garage on lot with residence to house not more than four vehicles, not including commercial trucks, and not more than two noncommercial vehicles other than those used by the occupant of the premises and not more than two commercial vehicles, capacity not to exceed 1½ tons each used by the occupant of the premise, shall be housed in any such garage.

Apartment houses or hotels, provided that such buildings be set back not less than 50 feet from street line and shall not exceed 75 feet in height.

Any buildings used to house live stock or poultry on a commercial basis shall be located not less than 100 feet from any street or lot line.

"B" Zone Restrictions.

In the "B" resident district the ordinance provides for semidetached houses, duplex dwellings, apartment houses, family hotels, not carrying on any merchandising, provided that only one sign shall be permitted, advertising each such business and shall not exceed 2 square feet in area.

For local business district, the ordinance provides for the following structures for business purposes.

Hotels, tearooms, restaurants, theaters or assembly halls, banks or offices, automobile filling stations, in which no repair work is done and provided that there are no curb pumps or any other obstructions on the sidewalk, and provided sidewalk is not occupied by any vehicle being served.

Any retail trade or service, provided that no industry or manufacturing shall be permitted except the making of articles to be sold on the premises.

In the general business district the ordinance provides for any business permitted in local business district except automobile repair shops using over 10 horsepower in electric motive power for each 3,000 square feet of lot area occupied by the building.

The ordinance does not permit in this section such building as bottling works, dyeing and cleaning works employing more than five persons, stone yards, newspaper publishing establishments and printing plants using over 25 horsepower, livery stables, coal yards, constractors plants or storage yards and lumber yards.

Light Industrial District.

In the light industrial district the ordinance does not permit such plants as acetylene gas manufacturing, boiler works, brick, tile, terracotta or clay products manufacture, forge plants, iron, steel, brass or copper foundries, and many other such types of industry not in the heavy industrial class.

The ordinance provides in the heavy industrial district for any class of business except such business as abattoirs, or slaughter houses, crematory, ammonia, bleaching powder or chlorine manufacturing, dyestuff manufacturing, fish smoking or curing, match manufacturing and other such plants.

Heights of buildings and all setback allowances are taken care of in the ordinance.

It is provided in the ordinance that any person violating any of its provisions shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be fined not less than $10 or more than $100.

Should any section or provision of the ordinance be decided by the courts to be unconstitutional or invalid, such decision shall not affect the validity of the ordinance as a whole.

Named to Zone Appeal Board.

Following the adoption of the ordinance Robert H. Forman was appointed administrative officer to assist County Engineer C. L. Kinnier and represent the board of supervisors before the zoning appeal board at any and all of its hearings. The appointment carries with it no compensation.

Upon the reading of the budget, which had been prepared by County Clerk William H. Duncan, which carries a total expenditure for the year, effective July 1, of $772,187.43, it was unanimously adopted.

Upon the recommendation of County Engineer C. L. Kinnier, the board unanimously rescinded its former action that the total amount of cash must accompany all applications for extension of the water mains. Chairman Edward Duncan announced this action will continue for a period of three months.

Effective July 1, the salary of County Engineer C. L. Kinnier is increased to $4,200 a year, an increase of $600 a year.

The board will meet again today at which time it will consider the petition which is being prepared by Commonwealth's Attorney William C. Gloth for a bond issue for the installation of a county wide trunk line and disposal plant. The tentative figures are understood to be $2,250,000.

Walter T. McCarthy, of Cherrydale, was sworn in as judge of the Sixteenth Judicial Circuit of Virginia by County Clerk William H. Duncan yesterday in the presence of county officials and members of the Arlington County Bar Association.

Judge McCarthy is not only the youngest judge on the bench in Virginia at the present time, but is the first circuit judge that Arlington County has ever had and the first to be sworn in in the Arlington County Courthouse.

Immediately after the ceremony, Judge McCarthy took his seat on the bench with a huge basket of roses upon his desk. Upon the judge taking his seat, W. Thomas French, secretary of the local bar association, arose and addressing the court in a few brief words of congratulation, he presented Judge McCarthy with a handsome leather brief case.

Replying, Judge McCarthy stated that he had at this time no special policies to announce, feeling that if any changes are to be made they should be made on the basis of his experience on the bench.

Judge McCarthy expressed his thanks to the members of the bar, his friends and to the governor for the confidence that has been placed in him.

According to an announcement made last night by J. C. Spaulding, county Republican chairman, special mass meetings will be held in each of the precincts tomorrow night. These meetings are being held for the purpose of selecting delegates to attend the county convention which meets in the Lyon Park community house the evening of May 8, at 8 o'clock.

The place of the mass meetings will be as follows: Arlington precinct, the old Columbia Pike schoolhouse; Ballston, Jay Cogswell's electric store; Cherrydale, C. C. Donaldson's real estate office; Clarendon, precinct No. 1, C. W. Clever's real estate office; precinct No. 2, J. MacPherson's real estate office; East Falls Church, the home of P. B. Nourse; Lyon Park, the home of Mrs. Edgar W. Pumphrey; Rosslyn, the home of A. I. Richmond, and Glengarlyn, the home of B. M. Hedrick.

The monthly meeting of the Arlington Citizens Association will be held tonight in the Patrick Henry schoolhouse at 8 o'clock.

A report will be made from the county engineers office regarding the possibility of opening a road which will connect Columbia Pike directly with the new Memorial Bridge.

The County School Board will meet tonight in the offices of County School Superintendent Fletcher Kemp at which time the board will receive the petitions which have been circulated asking for a bond issue for the enlargement of a number of the county school buildings.

Judge Walter T. McCarthy has resigned as junior member of the law firm of Jesse, McCarthy, Phillips & Klinge and as treasurer and director of the Real Title Corporation.

The monthly meeting of the American Legion Auxiliary Unit, No. 139, will be held tonight in the rooms of the Arlington County Chamber of Commerce. The local legion will have as its honor guests members of the Piedmont Chapter War Mothers.

West Virginians Hurt in Crashes

Five Persons Are Injured in Automobile Accidents Near Martinsburg.

Special to The Washington Post.

Martinsburg, W. Va., April 29.—Five persons were injured in two automobile accidents here Monday night and Tuesday.

Henry and Miss Virginia Edgell and Miss Bettie Wilson, of Charles Town, were badly bruised when their automobile, driven by Mr. Edgell, skidded on a slippery road near here Monday night. They were treated at a physician's office and were able to continue to their homes.

Paul Dailey and Aggie Walters, both of this city, were severely cut, requiring hospital attention, when the car driven by Mr. Dailey skidded in passing another car Tuesday morning near the southern edge of the city hooked a car driven by Thomas McGown, of the county and turned over. Mr. Dailey was taken to the hospital unconscious, but was required to stay only a short time. Mr. Walters suffered a broken nose and lacerations. Mr. Dailey had been in another automobile accident Monday in this city. Both the Dailey and Edgell cars were badly damaged.

District Man Hurt In Auto Accident

Alfred Elliott Is Injured When His Automobile Overturns.

Overturning of the automobile he was driving along the highway near La Plata, Md., early yesterday, resulted in serious injury to Alfred Elliott, 36 years old, of 2400 Sixteenth street northwest, chauffeur for George Brown, president of the Roosevelt Hotel and former general manager of the Westinghouse Electric Co. at Pittsburgh, Pa.

Elliott received internal injuries, fracture of three ribs and injury to the right eye, which physicians reported probably would be blinded. He was admitted to Providence Hospital, where he was taken by W. P. Harkins, of La Plata.

Another man in the machine suffered a wrenched back and minor hurts to the left leg, but refused hospital aid. Attendants said he did not give his name.

WOODSON ANSWERS CRITICS IN FAIRFAX

School Head Gives Attitude on Fire Hazards in County Buildings.

SUPERVISORS TO MEET

FAIRFAX BUREAU OF THE POST.
P. O. Box 245, Fairfax, Va.
Phone Clarendon 919-J-1.

Wilbert T. Woodson, divisional superintendent of schools, yesterday stated that he was surprised that the fire chiefs of Fairfax County should criticize the school situation of the county in regard to fire hazards that exist, without first bringing these so-called dangerous conditions to the attention of his office and suggesting remedies.

"Since I have been superintendent," he said, "I have done everything in my power to make the schools as safe as the limited finances of the board would permit. I am frank to admit that some corrections and improvements should be made in various school buildings and I would appreciate the cooperation and assistance of the fire departments and their chiefs toward making the schools safer for the children.

"The school board and myself are willing to cooperate with them to the fullest possible extent," he declared, "but the departments' offers to make make regular inspections and to keep fire extinguishers in condition have never been brought to my attention.

"In regard to their statement concerning fire drills in the schools," he declared, "it is true that the State law is not effective at present concerning these drills, but no one is more anxious than I am to protect the lives of school children, law or no law, and I have repeatedly requested the teachers to hold fire drills at regular intervals. The members of the board and myself when visiting the schools on numerous occasions have requested these drills while we were present."

Superintendent Woodson said that fire extinguishers had been installed in several of the schools. The McLean department requested the board to purchase extinguishers for installation in certain schools, and during the past year the board appropriated $80 and paid them for extinguishers which their chief bought and installed, with the board's approval, in the schools at McLean, Vienna, Oakton and Andrew Chapel. Last year, he said, the school board installed three fire escapes in schools, where it was felt that there was the greatest danger, for which they paid $1,875.

When the county board of supervisors made its budget for next year the school board recommended a 90-cent levy for school purposes, 5 cents of which was to be used for building purposes. The people of the county objected strenuously to their taxes being increased, so the supervisors trimmed their budget so that it would include only that amount which was absolutely necessary to carry the county expenditures under the present conditions. Superintendent Woodson said that if changes were made to the present school buildings, added funds must be made available, and it was up to the people of the county to cooperate.

In speaking of fire hazards, Superintendent Woodson stated the janitors are somewhat careless in handling trash and creating fire hazards in the basements and closets of the schools with oil mops and such, but whenever this coundition is found, immediate correction is insisted upon.

A joint meeting of the Fairfax County Board of Supervisors and County School Board will be held this morning at the courthouse at Fairfax to discuss school conditions throughout the county. W. F. P. Reid, chairman of the supervisors, has announced that the morning session will be open to any one in the county who wishes to bring school problems or suggestions. A number of delegations have signified their intention to take advantage of this opportunity. The afternoon session will be a closed one when members of the two boards will discuss policies and finances regarding the schools.

Herbert Williams, a school trustee from Providence district who was instrumental in having this meeting, states that he hopes it will result in greater cooperation between the two boards, as the board of supervisors must approve any loans made for new buildings or any indebtedness incurred by the school board. In formulating a future building program and consolidating schools, the school board has to consider improved roads for transportation. It is felt by several members of the boards that to improve school conditions in the county it is necessary for the taxpayers and the two boards to cooperate to the utmost extent in formulating plans for the schools' future.

Through the courtesy of James Vance, of the Independent Publishing Co., Fairfax Agricultural Agent H. B. Derr will have charge of a radio program on the first and fourth Wednesday of each month over station WJSV at Mount Vernon Hills, Va. The program today from 12 until 1 o'clock this afternoon has been announced as follows:

W. R. Crabill, agricultural instructor of the Fairfax County Vocational School at Floris, will tell of the work of the boys' organization known as the Future Farmers of Virginia. He will also tell of the projects that are being accomplished by the boys. Miss Sara E. Thomas, Fairfax County home demonstration agent, will speak on her work with the various demonstration and 4-H Clubs in the county. County Agent Derr will explain his work in combating the poultry diseases that have caused great losses to the poultry raisers throughout the county. There will be a talk on what the Federal Farm Board is trying to do for the farmers and how the farmers are responding to its efforts. The Fairfax County Boys' Harmonica Band will furnish the musical portion of the program.

The congregation of the St. Mary's Church at McLean have elected the following vestrymen for the coming year: Dr. E. M. Blackwell, Wilson Camp, T. Turner Smith, John Keddy, Benjamin L. Jacobs, Trueman Burchard and Glegge Thomas. The vestry will organize at its next meeting.

Miss Mary M. Snead, principal of the high school at Oakton, has announced following a conference with Superintendent of Schools W. T. Woodson that seven members of the senior class face suspension from school for two weeks and their graduation this year is greatly in danger. This action was taken after she had discovered that they had been forging written excuses asking that they be released from attending classes or from school for a day. It was also discovered that the parents knew nothing of their actions, and that the pupils have been taking automobiles rides and attending movies in Washington during school hours. Miss Snead further states that it is necessary for the parents to cooperate with the school teachers for the sake of the future of the children, and if the pupils continue this practice she will recommend to the divisional superintendent and county school board that the pupils be expelled from the school.

The Ladies Aid and Missionary Society of the Presbyterian Church at Falls Church will sponsor a social get-together meeting for all the members of the church tonight in the church parlors. Mrs. E. L. Brandon will have charge of the program and Mrs. George C. Thompson, refreshments.

There will be a special meeting of the Parent-Teacher Association of McLean this afternoon at 3 o'clock for the purpose of holding the annual election of officers. Mrs. Benjamin Fadley, the president, also announces that plans will be made for the association's benefit entertainment, to be held on May 16, and the night meeting on May 21.

Herman Miller and Franklin Norfolk, of the Junior League at Oakton, will give the five-minute senior speeches at the league's meeting today.

The Parent-Teacher Association at Clifton will meet today.

The congregation of the Falls Church, at Falls Church, has selected Samuel H. Styles, H. A. Fellows, J. T. Unverzagt, Julian Slade, Fred Huber, Gordon Nickolson and Charles A. Stewart as vestrymen for the coming year. They will organize at their next regular meeting.

CAPITAL MAN TAKES POISON IN LOVE ROW

W. H. Turberville States Girl Said Their Friendship Had Terminated.

PROSECUTOR SEES MAIL

Special to The Washington Post.

Salisbury, Md., April 29.—W. H. Turberville, district sales manager for a Washington concern, was reported to be dying in a local hospital tonight after he had taken poison in a rooming house here. He formerly lived at Centerville, Fairfax County, Va., and was divorced.

Turberville was found in his room by Oliver Bailey, Salisbury salesman. At first believing him to be only ill, Bailey offered to call a physician. Turberville then told him that he had taken poison and wanted to die. The police were called and he was rushed to the hospital, but attendants said he had little chance of recovery.

Acting State's Attorney Hooper S. Miles said that Turberville told him his act was motivated by grief over receipt of a letter from a young woman living on Eighteenth street near Upshur street northwest in Washington, who told him that their five-year friendship was at an end.

Turberville, he said, exhibited the letter and told him also that he had wired the woman that he intended to take his life, but that he had received no reply.

MONEYLESS PAY DAY DUE IN WATER ROW

Annapolis Plant Personnel May Not Get Wages Because of Dispute.

TWO SIDES IN DEADLOCK

Special to The Washington Post.

Annapolis, Md., April 29.—Tomorrow is pay day for the office and plant personnel of the Annapolis Water Co., but from all indications tonight no "ghost" will walk because of the tie-up of the company's affairs, with both Democrat and Republican officials seeking to hold office.

Matters have been in a snarl for a month, following the passing of control of the water company directors from Democratic to Republican regime. Prior to going out of office, the Democratic administration engineered the move of changing the by-laws, by changing the election of company officials from July to March, and all incumbents were reelected to serve until July, 1932.

The incoming Republican regime, however, retaliated by restoring the by-laws to their original form and elected men of their party to supplant the Democrats. The old group, however, refused to vacate so that two sets of officials have been attempting to run the company's affairs.

Many Refuse to Pay Bills.

The net result is that many water consumers refuse to pay their monthly bills to either group, and funds of the company are tied up by the refusal of the local banks to honor any checks drawn until the muddle is legally adjudicated.

Since the company is a subsidiary of the city, the city council took action to relieve the emergency to some extent by providing the necessary funds to cover accruing debts on account of contract labor for work on the filtration system that has been in progress for some time.

It has been pointed out that the equabble must be taken to court for settlement, but neither side has made a move in that direction.

Moves and counetrmoves were made at a meeting of directors last night. Resolutions presented by Mayor Walter E. Quenstedt, Republican, and a director by virtue of his office, were adopted by his colleagues.

These authorized T. Roland Brown, president, to employ an expert accountant to audit all books and directed the Democratic clerical force to surrender all books and paraphernalia. City Counselor George U. Woelful, Democrat, also a director and counselor to the board, refused to participate in a greater part of the session. The resolutions are expected to accomplish little.

Masterpiece Is Given Virginia.

ROSEMONT STREETS' RENAMING FINISHED

City Council Committee in Charge of Task Ready to File Report.

ELK GROUPS DESIGNATED

THE WASHINGTON POST BUREAU.
312 S. Washington St., Alexandria, Va.
Phone Alexandria 523.

The committee named by the city council to make recommendations for renaming streets in Rosemont and the newly annexed territory is understood to have completed its work and will make recommendations to the council at the Thursday meeting, which will include the designation of many streets by numbers instead of names. Beginning at Cedar street, in Rosemont, streets running east and west will be numbered, these running as high as Thirty-sixth street. The cross streets, or those running north and south, will not be changed, it is understood, except in a few cases of two or more sections of a street bearing different names.

The complete schedule of changes will be announced today, and a map showing proposed changes will be placed on exhibition in the city council chamber tomorrow. The property owners on the streets affected will be notified of proposed changes and will be given an opportunity to express their opinion.

The committee which has been working on the changes includes City Manager Wallace Lawrence, City Engineer Emmett C. Dunn, Fire Chief James M. Duncan, jr., Postmaster F. Clinton Knight, and Elmore Mudd, superintendent of mails of the city postoffice.

The recommended changes will, it is understood, be taken under consideration by the city council and late a blanket ordinance will be adopted to cover.

The lodge will give a social entertainment for its members at its next meeting, May 12.

Permanent organization of the Alexandria Commuters' Association was effected Monday night at a meeting held in the Maury School, with the election of Harry F. Kennedy as president; C. A. Adams, vice president, and Mrs. Dolly Peyton Shepperson, secretary-treasurer. W. H. Brooke was designated to watch for the filing with the Interstate Commerce Commission of any notices of changes in passenger fares between Alexandria and Washington on the part of the A. B. & A. bus line or the Washington-Virginia Railway.

A committee was appointed to assist Harold Abbey, in charge of finances of the association, and also to solicit new members, the committee members being W. H. Weadon, C. W. Mahoney, Louis P. Woodward, Mrs. A. R. Gilliam and Miss Mary Young. The commuters will hold monthly meetings, the first of which will be on May 12, and the dues were fixed at $1 a year.

As a token of the association's appreciation of Mr. Kennedy's services in prosecuting the commuters' fight against proposed passenger fare increases, it was decided to present him with a gift to be selected by a committee, which will cost not less than $100. Mr. Kennedy protested against the gift, but he was unanimously overruled.

The entire sales organization of the forward movement of the Alexandria Chamber of Commerce, whose purpose it is to raise a fund of $25,000 a year for three years for the activities of the trade body, met last night in the Young People's Building of the Southern Methodist Church, for final instructions. Active solicitation will be started today and will close tomorrow.

The Rev. Pierce S. Ellis, pastor of the First Baptist Church, was the principal speaker at the Rotary Club luncheon yesterday. He dwelt on the fact that fathers should make comrades of their sons, and instead of acting as tyrants should cultivate a spirit of brotherly love with their children. Obscene stories and heated words of anger should never be said, be uttered in the presence of girls and boys.

Robert Woolf, Alexandria High School entry in the oratorical contest, delivered his oration before the club and a short talk was given by Cadet Capt. E. Gorman Ridgely, of the high school cadet corps, who invited the Rotarians to attend the review which will be given today.

Funeral services for Thomas D. Downey who died Monday, will be conducted at 9:30 o'clock this morning in St. Mary's Catholic Church by the Rev. Hugh McFadden, assistant pastor. Members of the Elks, Eagles, Knights of Columbus and Holy Name Society will attend the services. Interment will be in St. Mary's Cemetery.

The funeral of Mrs. Mary L. Parrish, who died Sunday, will be held at 2 o'clock this afternoon from her late residence, 1906 Russell road, the Rev. D. L. Snyder, D. D., pastor of the Southern Methodist Church, officiating. Burial will be in Bethel Cemetery.

Winter Is District Rotary Governor

Altoona Man Elected Head at Hagerstown Convention; Speakers Heard.

Special to The Washington Post.

Hagerstown, Md., April 29.—Arthur Winter, Altoona, Pa., late today was elected district governor of the Thirty-fourth District, Rotary International, in convention here. He defeated Wellington Tawes, of Crisfield, Md. Dr. C. Howard Witmer, Lancaster, Pa., was nominated for the post of director of International Rotary today. His name will come up at the international convention in June.

Paul E. Titsworth, Chestertown, was the principal speaker, using the subject, "Business and Fine Art." Charles E. Wood, Charlottesville, an active Boy Scout worker, in one of the addresses took a fling at prep schools, which he termed "wet nurses." He urged Rotarians not to send their children to them. Prof. H. M. J. Klein, Lancaster, Pa., spoke on "Community Service."

Gov. Albert C. Ritchie was the guest of honor at the banquet tonight at the State Armory.

EMPLOYMENT SEEN ON SEASONAL RISE

Retail Trading for March Declines, Says Monthly District Review.

PEACH SITUATION GOOD

Richmond, Va., April 29 (A.P.).—Employment conditions improved during March and early April in the Fifth Federal Reserve district, chiefly due to seasonal increases in construction work, says the monthly business review issued tonight by William V. Hoxton, chairman and Federal Reserve agent.

Although deposits in reporting member banks increased during the last month, the same banks failed to increase commercial and agricultural loans, their custom at this time of the year, says the report, and were able to reduce rediscounts at the Federal Reserve Bank.

Deposits in Baltimore savings banks at the end of March soared to the highest figure on record. Debits to individual accounts, indicating payment by check, were seasonably larger during the four weeks ended April 9 than during the preceding four weeks.

Retail Trade Declines.

Business failures, the report says, were fewer during March than the March of last year, but liabilities involved were larger. In comparison with the average increase for the Nation the fifth district liabilities were lower.

No improvement was seen in the textile manufacturing field last month, and the consumption of cotton by fifth district mills was materially less than consumption in March, 1929. However, the percentage of national consumption attained by fifth district mills was higher in March than in either February, 1930, or March, 1929, "indicating that the mills of the Carolinas and Virginia are doing somewhat better than mills in some other sections."

Retail trade in department stores declined greatly last month in comparison with trade in March, 1929, and this was attributed to the difference in the dates of Easter last year and in 1930.

Tobacco Situation Favorable.

Wholesale trade in March registered seasonal gains over February trade, but fell behind March, 1929, in nearly all lines.

Building permits issued last month in 32 leading cities of the Fifth District were somewhat less in aggregate valuation than permits issued in March last year, "but nevertheless represented a large volume of work," and contracts actually awarded for construction work in the district totaled nearly a third more than contracts awarded in March, 1929.

"The tobacco farmers realized fairly good prices for their 1929 crop, and for the present they are much more favorably situated than cotton growers; but official figures indicate a probable increase in tobacco acreage this year in the face of perhaps the largest carry-over of flue-cured or bright tobacco on record," says the report.

Drop in Bankruptcies.

Bankruptcies in the Fifth District during March totaled 126, as compared with 140 in March, 1929, a decrease of 10 per cent in contrast with the national increase of 18 per cent. Last month's failures in the Fifth District were less in number than in any other month since 1926.

Reviewing agricultural progress, the report says winter grains came through the winter in good condition except in North Carolina, where an unusually large percentage of the acreage is being abandoned.

"Wheat is of good color in the other States, and winter freezes did not damage the stands, but the growth is backward," says the report.

Peach Prospects Good.

"Growth of all crops is later this year, due to the cool weather and in some sections to insufficient rainfall prior to April.

"Peaches were damaged by frosts and freezes in Virginia and South Carolina, and also to a lesser degree in Maryland, but the prospects for peaches in North Carolina are reported good. Apple buds have been slow in developing, and the crop has therefore escaped damage except in certain sections of Maryland.

"The early potato acreage is being increased somewhat this season throughout the entire potato growing belt. In the fifth district early planted potatoes are generally up to a good stand and are doing well.

"In the cotton sections of the Carolinas the farmers are finding difficulty in financing themselves for the current year's operations, but in the balance of the district farmers are in about the usual financial position."

PROSECUTION TO GET AID IN EDITORS' CASE

Roger Whiteford, of Washington, to Be Introduced at Hearing Monday.

LIBEL IS LAID TO FOUR

Roger Whiteford, prominent Washington and Maryland lawyer, will assist in the prosecution of the four editors of the Montgomery Independent, Rockville newspaper, who were indicted by the county grand jury on charges of criminal libel, it was learned last night.

The four editors, Walter S. Casey, present editor, and Harrison B. French, Walter W. Liggett and Morris A. Bealle, former editors, were indicted by the grand jury after that body had investigated charges printed in the newspaper that county officials had juggled county funds and generally mismanaged county affairs. Casey and French have surrendered and are at liberty on bond, while the other two have not been served with bench warrants as yet.

State's Attorney Robert B. Peter, jr., last night admitted that Mr. Whiteford has been asked to assist in the prosecution, although the appointment has not been officially made as yet and probably will not be until the hearing on the pleas in abatement, filed by the counsel for the accused editors Monday in circuit court at Rockville before full bench.

State's Attorney Peter said last night that he plans to introduce Mr. Whiteford Monday as associate prosecution counsel when the hearings on the pleas are begun.

Defense counsel filed pleas alleging that the indictments which charge Casey and French are faulty. The indictments against Bealle and Liggett will not be heard until the defendants surrender themselves. One indictment against Casey has been allowed to stand unchallenged by the defense for the avowed purpose of permitting hearings in open court on the charges.

Defense counsel said last night that they will oppose the appointment of Mr. Whiteford on the grounds that employment of additional counsel is unusual in the trial of a misdemeanor and further that they believe that his appointment savors more of "persecution than prosecution." Defense counsel are F. Barnard Welsh, Edward Peter, E. Barrett Prettyman, Miss Vivian V. Simpson, John E. Oxley. It was hinted last night that additional defense counsel will be employed.

Chief Judge Draws List of Seventh Maryland Circuit.

Special to The Washington Post.

La Plata, Md., April 29.—W. Mitchell Digges, chief judge of the Seventh Judicial Circuit of Maryland, has drawn the jury list for the May term of court for Charles County. The court will convene May 19. A short term is in prospect. An assault case, transferred from Calvert County, will probably take up more time than any other case at this term of court.

The jurors selected are: Roy O. Redd, Ernest C. McCoy, C. Russell Cox, John R. Stewart, John R. Cooksey, Delor Murphy, Perry Rennoe, Roland J. Carpenter, Matthew Therres, Clarence A. Moore, John F. Simms, Harry R. Bowling, James E. Farrall, John B. Knott, Notley T. Dutton, Thomas I. Wright, Algia G. Bowie, T. Henry Medley, Clarence A. Cooksey, John T. Parran, Edward T. Barry, William J. Thomas, Harris S. Matthews.

Church to Observe 100th Anniversary

Special to The Washington Post.

Harpers Ferry, W. Va., April 29.—Camp Hill Methodist Protestant Church here will celebrate its 100th anniversary Sunday with a series of special services. The Rev. L. B. Smith, president of the Maryland conference, will deliver the sermon at the 11 a. m. service; at 3 p. m. there will be greetings from former pastors, the Revs. J. A. McCaslin, B. B. James, G. F. Farring, W. P. Roberts, R. Y. Nicholson, A. W. Ewell, G. S. Ross, E. W. Simms, J. W. Parris, F. S. Cain and J. C. Russell. At the 7:30 evening service the address will be by the Rev. Frank T. McFaden, D. D., pastor of Loudoun Street Presbyterian Church, Winchester, Va.

The history of the church is filled with highlights. The Civil War interrupted worship while Harpers Ferry was in the grip of fighting. Once while the Union forces occupied the church property, the Green Mountain soldiers stabled their horses in the church, which had been partially destroyed; and again, when the Confederates held the town, the
